Bridges of Great Gun City Are

BERLIN, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—A mob made an unsuccessful effort today to storm the Moabit prison and liberate Karl Radek, the self-confessed agent of the Russian Bolsheviks in Germany.

Following his arrest recently, Radek admitted that he had assumed leadership of the German Reds after the death of Karl Liebknecht.

ESSEN, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—Essen, the seat of the great Krupp gun works, is in the hands of the soldiers' council and there is a talk of a break between this district and Berlin with the possibility of a separate peace for the Rhineland if the entente would consider such a proceeding.

Neither Berlin nor Weimar knows what is about to happen here.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

Recruiting for the German national army has been stopped and the revolutionaries have mounted machine guns and are blowing up bridges around Essen.

While seeking a traveling pass at Essen I was asked by one member of the people's commissaries whether the entente would likely make a separate peace with the Rhineland. This German said that the people of this community wanted to break away from the rest of Germany.

Burgomaster Hans Luher admitted to me that the soldiers' council is in control.

FIGHTING IN PROGRESS

Heinrich Jager, one of the leaders of the strikers, said he did not contemplate any trouble unless government troops attempt to overrun all of Westphalia.

Fighting between counter revolutionaries and government troops has been in progress in the Doersent district of Westphalia since last Friday.

Six hundred reinforcements have joined the revolutionaries. They are well equipped with artillery.

Railway trestles have been blown up to prevent the government from sending in more soldiers. Wanne, Sterkade and part of Dusseldorf have been captured by the Spartacists.

Mrs. Roosevelt Places Flowers on Quentin's Grave

By International News Service
PARIS, Feb. 19.—There was a touching scene over the grave of the late Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt yesterday when his mother saw it for the first time and placed flowers upon it.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who was accompanied by another son, Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, stood for several minutes in silence, apparently re-picturing in her own mind the tragic though glorious death of her aviator son.

Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt was shot down near Chamey on the old Aisne-Marne front.

Expect Verdict in J. Fournier Case by End of Week

A decision on the Jack Fournier case will be rendered by the members of the national commission within a week, according to a telegram received today by John Powers, owner of the Los Angeles club.

Fournier was awarded the White Sox by the commission some time ago and Powers asked to have the case reopened. He heard nothing from the members of the commission, so he sent a telegram the other day demanding a decision.

Powers says that if Fournier is not awarded the Angels he will take the case to the civil courts.

Senate Fight on League of Nations Begins

POINDEXTER CLAIMS U. S. ENDANGERED

World Treaty Scored as America Possible Enemy of All Powers

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Instead of bringing universal and enduring peace, a league of nations, based on the constitution read to the peace conference in Paris by President Wilson, will multiply the opportunity for war, Senator Miles Poindexter declared in the senate today.

Senator Poindexter opened the attack on the league of nations in violation of the President's request that debate be suspended until he could confer with senators and representatives. The attack was begun, he said, because "the freest discussion is necessary." While opponents of the league are asked to keep silent, proponents are busy arguing for approval of the constitution, he declared.

Five specific objections to the constitution were made by Senator Poindexter. They were:

FIVE OBJECTIONS
First—The determination of the degree of disarmament as required by the constitution.

Second—Compulsory arbitration of all questions of every kind, without exception.

Third—Commitment of every nation to participate in wars and controversies of every other nation and the assumption of guardianship of peoples of Europe, Asia and Africa.

Fourth—The formation of an international labor bureau to deal with internal social, economic and industrial problems.

Fifth—The surrender of the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations in arms and ammunition to the league.

POINDEXTER'S CLAIMS

Senator Poindexter took up the constitution, article by article, pronouncing many of its provisions "loosely drawn and unintelligible," and declaring many others unconstitutional.

He placed great stress on the fact that no provision is made for the withdrawal of any nation from the league after once having entered it. This, he said, would inevitably lead to war, just as the Civil War in the United States was brought on by the denial of the right of certain states to secede from the union.

In its simplicity the machinery provided by the league covenant is very similar to the machinery of the soviet government of Russia, Poindexter declared. The league of nations is as much an effort at "internationalism," he said, as that being made by the I. W. W. and the Bolsheviks.

On their face, he said, several specific articles of the constitution can be shown to be unconstitutional.

AUSTRO-GERMAN UNION FOUGHT BY FRANCE

By ROBERT J. PREW

Staff Correspondent, International News Service

VIENNA, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—A formal decree of abdication will be demanded from former Emperor Charles, thus ending the Hapsburgs forever, it was announced today by President Seitz of the German-Austrian republic. This action, added President Seitz, will be taken as a result of the Socialist victory in the recent election.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Opinion is crystallizing among the peace envoys that it might be possible to summon the German, Austro-Hungarian, Bulgarian and Turkish delegates into a full congress by the middle of April or the first of May and that peace can finally be concluded by the beginning of June.

When President Wilson returns to Paris in the middle of March he will find the labors of the conference considerably advanced and a cut and dried program ready, on which he will be able to get to work.

The biggest question engaging attention at this moment is the military and naval strength that will be left to Germany after peace is formally declared.

The peace conferees are closely watching the Austrian movement to form the German-speaking peoples of Europe into a solid bloc.

The American unofficial view is that Austria, if she exercises the right of self-determination, should be allowed to throw in her lot with her neighbors.

Long Will Miss Spring Training with Vernon Club

Tommy Long, the fleet-footed, hard-hitting right fielder of the Vernon club, will not be able to join the Tigers the opening week of the spring training period.

Long is in Company C, One Hundred and Twenty-second Regiment of the engineers and is stationed at Le-Mons, France. He hopes to be mustered out of service and arrive here in time to start the season.

O'Doul Dissatisfied with Yankee Terms

Bob Connery, scout for the New York American league baseball club, left today for San Francisco, where he will try to sign "Lefty" O'Doul to a contract.

It is reported that O'Doul is not satisfied with the terms sent him by the New York Americans, and Connery is trying to smooth over the difficulties.

He will return Saturday, and by that time it is believed he will have a second baseman for Bill Essick. He also will have another talk with Pete Schneider.

Gorman Signs Tiger Contract

Charles Gorman, the Santa Paula catcher who had a trial with the Vernon club last spring and later entered the army, today signed a contract with the Tigers.

Bill Essick believes that Gorman has the making of a Coast league catcher.

PARIS CROWD TRIES TO KILL ASSASSIN; "TIGER," WOUNDED, GRAPPLES WITH ASSAILANT

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Georges Clemenceau, "the Tiger of France," premier of the French republic, and, with the possible exception of President Wilson, the greatest figure at the peace conference, was shot and wounded shortly after 9 o'clock this morning by Emile Cottin, aged 23, who claims to be a French Bolshevik-anarchist, but is suspected of being a Russian.

M. Clemenceau was wounded by two shots. One struck in the back, near his spine, and may be dangerous because of the premier's age and the possibility of blood poisoning. The other shot hit Clemenceau in the right shoulder and came out. It is not regarded as serious.

An official statement from the physicians caring for M. Clemenceau declares that the wounds are not fatal and that the premier, now 78 years of age, will recover.

The assassin, and one other man, believed to be a confederate, were arrested.

An official statement issued this afternoon says that seven shots were fired at M. Clemenceau by Cottin.

SHOT IN AUTO

The shooting took place shortly after M. Clemenceau had entered his limousine to be driven to the residence of Colonel House, the American peace delegate, who had an engagement to discuss peace conference affairs with him at 10 o'clock.

Suddenly, the assassin Cottin, accompanied by another man, jumped on the running board of the premier's machine and began firing. A gendarme attempted to interfere and was shot in the face and slightly wounded. Some of the bullets passed through the clothing of two men on the driver's seat, but they were not wounded.

Two of the bullets smashed through the windows and woodwork of M. Clemenceau's machine and struck the aged premier. The premier pushed open the door of the machine and grappled with Cottin.

TRY TO KILL COTTIN

Gendarmes and bystanders overcame the man. An effort by citizens to kill Cottin was frustrated by the gendarmes, who rescued the assassin after the clothing had been torn from him and he was covered with blood from a beating.

One bystander attempted to kill the assassin with Cottin's own revolver, but all the bullets had been fired.

The assassin, who was dressed as a workman, had long light hair and is tall, raved wildly about "changing the world" and the "rights of man."

A second man with Cottin at the time of the shooting has been arrested.

BAKER CABLES CLEMENCEAU HOPES OF RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Secretary of War Baker, through Gen. Pershing this afternoon sent to Premier Clemenceau a message expressing his hope for a speedy recovery.

LIFE OF 'TIGER' IS FILLED WITH ACTION

Premier Georges Clemenceau, the "Tiger of France," as he has been nicknamed because of his fighting proclivities, was born in 1841 and has long been a prominent figure in French public life. He is serving his second tenure as prime minister of France, having been selected by President Poincare to form a new cabinet in the stormy days of 1917. He assembled a ministry on Nov. 16, 1917, taking the posts of premier and war minister himself.

When the peace conference formally met, M. Clemenceau was named permanent chairman. During the days of imperial France M. Clemenceau had to flee because of his republican political tendencies and lived for a while in the United States.

PACIFIC TROOPS LAND, COVERED WITH MEDALS

By International News Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—All records for be-medaled home-coming heroes were broken today by the 1225 officers and enlisted men of the One Hundred and Sixty-second Infantry, from the Pacific Coast states, who arrived after a stormy voyage from Brest on the White Star liner Canopic. Nearly every man in the regiment, from its commander, Col. John L. May of Portland, Ore., down to its smallest buck private, boasts of at least one war decoration.

On board the Canopic was a total passenger list of 1443. There were 23 civilians, picked up at Liverpool, and 22 naval officers who had seen service on torpedo boats, submarine chasers and with the naval aviation service. The units of the One Hundred and Sixty-second Infantry that were on board

REDS IN LISBON ATTACK GOVT. FORCES

By NED CLEARY

Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.
LISBON, Spain, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—Bolsheviks and anarchists have united at Lisbon and are attempting to overthrow the Portuguese government, according to information brought into Spain today by a British merchant who has just arrived from the Portuguese capital. In the meantime the government troops in the northern district have been successfully suppressing the monarchists.

Shooting is continuous at night in the streets of Lisbon.

SEVERAL KILLED NIGHTLY
A number of persons are killed there nightly, but the authorities are reported to be concealing these tragedies.

Gen. Faiva Couceiro, leader of the monarchist army in Portugal, who formally announced at his headquarters that the royalist uprising had failed, has since disappeared.

A republican army has entered Oporto. Wholesale arrests of the monarchist chiefs are being made. The monarchist forces are being disbanded.

DISPERSE MONARCHISTS

Some 6000 monarchist soldiers remain in the Espinho district, but those in the Miranda, Chaves and Thraganza regions have been dispersed.

An extraordinary change has taken place at Oporto. Crowds that were formerly cheering for Manuel (the former king) are now thronging the cafes and theaters singing revolutionary hymns. The Republicans are collecting all the arms in Oporto.

At the railway station a freight train, supposed to be carrying potatoes, was searched and found to be filled with munitions. There is considerable disorder in Oporto and many individuals are being attacked on the streets.

DIES AS HE FULFILLS DREAM OF MOTHER

That Lieut. E. R. Brainerd, who died at Camp Taylor, Kentucky, last Saturday, was fulfilling the lifelong dream of his mother that he might be a missionary became known today from friends of the Brainerd family who are preparing to meet Mrs. Brainerd late tomorrow afternoon when she brings her son's body back to Los Angeles for burial. It developed that Lieut. Brainerd had been eligible for dismissal from army service but that, at the request of a superior officer, had remained at Camp Taylor to work in the influenza convalescent hospital. There he contracted influenza and died.

When Lieut. Brainerd was born 23 years ago his father was a minister. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd hailed the little newcomer as a future missionary. But, as the years passed, and the parents broadened their visions and developed new ideals, their conception changed from missionary work in a sectarian sense to missionary work in the sense of social service. Military honors will be paid Lieut. Brainerd at his funeral services Friday afternoon at Bessie chapel, when a flying squadron will take part in the services. A military escort will also meet the Santa Fe limited train arriving at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon on which Mrs. Brainerd is bringing home the body of her hero son.

Lieutenant, Trapped by Actor in Bribery Case, Gets 3 Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—As a result of the activities of Joseph Whitehead of the navy intelligence department and Jack Pickford, motion picture actor, a lieutenant who had served as a medical examiner has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment, while 45 officers and yeomen of the Third naval district, with headquarters here, are reported under arrest on charges of bribery.

The "traffic in swivel chairs" and "bribe jobs" for naval men is said to have been the source of considerable graft. Whitehead and Pickford trapped their man by applying for transfers and having dictagraphs record the dictating. After the conference the officer was arrested and $500 in marked bills, given to him by Whitehead, was found in his pocket, as it is alleged. Thereupon he confessed, it is said, and surrendered bank books showing deposits far in excess of his salary as a naval officer.

Divorce Granted on Desertion Charges

Testifying his wife left him many times for short periods and finally disappeared about March 15, 1917, and he had not heard from her since, Robert Roadhouse was granted a divorce by Judge Wood today from May Roadhouse. His testimony was corroborated by that of their son, Frank Roadhouse, who declared his mother was gone when he and his father returned home from work the night of the separation.

DYING FATHER
VOWS TO LIVE
UNTIL SONS
COME HOMEAsks Baker to Send Boys Back from France at Once

How a dying man has pitted his love for his sons against the stealthily encroaching claims of death by vowing that he will live till he sees them once more became known today, when friends of the dying man telegraphed Secretary of War Baker, pleading that the sons might be rushed from France to their father's bedside in Long Beach.

The man is W. L. Lee of 827 Freeman avenue, Long Beach.

GROWS WORSE
Lee, the father, is dying. For several weeks he has been ill and steadily growing worse.

Today physicians told him that he can live but a few weeks at the longest.

The father, however, declared that he would not die till he could see his two boys again—could not die till he had touched their hands once more.

FIGHTS OFF DEATH
Despite the warning, he defied the grim reaper, and vowed that he would fight death off till his boys came home.

Touched by his tragic faith that he would see his sons once again, friends of Mr. Lee held a conference today with the physicians, and after being assured that the father had only a short time to live sent the telegram to Secretary Baker, urging that the soldiers be given a furlough and rushed from France to Long Beach so that the wishes of the dying father might be realized before he goes.

TEST RIGHT TO CARRY FRIENDS FOR PAY

The right of an automobile owner to transport friends when the passengers voluntarily agree to pay part of the operating costs of the machine is involved in a test case being heard today before City Recorder W. F. Heathman at Santa Ana.

The defendant in the action is Ralph Houston, one of three Santa Ana automobile owners arrested recently for daily transporting friends to and from Long Beach, where they work in the shipyards.

CHARGE IT IS BUS LINE
Santa Ana city officials charge Houston is operating an automobile stage without having obtained a license. The fact that he receives compensation for accommodating friends is declared to be a violation of the law.

Charles Sanders and J. M. Harper of Santa Ana were arrested on the same charge, but their cases are being held in abeyance pending a decision in Houston's case.

SCORES INVOLVED

The activity of scores of automobile owners working at the Long Beach and San Pedro yards, who live in Los Angeles and other cities, is involved in the legal battle.

Officials of the Long Beach Shipbuilding Co., where about 100 Santa Ana men are employed, are backing the defense of Houston and declare that, if necessary, the case will be taken to the highest court as a protection to the employees.

E. C. Denio, attorney for the shipbuilding company, and H. C. Head, employed by the workers, are conducting the defense of the test case.

MAKE POISON TEST IN WOMAN DEATH CASE

SERVE 1 TO 10 YRS.

Club Man's Appeal for New Trial on Embezzlement Charge Is Denied

After overruling every legal obstacle put forward by the defense, Superior Judge Gavin Craig today sentenced George A. Fox, former club man and alleged "love pirate," to serve from 1 to 10 years in San Quentin penitentiary.

Fox recently was convicted after a bitter court battle on an embezzlement charge of having defrauded Mrs. Anna G. Walters, Los Angeles society woman, of her $70,000 Orange county ranch after gaining her consent to marriage.

When sentence was imposed Defense Attorney John L. Richardson gave notice that he would appeal from the judgment to the state courts.

Attorney Richardson argued for more than an hour before sentence was imposed in a vain effort to obtain a new trial for his client and otherwise to prevent imposition of the sentence.

Deputy District Attorney W. J. Clark appeared for the prosecution and successfully countered the efforts of the defense.

Evidence offered at the trial recently was that Fox, a married man, had met Mrs. Walters, a widow, at a dance and after a brief, but ardent courtship obtained her consent to marriage. He posed as a wealthy land owner and Mrs. Walters made him her business manager.

Fox was alleged to have disposed of her orange ranch and other property and then to have appropriated the money for his own use.

Council O. K.s City
Bus Line to Links

The city council today adopted a report by Councilman Conaway, recommending the purchase of a second-hand auto for about $650 and the appropriation of $1108 for the operation of a Griffith Park bus line for four months. The city purchasing agent was directed to advertise for bids because the amount is more than $500.

The bus line proposed will run from the red cars at Hollywood boulevard and Vermont into the park by way of Los Feliz road and the San Fernando valley entrance to the park, to the field house of the golf course. Eight trips per week day and twelve for Sundays were proposed in the report. The fare will be 25 cents (the round trip for adults and 15 cents for children between five and twelve).

'Switching the Box' Charged by Victim

Testimony as to how the ancient bunko game of "switching the box" was alleged to have been played with Torribio Garcia as the victim was given today at the hearing of Pico Oljio in justice court. Oljio is charged with having been one of two men who defrauded Garcia of $1130.

Garcia testified he met Oljio and another man and that after they had talked to him for a week concerning a scheme to distribute a large amount of money among the poor, he was induced to produce his savings to show good faith as the distributor.

Actress in Court to Press Suit in $8750 Salary Claim

Seeking $8750 for alleged breach of contract from the Rolin Film company, Miss Clarine Seymour, a dainty film actress, was in Judge Taft's court today at the opening of the trial of her suit.

According to Miss Seymour, she entered into a contract in New York in September, 1917, to come to Los Angeles and work before the camera for two years. She was to receive $75 a week the first six months of the two-year period under the contract, she alleged, and an increase of $25 a week was to be allowed for each successive six months. She began work shortly after the contract was signed, but was discharged last May. She then employed Attorney Lewis Cruikshank and sought to recover the remainder of her salary for the two years.

The defense of the company was that her work was unsatisfactory and she was dismissed with two weeks' notice, which was declared to have been permissible under the terms of the contract.

Call Studio Workers in Jury Probe of $35,000 Lost Film

A number of motion picture employees and officials were summoned to appear before the grand jury this afternoon, when that body begins its investigation into the mystery surrounding the disappearance of a $35,000 film belonging to the Fox Film company.

The negative disappeared after being prepared for shipment to New York, it was declared. Charles Hockberg, its custodian, is at liberty on bail pending a hearing on an embezzlement charge involving the disappearance.

Charges and counter-charges are said to have been made concerning the theft and the grand jury is to take up many angles of the case.

Andrade was appointed a patrolman May 8, 1918. He appeared before Chief Butler today when summoned. The charge was read and he was summarily dismissed.

Gets Decree on Plea of Another Husband

On the ground that Alice I. Eagan had another husband at the time she married Clinton E. Eagan, Sept. 26, 1910, the latter was granted an annulment today by Judge Crail. A daughter, Helen Georgene Eagan, now 7, was awarded to the mother when she applied for its custody through an attorney, although she did not appear to contest the granting of the annulment.

Police Seek Woman Who Flees Asylum

The police were asked today to search for Mrs. Tilly Fox, 28, the wife of M. J. Fox of 2922 1/2 Maple avenue, who escaped from Haven Rest, 745 College street.

According to the report made to the police, Mrs. Fox was suffering from hallucinations and believed her life was imperiled by imaginary poisoners.

She climbed over a high wire fence and was last seen running from the institution.

NEW TICKET TO ENTER L.A.
ELECTION

Council Representation for All Elements in City Life Now Being Sought

The world war, with its attendant problems, is likely to have an important bearing on Los Angeles city politics in the campaign this spring.

From inside sources of undoubted authenticity it was announced today that at the city primary for councilmen a ticket would be placed in the field which will be a combination of representatives of labor, capital and the returning soldiers.

The plan will be launched at an early meeting of representatives of the business life of the city, representatives of labor and representatives of the soldiers.

Its purpose will be to combat any tendency toward Bolshevism in Los Angeles. Regarding the situation and its attendant political aspects the following statement was made today by a prominent Los Angeles citizen:

"Bolshevism is now generally accepted as a world-wide peril—dormant here, but nevertheless a peril."

PROPAGANDA WHISPERS

"There are persons now who whisper in the ear of the worker everywhere the wild fallacies of Bolshevism. Hundreds of soldiers attracted by stories of Southern California's climate, but who did not formerly live here, are arriving in Los Angeles. If they do not immediately obtain jobs the Bolshevik whisper comes to them."

"Scores of gallant officers arriving here, who formerly held lesser positions in civil life, but now feel that they want positions at least equal to those they held in the army, are approached by the Bolshevik propagandists."

"Under these conditions, which are world-wide, representatives of labor, of capital and of the soldiers here have decided that the best remedy for dissatisfaction is representation of all elements in the next city council."

ALL TO BE REPRESENTED
The plan will be sprung to give all elements of the city representation in the next ruling body of Los Angeles.

Some of the present members of the city council may be endorsed as representatives of business or labor, but it is reasonably certain that at least two of Los Angeles' returned war veterans will be put in the field as candidates.

The plan is not yet complete, no choice has been made for candidates for any office, but according to sponsors of the plan, who are prominent in the civic affairs of Los Angeles, a full ticket for the council will be placed in the field.

Dismiss Plea for Switch Rate Increase

Petition of the Southern Pacific for an increase in switching rates has been dismissed on request of the railroad company, it was announced today by the state railroad commission. The company had requested an increase of over 25 cents to 50 cents a ton, or from $5 to $7.50 as the carload minimum charges.

Explosion Starts
$100,000 Oil Fire

By International News Service.
WARREN, Pa., Feb. 19.—As a result of the most disastrous fire that has visited any refinery here in years, the Superior Oil works was damaged to the extent of over $100,000 when a still filled with oil exploded, setting fire to several other buildings and damaging three stills.

U. S. Exports for Month $626,000,000
New High Record

By International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—American exports in January set a new high record. During the month goods to the value of $626,000,000 were shipped to foreign ports, it was announced by the department of commerce this afternoon.

Only twice before have exports in a single month exceeded $600,000,000 in value, it was added.

Exports for the seven months ending with January were valued at $3,798,000,000, an increase of $348,000,000 over the corresponding period of the preceding year.

Imports for January were valued at $213,000,000, a decrease of $21,000,000, compared with January, 1918.

SHOTGUN SQUAD
VAGRANTS

Vagrants and box car itinerants will be rounded up at the points of shotguns, by detectives working in the railroad yards in the future.

Because tramps are seeking refuge in Los Angeles, Captain of Detectives Home today instructed the yegg squad detailed to work in the freight yards to take no chances with the vagrants but to use every precaution to protect themselves.

The order was a sequel to the shooting fray near River station in the Southern Pacific yards, in which Detectives Patrick J. Downey were shot and killed by a tramp.

INQUEST TOMORROW

Bert Williams, alias Frank J. Byrnes, who is suspected of the slaying, was detained by the police on a charge of murder today.

An inquest will be held over Downey's body by Coroner Hartwell tomorrow afternoon at the mortuary of Edwards, Gamash & Heath.

Williams, when questioned today by Detectives Herman Cline and Mabel Leon, said Downey was shot by the gun he held in his own hand in the scuffle. The police say they will prove the man's assertion is false.

In the Southern Pacific railroad yards, Officers Conley, Sweetman and Parsons early today arrested a man giving the name of Steve Bisk, known to the police as an I. W. W. and Austrian Bolshevik sympathizer. He was armed with a large revolver, the police say.

THREE ARE ARRESTED

The officers searched a freight train which arrived from the north. Bisk and three men giving the names of C. D. Gage, Andrew Simmons and J. Robins were taken from the car. They were held on vagrancy charges.

Bisk's record was under investigation at the city jail today. The police believe they have in custody members of the vanguard of I. W. W. and Bolshevik agitators recently reported enroute from Seattle and other northern cities to the southland.

MARITAL TANGLE

The brothers and sisters of Mrs. Carson, who instigated the investigation through their attorney, W. J. Ford, are W. H. McMillon of Upland, R. H. McMillon of Phoenix, Mrs. Sarah E. Walker of 822 West High-teenth street, Mrs. Nancy E. Brown of 635 San Julian street, Mrs. Jans E. Foster of Watts, and Miss Mary McMillon of this city.

The allegations regarding Carson's matrimonial career previous to his marriage to Mrs. Hughes were made by Attorney Ford, who claimed that at the time of the marriage Carson was not legally separated from another woman.

Ford alleged that Carson's former wife, Mrs. Rose Brookings Carson, was granted a decree of divorce on March 6, 1917, and that the divorce was not final until March 6, 1918. Carson married Mrs. Hughes on July 19, 1917, eight months before the divorce was final.

CYANIDE IS
CHEMIST IN MYSTERY

To Make Microscopic Examination of Exhumed Body of Mrs. Carson

Powerful microscopes and defining fluids were employed today in an examination to determine the exact cause of death of Mrs. Alpha Hughes Carson, whose body was exhumed yesterday at the request of relatives.

The examination of organs from the body was started by Prof. A. R. Maas, who announced that his first analysis would be for cyanide poisoning.

Following the cyanide test, Prof. Maas will search for trace of every known death-dealing poison. He expects his examination will require a week's time.

Horace S. Wilson, attorney for J. Gamble Carson, husband of Mrs. Carson, stated that no chemist or toxicologist representing Mr. Carson will be present during Maas' examination.

"NATURAL DEATH"

"We are confident that the examination will show Mrs. Carson died a natural death," Wilson stated, "and we therefore do not think it necessary to have an expert representing Mr. Carson witness the examination. We have faith in the ability of Prof. Maas and await his report with confidence."

The exhuming of the body of Mrs. Carson was at the request of relatives who suspect that her death was not due to natural causes. The investigation is a forerunner of a contest by these relatives of Mrs. Carson's will.

Mrs. Carson, formerly the widow of Thomas E. Hughes, wealthy Los Angeles property owner, left an estate estimated at $142,766 and, it is claimed, at least $110,000 of this amount was bequeathed to her husband.

Certain allegations regarding Carson's matrimonial career, involving a charge that he was technically a bigamist when he married Mrs. Hughes, were made by the relatives.

NO AUTOPSY

In a statement issued by his attorney, Mr. Carson said today:

"At the time of Mrs. Carson's death her relatives were asked whether they desired an autopsy to be held to determine the cause of death. Her attending physician, Dr. D. W. Skeel, stated that her death was caused by acute chronic nephritis. Dr. W. L. Huggins confirmed this opinion."

PLANS NEW BODY
for County Merger

That the city and county consolidation commission will be immediately reorganized was the announcement of Mayor Woodman today following a conference between the mayor and George H. Dunlop, chairman of the consolidation commission. Dunlop is to remain chairman. The mayor said he probably will appoint a new commission in time for it to participate at a conference tomorrow afternoon at the public service commission offices on the plan to annex Santa Monica and to provide an aqueduct water supply for Santa Monica, Sawtelle, Westgate and the Palms.

For Convalescents Who Don't Convalesce

Ravaging diseases, like pneumonia or typhoid, leave you with wasted, anemic body and a ferocious appetite. Appetite is Nature's means of persuading you to nourish yourself back to normal. Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

PACIFIC SOLDIERS LAND IN NEW YORK

are the headquarters, machine gun and medical companies, Companies A, B, C and part of D. They will be quartered at Camp Dix.

REPLACEMENT TROOPS

The regiment was sent over in December, 1917, but never saw active service as a unit. The men were used as replacements, with the Forty-first, Forty-second, Twenty-sixth and the First and Second divisions. Two of its officers were killed and 14 wounded. There were 600 casualties among the enlisted men.

Among the returning heroes was Lieut. Eugene Mason of Salem, Ore., who won the distinguished service cross for bravery in the Argonne. With 20 men he set out to silence a German machine gun nest. When he reached it he had but two left. They captured the gunners and six guns.

"FLAMING COFFINS"

America's air fleet in France when the armistice was signed was attacked by a number of American air fighters, who returned on the Canopic. The American-constructed machines were characterized as "flaming coffins," and very dangerous. An American airman would not use an American machine if it were possible to get any other.

While Lieut. Frank O. D. Hunter of Savannah, Ga., who shot down eight planes officially and who wears the distinguished service cross and the croix de guerre, was making these assertions, a number of his companion airmen standing nearby nodded approval. All of them had won decorations.

U. S. AIRPLANES "JOKE"

"That tale of American supremacy of the air is a joke," asserted Lieut. Hunter. "The American machines were a bigger joke, that is, they would be if it hadn't been so dangerous to go up in one of those 'flaming coffins,' as they were called. They sure were fire traps."

Lieut. Hunter said that the Liberty motors were all right. "An American airman would never go up with an American machine," he added. "A British or French one," he added. Lieut. Ralph A. O'Neill of the 147th Aero Squadron, whose home is at Nogales, Ariz., was the fourth American flyer to become an "ace." He fought at Toul, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. He won the distinguished service cross and two oak leaves and the croix de guerre.

SHOT DOWN FIVE TIMES

Another wearer of the distinguished service cross and the croix de guerre is Lieut. Arthur H. Jones of Hayward, Cal. Lieut. Jones is credited with four enemy planes. Lieut. James C. Rabel Jr. of Hannibal, Mo., Mark Twain's birthplace, returned with the distinguished service cross and the croix de guerre. He is credited with two enemy flyers. Being shot down with his observation balloon five times was the experience of Lieut. Glen Phelps, a newspaper man of St. Louis, who won the distinguished service cross and the croix de guerre July 30 at Chateau Thierry, where he was directing artillery fire. Lieut. Phelps was shot down twice from a height of 500 meters. In the Argonne he was brought down three times. "That was because we did not have sufficient airplanes to protect the balloons," he declared.

Newly Named Civic Center Commission to Meet on Friday

A meeting of the newly appointed civic center commission is to be held at the mayor's office Friday morning at 10 o'clock, was called today. The committee will start organization for planning a civic center for Los Angeles.

Announcement of the date for the meeting was made after Mayor Woodman and Chairman Wm. Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles aqueduct, had held a lengthy conference in the mayor's office. Mulholland, after the session, said he was going to buy a pair of overalls and get to work on the civic center job immediately. He characterized the present scattered conditions of the city and county offices as "a disgrace to a city like this." He declared his belief that the earnings of the aqueduct and power bureau would ultimately pay the cost of the civic center work.

Denies Chaplin Retires from 'Big 5'

Charlie Chaplin has not withdrawn from the combination of noted film stars recently organized here, according to his brother, Sid Chaplin, when informed that such reports had been received from Kansas City. The brother declared the report was subtle enemy propaganda. It was explained that all the artists in the film combination of which William Gibbs McAdoo is chief counsel, had so bound themselves together that to withdraw would be impossible even if one did receive a tempting offer.

SO. CAL. POULTRY MEN CHAMPION STATE MARKET

Commission Strongly Defended
and Legislature Urged to Maintain Organization

The Poultry Producers of Southern California have come to the defense of the state market commission and in resolutions adopted at a meeting here vigorously oppose the bill pending in the state legislature for abolishment of the commission.

The poultry producers point to the fact that the market commission has numerous farmers' co-operative associations to be organized, whose collective annual output is estimated at more than $50,000,000.

The resolutions read as follows:

Whereas, A bill has been introduced in the state legislature to abolish the state market commission; and

Whereas, Co-operative marketing on the part of producers makes more nearly possible the elimination of waste in the cost of marketing to the advantage of producer and consumer, and also tends greatly to broaden and to develop new markets, thus stimulating increased production to the advantage of the consumer; and

Whereas, The state market commission, under the direction of State Market Director Harris Weinstein, has caused to be organized numerous farmers' co-operative marketing associations, whose collective annual output is estimated at being over $50,000,000, sold at fair prices to consumers and living prices to producers; and

Whereas, The state market commission is thus proving a great boon to the producers of California and is encouraging them to keep on producing so that consumers may have more nearly assured abundant food supplies; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the bill to abolish the state market commission, if passed by the legislature, would work against the best interests of producer and consumer, and would therefore be against public policy, and be it further

Resolved, That we call upon our legislative representatives to cast their vote and use their influence against the passage of any such measure, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution, duly certified, be forwarded to State Market Director Harris Weinstein, and to members of the legislature from the following named counties, to-wit: Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and San Diego.

CATARHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME
If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.
This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or Head noises should give this prescription a trial.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Owl Drug Co. in Los Angeles and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nervous system with this supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance and increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable floor-slipping properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advertisement.

WOULDN'T TAKE A FORTUNE FOR IT

Tanlac Proves of Untold Value to This Man—Gains 21 Pounds

"I wouldn't take a fortune for the good Tanlac has done me, for it has not only restored my health but has added twenty-one pounds to my weight, and I feel like a different man in every way," said Peter Redweg, a valued employee of the Pacific Car Foundry Co., and whose residence is 553 Clay street, Portland, Ore.

"About eight months ago," he continued, "I had a bad spell of the grippe, and it left me in a very badly run-down condition, and until I began taking Tanlac, I was not able to find a bit of energy. All my strength started up hill again. My appetite was very poor, and my stomach was in such bad condition that the little I did eat would give me indigestion. Sometimes for three or four hours after my meals I would be all bloated up with gas and suffer something awful with shortness of breath. I was badly constipated most of the time, and occasionally suffered from headaches. My kidneys gave me lots of trouble also, and I had a dull, heavy pain across the small of my back all the time. All my strength and energy seemed to gradually leave me, and I lost a lot in weight, and finally got so weak and worn out that I had to give up my work and for three months I was not able to do a hand's turn.

"I heard so many folks around Portland talking about the good this Tanlac was doing them that I decided to buy a few bottles and see if it would help me. Well, sir, I don't believe it is possible for anybody to improve faster than I did after I began taking that medicine. My appetite improved from the very first bottle, the condition of my stomach soon improved so much that I could eat just anything I wanted and I would not have indigestion afterwards. I kept on taking Tanlac and the more I took the better I felt, and after taking six bottles all my troubles disappeared. I am never bothered with that pain in my back, and my kidneys seem to be in good condition. I am rid of constipation, and never have a headache at all. I have gained a lot in weight, in fact I weigh more today than I ever weighed in my life, and thanks to Tanlac, I am well and strong in every way as I ever was, and am glad to recommend it to everybody."

SEATTLE STRIKE SETTLEMENT PLAN FAILS

Believe Postponement of Shipyard Opening Will Avert New Crisis

By International News Service
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 19.—Believing that a postponement of the reopening of the shipyards scheduled for today would avert a possible crisis and on the advice of the government's representatives, the yards remain idle. All efforts of government officials, international union officials and the Seattle Metal Trades Council to reach a basis for settlement so far have failed.

Conferees were resumed at 10 o'clock this morning with Dr. L. C. Marshall, representative of the emergency fleet corporation and international union officers present. A mass meeting of the 15,000 members of the local boilermakers, iron shipbuilders and helpers' union was in session this morning to consider the strike.

SCORES DELEGATES
An effort is being made to turn the workers, soldiers and sailors' council here into a "soviet" with the avowed intention of substituting its constitution for that of the United States, according to M. K. Kennedy, acting chairman of the Metal Trades Council. Kennedy, at a union meeting, severely scored union delegates to the workers, soldiers and sailors' council for their inaction in allowing the council to fall into the control of the I. W. W. and Bolsheviki factions. Destruction of the American Federation of Labor is another object of the council, Kennedy said.

RADICALS FAIL
That the radical organization is a failure was the assertion made today by W. Chapman, a union delegate to the council. He said he declined to be connected with it further and had resigned his seat along with Kennedy.

Fred Arndt and Ernest E. Heilmiller, both of the Germans, are under detention here today at the request of C. L. Reames, special assistant attorney general, who expects to have them deported after the peace treaty is signed. Reames charges both are I. W. W. organizers and have been active agitators against the government.

CLUB SEEKS SHAKEUP AT VENTURA SCHOOL

That the Wednesday Morning club, one of the largest in the city, will send resolutions to Governor Stephens demanding a change in management of the California School for Girls at Ventura was announced today by Mrs. Cora Holland, club president.

Mrs. Holland stated that she would present resolutions to this effect to the club late this afternoon. "We will ask for a complete reorganization of the board of trustees and school administrators," Mrs. Holland said today just before calling the club to order. "Because we think it inadvisable to try to secure desired reforms through the medium of the incumbents. The club feels very strongly about this."

Other clubs are preparing to adopt similar resolutions, it was understood today.

Startling Question New Sermon Topic

Dr. R. A. Torrey, the evangelist, will speak tonight at Bible institute on the subject, "A Startling Question." Music for the services has been arranged under direction of Charles Alexander.

Southern California is the most beautiful spot ever visited, Dr. Torrey said during his sermon last night, but added that "Southern California isn't in it compared to the beauty of heaven."

Can't Bind Customer Is Gas Case Ruling

The district court of appeals has held it illegal for a gas concern to bind a customer to buy gas from only one source.

The second annual grand ball of the Young Zionists' association will be held tonight at Kramer's dancing academy, 1500 South Figueroa street. Miss Edith Cohan, a young Philadelphia society girl, will lead the grand march at 10 o'clock with Jack Lieben, president of the association. Zionist soldiers, recently returned from the front, will be the guests of honor.

FAITH IN RUSSIA
Expressing faith in the ultimate development of Russia, Charlemagne Tower, former United States ambassador to Austria-Hungary, to Germany and to Russia, is in Pasadena for the season. He is accompanied by Mrs. Tower and the two expect to make a later visit to their daughter and her husband, the latter being Maj. Robertson in command of the aerial gunnery school in San Diego.

FILES WILL SUIT
On the ground the will of his late wife, Augusta Thompson, was revoked by a later instrument, which was voluntarily destroyed by Mrs. Thompson herself, John M. Thompson filed a contest asking to have the first will set aside.

PIANIST VECSEI, WHO SAYS WAR HAS KILLED INTELLECTUAL MUSIC

MELODY MUSIC IS LATEST SAYS VECSEI

Here is hope for the mere, ordinary, garden variety of music lover, who enjoys lyric music and, whether he confesses it or not, can't "get" the ultra modern composers!

For Desider Josef Vecsei, one of the foremost pianists of Los Angeles, who is to be a star feature of the Los Angeles Symphony concerts this year, has declared that "intellectual" music is going out.

The war, according to Vecsei, has put it out of vogue. There is already a tremendous swing back to melodic music—the simple, beautiful kind written, as Vecsei puts it, with the "heart-soul" of the composer.

Cubist music, intellectual music, the kind of music that one sees in colors or has to guess what it means in order to appreciate it, has been only a caprice, he declares, and will pass away as the older, lyric school of music comes back.

"Romantic music is coming back with a great force," Vecsei said today. "No more do the people want music written only with the mind. They want music written with the heart-soul—romantic music. And the other will pass away, into oblivion. It was just a caprice."

Vecsei will play two concertos at the next symphony concert on March 7, one to be Saint-Saens' F Major, by request, and the other to be Liszt's A Major. The Saint-Saens concerto was played by this artist last year at the symphony and it proved so great a success that he has had many requests to repeat it this year.

P. E. Gets Shipment of 'One-Man' Cars

The new "one-man" cars are about to be introduced in Los Angeles by the Pacific Electric railway.

The cars were successful, it is said, in El Paso, Kansas City and other eastern cities. They will be tried out on the Pomona, Redlands, Riverside and Santa Monica lines at certain times of the day.

Twelve of the cars arrived here recently from the factory.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me from enjoying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Wornat, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Wornat.

Pay $60 for Coffee, Expecting Booze

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 19.—The "wholesaler" carried his sample and the "retailer" declared it "great stuff." How much for a full case of pints? he was asked.

"Sixty bucks, cash," replied the wholesaler. The men dug up. When the case was delivered the retailers were on hand to sample it. It looked all right.

"Stung!" yelled one as he placed his lips to the first bottle. "Water and coffee," was their verdict, instead of "old sour mash."

PREDICTS DRY SUMMER ON WORK OF MUSKRATS

GENEVA, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Charles Kelley, a half-breed Mohawk Indian of this city, predicts the driest summer this year that has been experienced in many years. Kelley sprang into prominence as a weather prophet last autumn, when he prophesied that the present winter would be a mild and open one. He bases his prediction on the actions of the muskrat and other animals. The habit of the muskrat is to build his house thick in wall and high. This winter they were the reverse, says Kelley.

REFINED EVANSTON COPS TO HAVE FINE LIBRARY

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Even though forced by their calling to associate with low and rough characters, the Evanston police are going to keep their minds refined and elevated, and with this end in view a library has been installed in the police station.

There the detectives and patrolmen may get a clue to the thief on their beat by reading Carolyn Wells' "The Claw," and may get a line on what is causing all the fights in the district by digesting "Things Men Fight For"—also the policeman of the brogue may find a little consolation in "Doing My Bit for Ireland."

REPORT ON VENTURA SCHOOL IS SENT GOV.

Supervisors Order Cora Deal
Lewis Testimony Transcribed for State Executive

An oral report made by Mrs. Cora Deal Lewis to the supervisors on the testimony adduced at the hearing of the charges against the heads of the state school for girls at Ventura and which referred to the "czar-like methods" of the superintendent and to a system of "espionage," was ordered transcribed and sent today by the supervisors to Governor Stephens.

"This institution is conducted on a system of repression and espionage," was one of the observations made by Mrs. Lewis to the supervisors. She told of the testimony describing the "houseings" and ice baths and of the alleged doses of drugs administered as a punishment.

"I would like to ask that we not be obliged to send girls from Los Angeles county to the Ventura school until the administration there is changed," said Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. Lewis stated most of the clubwomen of Los Angeles objected to a board to manage the school. The school composed entirely of women.

CITRUS BELT PARADE TO BIG ORANGE SHOW

Headed by the Claremont band, residents of many cities in the citrus belt today paraded in automobiles to San Bernardino to attend the ninth Annual Orange Show. Today was observed as San Gabriel Valley day.

The automobile procession to the orange show started from Whittier, new quotas being added as the parade passed through various towns until Claremont was reached at 10 o'clock.

The associated chambers of commerce of the valley towns took charge of the day's events. A feature of the program was the singing by Miss Harriet Pasmore of Pomona college.

The bathing beauties from Venice are to invade the orange show tomorrow, which has been set apart as Venice day. Plenty of "pep" is promised for the celebration in behalf of the beach resort.

Governor W. D. Stephens is to visit San Bernardino Saturday to review the welcoming home parade to honor returned soldiers and to take part in the closing events of the orange show.

Approximately 3000 visitors participated in the Canadian day celebration at the show. Special trains were run from Santa Monica, Long Beach and other cities.

County Employees Discuss Pensions

To discuss the proposed pension measure for county employees, a meeting of all the employees was called for this evening by George S. Strait, president of the Los Angeles County Employees' association. President Strait stated a pension system seemed to meet with the approval of the members of the association, but many favored granting a larger annuity than the $665 proposed.

termination of the divorce, Ford claims.

It is on the allegation that Carson's marriage to Mrs. Hughes was not legal in that he was still technically the husband of another woman, that the effort to break the will will be based, Ford said.

According to Ford, Carson married Elizabeth E. Carson in San Francisco on Dec. 28, 1906, and was divorced from her July 3, 1908. This marriage was followed by his union to Mrs. Rose Brookings Carson on Jan. 2, 1910.

Ford pointed out that Carson married Mrs. Hughes July 19, 1917, and her will, naming him as principal beneficiary, was dated Aug. 29 of the same year. She died July 18, 1918. All but one of the brothers and sisters were left $100 each. Nephews, great-nephews and nieces were left $25,000, and the rest went to Carson.

FIGHT ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS OPENS

not be kept. He cited possible situations in which the United States might be involved with foreign nations, which he said could not be submitted to the league. The failure to submit such questions, he said, would involve the United States in war with all other nations on the face of the earth.

FURTHER CLAIMS

Pointdexter contended that a league of nations is not in existence, but that the United States has not seen fit to join it, preferring to remain an "associate" rather than an ally of the anti-German coalition. "This league, the most powerful ever formed—more powerful than the proposed new league ever will be—has been unable to wipe out all wars," he said. "Wars and military operations are still in progress, while the constitution of the new league is being discussed."

"Once we have entered into this fatal covenant, our failure to obey the decrees of the league, or of tribunals constituted under the terms of its constitution, automatically makes us an outcast and a pariah among the nations of the world, and plunges us into a state of war with all the other nations composing the league."

"FRIGHTFUL COMPACT"
"And this is the frightful compact we are asked to make, to surrender our destinies to the league, with the awful penalty of immediate war on us by all the combined nations composing its membership, should we decline in any respect to obey the decrees of the league, however destructive they may be of our happiness or prosperity."

"This is the substitute we are asked to make for the peaceful and happy state under which we have lived under the greater part of our national career and amity with the world. We have had but few wars and have avoided war by avoiding the cause of war. We are now asked to avoid war by multiplying immeasurably the cause of war and by surrendering to a heterogeneous league of diverse races our sovereign rights and privileges. By such a course the independence which was preserved by the patriotism of our people and the heroism of our soldiers in the fighting which has just been concluded will be surrendered and the guarantees of peace which victory has afforded us will be mortgaged to every nation in the world."

"BLINDFOLDED"
"If the constitution is ratified without being submitted to the American people in a political campaign, where it shall have been made an issue and upon which they will have had an opportunity to render judgment in an election, then self-government in America will have disappeared. We are facing an abyss and the American people should not be led into it blindfolded."

"A decision to enter this, the most entangling alliance ever conceived, will deprive our people of that high and mighty state which they and their fathers have builded themselves."

Sectionalism crept into the speech when he said that the south, having once been subdued by armed force, now was having its revenge by surrendering through the administration control "the sovereignty of the nation."

PRESIDENT'S REQUEST
Pointdexter said the constitution was "framed in secret" and the President wished no discussion of it until he has had a private meeting with the foreign relations committees of both houses.

"If the proposals contained in the constitution of the league are meritorious they will be strengthened by debate," he added.

"If they are unwise or ill advised, the fact may be disclosed by free discussion. No injury can possibly accrue to anyone by the freest and most painstaking explanations of its provisions."

FOR the benefit of our readers we take pleasure in publishing the Brooks offer to save all who are ruptured from wearing trusses and other painful makeshifts that do not cure.

The Brooks Appliance Co. gladly sends this remarkable Appliance ON TRIAL to prove that it holds the rupture back, keeps it in place, prevents it coming down or slipping out and finally cures it entirely.

The Brooks Appliance clings to you without force and you are hardly conscious of its presence. And above all else, it HOLDS always.

Within an hour after you receive the Brooks Appliance, if you take advantage of this remarkable trial offer, you will throw away your truss forever.

Over 670,000 People Have Accepted This Offer. Why Not You?

Doesn't that prove that the Brooks Appliance is not an experiment but a positive success—that it does all we claim for it? Among these 670,000 men, women and children there must be hundreds whose condition was identical with yours. Can you afford not to investigate and satisfy yourself, when it costs you nothing to prove what the Brooks Appliance will do for you?

This wonderful device is a triumph of scientific and mechanical genius, the result of more than 30 years' experience, and the percentage of cures effected by its use is little short of miraculous.

Many hundreds of physicians and surgeons recommend the Brooks Appliance and condemn trusses as more harmful and dangerous than any other method of retaining and treating rupture. Thousands of people have written us to testify to the amazing results they have secured from this great invention. Many of these people live right in your vicinity, and we will be glad to send you copies of their thankful letters if you will ask for them when you write.

Men, Women and Children Find the Brooks Appliance Equally Effective

No matter if your rupture is old and severe or only recently developed, no matter if you are young or old, you should not fail to profit by this No-Risk Trial Offer.

No other rupture support, truss, lock, device, pad or plaster is offered to the public under so broad a guarantee of satisfaction.

If for any reason whatever you do not wish to keep the Brooks Appliance after you try it, send it back. You don't have to give any reason, you don't have to send to us for any return instructions or shipping label. There will be no argument, no dispute or misunderstanding.

Ten Reasons Why You Should Accept This Offer:

1. It is absolutely the only Appliance embodying the principles that inventors have sought after for years.
2. The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of position.
3. Being an air cushion of soft rubber it clings closely to the body, yet never blisters or causes irritation.
4. Unlike ordinary so-called pads, it is not cumbersome or ungainly.
5. It is small, soft and pliable, and positively cannot be detected through the clothing.
6. The soft, pliable bands do not give the unpleasant sensation of wearing a harness.
7. Nothing to get foul; it can be washed without any injury.
8. There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by cutting and bruising the flesh.
9. All materials are the very best that money can buy, making it a durable and safe Appliance to wear.
10. Our reputation is so thoroughly established and our prices so reasonable, our terms so fair, that you should not hesitate to send the free coupon today.

Fighting has broken out at some places, and during the clashes the reds used minenwerfers. The government troops were defeated in these engagements, it was reported from the Ruhr district.

Mine officials have formally appealed to the government authorities at Weimar, the seat of the national assembly, for protection.

Several towns in eastern Galicia have been destroyed entirely.

RY. CHIEF LAUDS PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Private ownership of railroads with "wise, energetic and honest management under suitable, thorough and protective regulation is best," Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, told the senate interstate commerce committee today.

"Government ownership, management and operation of American railroads are not for the best interests of the nation," he added.

Regulation under private ownership should be so arranged and directed, Elliott said, as to preserve and encourage initiative, to be prompt and responsive to changing conditions, but at the same time provide checks to prevent any unfair and dishonest practices by owners and managers.

Would Bar Cigaret from State of Maine

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 19.—An attempt to bar the cigarette from Maine is under way. Representative Bean has filed in the legislature a bill to prohibit the sale, importation or handling of a cigarette paper or cigarette tobacco. The penalty is a fine of not exceeding $100 or imprisonment not exceeding 60 days.

UNION OF AUSTRIA, GERMANY OPPOSED

stronger northern neighbor— it she should elect to do so.

Another view, propounded chiefly by the French, is that such a bloc would constitute a menace for the rest of Europe and that peace could be best guaranteed by forming the German people into as many different states as possible.

The question is bound to come before the council of ten before long, although not until President Wilson returns from the United States.

It is now understood that the German army will be fixed at a maximum of 25 divisions, or roughly at half a million men and that no part of this force shall be garrisoned near the Franco-German frontier. At the same time Germany will be absolutely forbidden to use a single submarine.

The question of allowing Germany to continue training men without equipping them for war will probably be settled by the league of nations executive council, as indeed will the whole question of conscription and submarine warfare and world navies in general.

NON-CONSCRIPTION

One view that likely will be pressed under article twelve of the constitution of the league of nations is non-conscription for Germany for at least ten years. If such a proposition is adopted, it is held there will be absolutely no frontier danger for France to face and that France, Italy and other nations will be only too ready to take advantage of the financial relief thus afforded by abolishing conscription in their own countries.

It is believed that if the principal powers go without conscription for a period of ten years there will be no disposition to take it up later.

Under the same article, number twelve, of the league of nations covenant, it is expected that the submarine will be banned by all navies, even for legitimate uses of naval warfare.

Italy's refusal to accept arbitration of her territorial defenses with the Jugo Slavia cause no surprise in Paris.

All along Italy has taken the view that the peace conference should deal with this question in the same manner it had taken up the others.

SERBIAN MEMORANDA

The Serbians have submitted a memorandum outlining their claims against Bulgaria. Serbia is seeking a belt of territory along the Bulgarian frontier from 10 to 20 miles wide, which would bring her new frontier at a point in close proximity to Sofia.

These claims are based on purely strategical grounds, Serbia contending that they are necessary to protect her main railroad against any sudden incursion across the border.

Another memorandum outlined the terms of the union between the Serbians and the Czech-Slovaks.

The conference now is about to consider the Moroccan question. France is seeking free development in Morocco, but she has been hindered in this by existing treaties, notably the act of Algiers, and is calling for their complete revision. Except in the sense of freeing herself of German interference, France will not seek any strengthening of her protectorate.

She desires to retain native help in the administration of the country.

Information has reached the peace delegates that food conditions in Germany are very grave, and if relief does not reach the people the rations will have to be reduced by the end of March.

ALLIES CONSIDER SERBIANS, SLOVENES AND CROATS' CLAIMS

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The territorial claims of the Serbians, the Slovenes and Croats were considered by the allied powers at the foreign office, it was announced in the following communique:

"The representatives of the allied and associated powers met today at the Quai d'Orsay from 3 to 6 o'clock.

"M. Vesitch, M. Zager and M. Trumbitch explained the territorial claims of the Serbians, Slovenes and Croats, respectively.

"It was decided to submit the question of frontiers claimed, with the exception of those in which it was directed interested, to the commission already charged with the examination of the question of Banat.

"The next meeting will take place on Thursday, Feb. 20, at 3 p. m.

SURRENDER OF PORTS AT KIEL, HELGOLAND, IS TO BE DEMANDED

LONDON, Feb. 19.—While the armistice terms providing for the surrender of the forts at each end of the Kiel canal and at Helgoland, and the German warships now interned, so that these ships may be destroyed have not been fully agreed to, it is understood that the United States will make certain reservations so as not to establish precedents which might involve the fortifications of its own coastal canal systems, such as the Cape Cod and other Atlantic waterways. So far it is understood that the question of the fortifications at the Panama canal have not been mentioned but that the United States wishes to make possible the maintenance of certain fortifications.

It is reported that it is the intention of the allies to leave Germany a fleet large enough for defensive purposes but to make sure of the opening of the Kiel canal.

It has been announced in the commons that Germany, up to Feb. 14, had surrendered 126,326 freight cars and that up to Feb. 2, the British had received the surrender of the following armament and equipment: Heavy guns, 2500; field guns, 2500; machine guns, 25,000; trench mortars, 2000; airplanes, 1700; locomotives, 4065; motor trucks, 1220.

MEDIUM GRADE SHOES NOW IN BIG DEMAND

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—Manufacturers of medium grade men's shoes report a better business. One large concern that up to the last week of December complained of receiving no orders, with plenty of cancellations instead, is now viewing the situation in a more optimistic mind. However, manufacturers of men's work shoes are not getting the orders they ought to. Some factories in this district specializing in those lines will have to curtail within a short time if business is not forthcoming. The situation in women's shoes has not changed, and new orders are few. Prices keep very firm.

TWO SETS OF OPINIONS

In regard to the future there are two sets of opinions deserving attention. One believes that business will be very good and prices remain as high as they are and possibly go higher. They think that labor will continue to be well employed at advantageous wages. The other opinion, although recognizing many points of the first as being valid, thinks that so much can happen between now and next winter that they prefer to work on conservative lines. Those who hold that opinion believe the demand will then center upon $7 and $8 shoes. They feel that anything above $10 is too high, whatever the leather market may be. There are certainly no signs of decreased wages in the shoe industry, but it is hard to say how the lowering of the cost of living will affect them. One very large manufacturer is already arguing that they should be lower, but the majority certainly do not think in this manner.

CLEANING OUT SHELVES

Shoe retailers in this district are busy cleaning out their shelves and include staple men's shoes in their list of offerings. They certainly feel that the old prices were too high and that it is time to reduce profit for the sake of volume.

There is a fair demand for hemlock sole leather, and quotations for the week for No. 1 heavy standard tan range from 46 cents for the best down to 40 cents for No. 3. Production is fairly large. Union leather continued to sell actively in cow weights, and there was more trading noted on heavy weights. Lower selections are also easier to move than they have been for some time past. There is some export demand, but nothing compared to what it might be if it were not for embargoes and other restrictions. Oak leather is selling fairly well, with bends of good quality quoted at 88 cents and 90 cents for Nos. 1 and 2. Steer backs are still on the basis of 75 cents. Hinder's leather sells without difficulty at top prices. Offal is selling at a variety of prices, according to quality, and some selections are stronger than ever. Hemlock bellies are selling at 15 cents; oak bellies, 27 cents to 30 cents, with some at 20 to 25 cents, and union bellies at 15 to 23 cents, according to weight. Double rough oak shoulders are quoted from 50 to 60 cents. Belting butts are selling up to 95 cents for the very best; 83 and 91 cents asked for light weights.

CALFSKIN QUOTATIONS

Calfskins are generally quoted on the basis of 75 cents for the best color. Some special shades range up to $80. However, some producers are not asking over 72 cents. There is a large amount of low grade leather on the market now offered at prices over those ruling two weeks ago. There is more demand than supply for ooze calf at 90 cents a foot. Black glazed kid is generally quoted around 70 cents for the best grades of black. Some lines are said to be higher and some lower. Raw material is in scant supply and new arrivals will help but little. Patent leather in top selections cal sell well and are now quoted at 80 to 64 cents. Low grades are difficult to get rid of. Chrome side leather was generally marked up this week 2 cents a foot. Colored kip sides are now quoted up to 5 cents for the best color. It is still difficult to induce manufacturers to buy low grades. Bark and combination sides are not easy to sell, and there is plenty of unfinished army leather to be had for work shoes. Sheepskins can sell easily when the best grades are offered, but manufacturers are not interested in inferior select this week than last. Some tanners are well supplied and out of the market until good hides come back. Extremes could be sold up to 24½ cents for the choicest. Sides made between 23 and 24 cents. Butts are still hard to sell alone, but some are moving in conjunction with extremes.

Sleep is the Body's Building-up Time

ONLY deep, sound sleep can restore the energy spent in your day's work.

You can't get this kind of sleep in a wooden bed that creaks and groans every time you move in it. Or a metal bed that rattles and sways. Or on a spring that sags—does not support the body.

People who know the facts are going beyond the mere looks of a bed, and asking about sleeping quality.

There isn't anybody anywhere but will sleep better in a Simmons Metal Bed and Slumber King Spring.

THE Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless. It locks firm at the corners. The corner locks are made of pressed steel—have much longer bearing surfaces than the average—fit true and snug—not a creak, rattle, or feeling of unsteadiness.

It is perfectly rigid—feels and moves like one solid piece.

The Simmons Pressed Steel Corner Locks are protected by basic patents. They are the most fundamental inventions of modern bed manufacturing—exclusive with Simmons, not to be duplicated or imitated.

And these patented corner locks have made possible the Three-piece Bed—the new Simmons idea—the spring forming a single unit with the side rails.

IF you want the most relaxing and constructive sleep anyone can get, you'll find it in a Simmons Twin Bed.

Everywhere people of refinement are learning that there's nothing like a separate bed for promoting perfect rest and good health.

This advanced thought about sleep has long been a Simmons specialty. They are pioneer makers of Twin Beds. There is nowhere a showing of Twin Beds equal to those produced by Simmons Company.

THE Slumber King Spring really does what you have always wanted a spring to do. It is a new and advanced idea. It is a system of elastic steel strips with spirals of high-test spring wire—so combined that the spring action is equal in all directions.

The Slumber King Spring yields to the weight of the body, but supports it. It fits square on the bed. It does not sag, hump—or lose its resiliency. It is always a firm, elastic foundation for the mattress. It invites sound, health-giving sleep.

The Slumber King Spring is finished in oxidized silver. It is rustproof. It has no loose ends or rough corners—cannot wear or tear the ticking.

NO doubt you're tired of trying to get the right kind of sleep in a bed made merely for looks.

You'd be glad to get a good metal bed. The Simmons Bed comes in brass, and in enamel with or without brass trimmings. Also beautiful natural wood effects.

Not all furniture dealers carry Simmons Beds. But leading merchants everywhere have a complete stock of Simmons Beds and Simmons Slumber King Springs.

If you do not know the Simmons merchants in this section, we shall be glad to send you their names.

The Welcome Guest Has a Good Stomach

The Man or Woman Who Can Eat Heartily and Not Fade Away Is the Welcome Guest Anywhere.

Many people just hate to eat in company. They prefer to crawl into some by-place for a dyspeptic's plate of molly coddle. Business men often resort to this form of weakness under the belief they can work better. But it isn't what you eat, but what you digest that counts. Some stomachs can't digest even a glass of milk. So they simply keep on feeding dyspepsia and get gas, water brash, sour risings and so on that the better informed and hearty eaters entirely avoid. This they do by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many physicians prescribe them for indigestion, dyspepsia and other digestive disorders. They are sold at every drug store, everywhere, price 50 cents a box.

CHURCH DENIES AUTHORITY IN MINISTER ROW

Episcopal Bishop Not to Probe Charges Against Preachers' Home

That the National Episcopal Rectory association, founded three years ago to provide homes for aged clergymen, is entirely independent of the bishop of the Episcopal diocese or the Episcopal church, and that, therefore, neither the bishop nor the church can institute an investigation of the association, was asserted today by Dr. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ church and founder of the association.

An investigation has been asked by Dr. E. J. H. Van Deerlin, assistant rector of Christ church, Ontario, who had been an inmate of the home conducted by the association, on a $5000 endowment made by E. L. Doheny.

Dr. Van Deerlin claims that, despite the fact the $5000 was supposed to provide a home for him for the rest of his life, Dr. Lee told him a year ago to leave the home, and that he could never get any explanation as to why he was ousted.

BISHOP ABSENT

Bishop Johnson was out of the city when Dr. Van Deerlin made a demand for an investigation, but Dean MacCormack, rector of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, stated that an investigation might be a desirable thing.

"However," Dean MacCormack said today, "I must agree with Dr. Lee in his claim that the Episcopal church has no jurisdiction over the home. The inquiry has been worth while if it has made clear to the public the fact that the church has had nothing whatever to do with the home, and is in no way responsible for it."

Dr. Lee stated today that while anyone would be welcome to investigate the home, and that it is really a fine institution, there is nobody authorized to conduct a probe, and that if Dr. Van Deerlin's complaints were not annoying and "gross ingratitude," they would be amusing.

"Dr. Van Deerlin was in the home for two years," Dr. Lee said. "His wife was with him, and for a good part of the time his daughter was there. He was not sent there by Mr. Doheny, as the latter had never seen him. When Mr. Doheny gave that $5000 he asked me to send some one to the home."

ASKED TO LEAVE

"Dr. Van Deerlin made himself so objectionable to the management of the hotel that I was forced to ask him to leave. He tried to run everything and everybody. Although under no obligation at all, we gave him $50 a month for a year after he left there."

"Our plan for the home is to accept the $5000 donations for retired clergymen and their wives in order to get money to complete the purchase of the home. When it is completed we will take couples in without any charge, and we have also decided not to limit it to clergymen, but to take in any needy, aged couple."

"The Episcopal church has never given a dime to this home, or helped in any way, and it has nothing to do with the situation now."

The home is known as the Casa Blanca hotel at Ontario, and $46,000 has been used for the purchase of the property. There remains $104,000 to pay before the association will own the hotel. All funds have been raised by subscriptions.

Invoke Initiative in 'Gas' Ordinance

According to John P. Steele an initiative petition providing for the restoration of the city's former ordinance fixing a high standard for gasoline sold in this city, soon will be placed in circulation. This action, Steele said, was to be taken because the city council had adopted the government gasoline specifications, which were said to be lower than those of the city's old ordinance.

MANY MATCHES IN SIGHT FOR LEONARD

By JACK VEIOCK
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, will not have to pine for action when he returns to the east from California, where he is starring among the four-rounders.
With the promoters of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other states planning stellar attractions and New York on the verge of bringing boxing back, the woods will be full of offers.
Promoter Dave MacKay of Newark announced today that he is offering Leonard $10,000 to meet the winner of the coming bout between Lew Tendler of Philadelphia and Joe Welling, the crack Chicago biffer. MacKay wants to stage the bout before May 1.
Dick Curley, New Haven promoter, wants Leonard for four bouts, and Philadelphia promoters will vie with each other in making offers to the champion to meet Lew Tendler, who is being touted as the next lightweight champion.
Tendler has risen so rapidly in lightweight circles that the wise birds predict he will be seen in the ring with Leonard before many moons have passed.
Welling, who kept in condition in the navy, is also getting considerable attention as a lightweight contender.

Rickard Still Seeks Site for Big Battle

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—On his departure here last night for Texas, Tex Rickard, promoter of the coming Willard-Dempsey fight, intimates that he would likely get a site for the battle somewhere in Illinois.
Local sportsmen here believe that this will be an impossibility from the standpoint that boxing is illegal in this state.

Buzukos Challenges Eddie O'Connell

Pete Buzukos, welterweight wrestler, arrived in Los Angeles today from the Imperial valley, where he has been wrestling, with a challenge to meet Eddie O'Connell on a winner-take-all basis.
Although he weighs only 143 pounds, Buzukos says he would not hesitate to meet Young Gutch in a handicap affair.

Charlie White Will Meet Harvey Thorpe

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Charlie White, lightweight boxer, will meet Harvey Thorpe of Kansas City in a 10-round bout at Racine, Wis., on Feb. 23, it was announced here today by White's manager.
This will be White's first fight in almost a year.

THE GENERAL

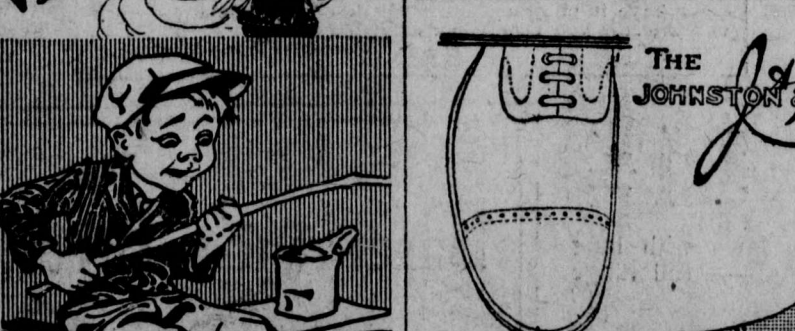

BIG OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG PLAYERS, DECLARE MANAGERS

Young ballplayers will be given more opportunities to make good this season and in future years than in the past, is the belief of Wade Killifer and Bill Essick, the men who will handle the baseball hopes of Southern California.
With the abolition of the draft the Class AA clubs will feel more like trying out young players.
In past years if a good youngster was developed the majors had the right to draft him for $2500. But now the minors can keep their young players until they see fit to sell them.
It has been the policy of most clubs in Class A and Class AA to depend upon veterans. It proved a better investment financially and far safer for a manager to spend $1000 or $1500 for a man whom he knew could deliver in his league than to try out a dozen youngsters and not find a single peach in the lemon basket.
Then if one was found he was whisked away at the end of the season.
MANY YOUNGSTERS
In spite of the unfavorable conditions the Coast developed such players as Chase, Hollister, Bancroft and a host of others. Bill Perica was the Angels' youngster last year, while Bobby Meisel was one of the recent Vernon lads.
While the Coast league paid some attention to youngsters the American association and other high grade minors overlooked them almost entirely. To remedy that state of affairs.

LYNCH MEETS CRIGUI
LONDON, Feb. 19.—Joe Lynch, an American boxer, will meet Crigui, the French bantamweight champion, in a 15-round bout before the National Sporting club of France next month, according to an announcement here today.
There is one kickback to the abrogation of the agreement between the minors and the majors. In the past few years the Class AA clubs had first call on the men dropped by the majors. Now the major league clubs claim the right to place their players in any league they see fit.
WRIGHT-HERMAN BOUT DRAW
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 19.—Billy Wright, holder of the northwest welterweight title, and Kid Herman fought four fast rounds to a draw here last night.
WALTER MCCREDIE ADDED ANOTHER CATCHER
The Angels club yesterday when he signed Boezelle, who was with Vancouver last season. Judge McCredie, owner of the Beavers, likes the way Boezelle handles himself behind the plate.
BILL RODGERS SAYS HE HAS THE BEST CATCHING STAFF IN THE LEAGUE
In Fisher and Easterly. Then he tries to trade one of them for a shortstop.
There is considerable talk of restoring railroad rates again. If the rates are put back it will mean a saving of thousands of dollars for Coast league teams and practically assure the success of the Coast league this season.

Earl Caddock to Quit Mat to Go to Wyoming Ranch

CAMP DODGE, Ia., Feb. 19.—Sergeant Earl Caddock, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, should arrive in the United States from France in the next few weeks, according to word received here today.
Caddock in a letter to a friend stated that he had decided to quit the wrestling game and devote his time to operating a Wyoming ranch.
The heavyweight champion has been in France with the United States army for a number of months.

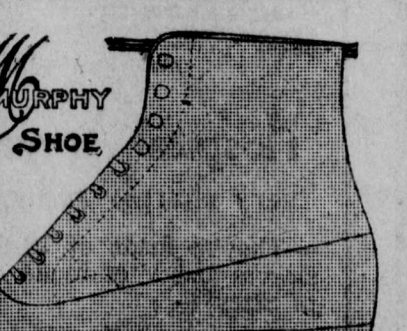

Baseball Gossip

By MATT GALLAGHER
The call of baseball has proved so strong that Wade Killifer will not wait until March 10 to start the spring training season.
The red-topped leader of the Senators will be out at Washington park starting to warm up his right arm for the coming year. A half-dozen other members of the Angel band are expected to be with him.
Killifer says he needs more time than most of the other players to get in shape. He also intends to have a few of his pitchers working out with him.
Coulterjohn, the Marine sharpshooter who will be out for the third base position; "Red" Andrews, who is after the shortstop berth, and several other youngsters also are expected to be on hand for the early practice.
Bill Essick had his ball club lined up so early that he felt he could take on the added responsibility of driving a motor car.
Eddie Herr, new manager of the Salt Lake club, has come experience in handling Class D baseball clubs years ago. He was successful then and was signed as a scout because of his ability to pick young ball players.
"Scotty" Finlay, trainer for the Los Angeles club, has come to terms with John Powers and he will handle the Angel athletes this year.
"Shine" Scott will be back with the Tigers. As Chet Chadbourne remarks, "It wouldn't be the Vernon club without 'Shine' around."

Tom Stephens, part owner of the San Francisco club, is in Los Angeles for a visit. He says the Seals are fairly well lined up for the coming season. Kamm, at third base, and Cavenay, at second, are two of the new acquisitions who will be seen by Coast league fans. Charley Graham is after a pair of catchers. Forrest Cady may be one of them and the St. Louis Browns may furnish the other.
With good weather at Salt Lake the opening week of the season the Coast league should get away to a good start. The other games will be at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento and that practically assures the league officials of good weather.
Walter McCredie added another catcher to his club yesterday when he signed Boezelle, who was with Vancouver last season. Judge McCredie, owner of the Beavers, likes the way Boezelle handles himself behind the plate.
Bill Rodgers says he has the best catching staff in the league in Fisher and Easterly. Then he tries to trade one of them for a shortstop.

What the Boxers Are Doing

By FANE NORTON
San Francisco sport writers and boxing fans call him "Lucky" Dundee owing to the breaks he gets in his close bouts in the north, but if Jimmy Dundee ever gets any more than is coming to him at Vernon he will have to have a change in luck or they will have to keep on changing referees or something like that.
Jimmy won the main event at Vegas last night, but he didn't win the decision. Referee Artie Reynolds calling the bout a draw after four rounds of honest milling.
Weldon Wing made it decidedly interesting for Dundee all the way and at one time in the third round it looked as if he would be returned a winner, but the fourth round was so far Dundee's that the Oakland boy was a much disappointed youngster when he failed to receive the award.
The next round was not particularly fast, as the boys were feeling each other out and Dundee was piling up a shade on points. Wing took the second round by good use of a left jab and in the third they went to it and battled all over the place. It was Wing's best round and he showed a cut over Dundee's eye and otherwise mugged him up, but Jimmy fought back hard enough to almost hold his own.
The fourth was the real round of the mill. Dundee hooked repeatedly with his left and each time crossed with his right, bobbing Wing's head time and again. A few less tough and less faith would have been upset by the roughing, but "Tuffy" weathered it all and was ready to go some more. The round was won by such a big margin that it put him in front for the bout.
Earl Baird was to have been matched with the winner but the verdict in the third round of the matchmaker to pick either Dundee or Wing. It looks as if Dundee will spend another week in Southern California.

Harry Lee took the booby of his life in the semi-windup when he gave Dundee a sort of decision over Kid Mende. It powder puff punches were to decide a bout, Golindio was the winner, but Mende out-gamed any sort of him all the way. Mende never let up and while he failed to punish Golindio to any extent, he had him running all the way with the exception of a flash in the fourth round. A boy who tries as Mende does deserves every advantage over a staller who can't give out any sort of run. The worst Mende should have received was a draw and he was entitled to the verdict if willard was to stand by his consideration it should.

Joe Brown received the verdict over Kid Jackson after four rounds of milling. Jackson started well, but Brown had too much stamina and liked the pace to well for him. It wasn't much of a battle, but Brown was entitled to the decision he received. As was expected, Mike Doll and Kid Strawhecker furnished the comedy bout of the night. Doll winning the decision.
Ted Levin fought a better bout than usual and gave George Marks a regular scrap, but George's cleverness enabled him to get out in front and he was never headed. Babe Crist took the decision from Louie Garcia in the curtain raiser. Crist scored a couple of knockdowns in the opener and it was lucky that he did, for he tired rapidly and it took the knockdowns to give him edges. As that, Crist didn't look at all bad and if he gets in shape he will go good in the preliminaries.
Bob Summerville, formerly a local heavyweight boxer, was introduced from the ring. Bob left a leg in the Argonne forest and has just returned home from the Letterman hospital in San Francisco. The big fellow had no more than hoped over the ropes when a shower of money started and a purse of $516.52 was his inside of five minutes. Summerville has hundreds of friends in the Beavers. He was popular as a boxer and was the first of the local athletes to come home disabled as a result of the war.

Willard Boxed but Twice for Benefits
CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A statement made by Jess Willard, champion heavyweight of the world, who is to meet Jack Dempsey on July 4, that he had contributed liberally to every war cause and has boxed for every fund, has started a protest from war organizations.
The real fact is that only in two places did he perform with the gloves for a war benefit—one bout in Fort Riley, Kansas, and the other at Fort Worth, Tex. Willard came to Chicago in July for a benefit for the Salvation Army, but never boxed because the local authorities objected to the affair being held.

JACK DEMPSEY'S RISE IN GAME WITHOUT PARALLEL IN HISTORY OF BOXING

By TOM THORP
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The meteoric rise of Jack Dempsey from an "unknown" boxer of the far west to a contender for the heavyweight championship of the world in a period of less than four years is without a parallel in the history of prize ring doings.
Should he succeed in wrestling the title from Jess Willard on Independence Day he will have achieved the most startling pugilistic record of all time.
No fighter since the memorable days of Terry McGovern, the pride of Brooklyn, and one of the greatest battlers that the sport ever produced, has won so much popularity among boxing fans as has the Salt Lake City challenger. The fact that he is the same slashing, smashing, ripping, tearing type of fighter that the Brooklyn champion was has had much to do with gaining him prominence.
AN AGGRESSIVE FIGHTER
Jack Dempsey, from the time that he first learned how to put up his mitts in the ring, has been giving his best efforts in every fight he has engaged in. Willard's challenger has never heard the call of the fans "to fight instead of stalling." No gallery-ite has ever had occasion to whistle the "Merry Widow" while he was engaged in a ring contest. Jack has a long list of knockouts to his credit.
It is this slam-bang style of fighting that Jack is going to depend upon to win the heavyweight championship of the world for him next Independence Day. It is the sort of battling with which the late Terry McGovern conquered all rivals until that unfortunate Thanksgiving Day afternoon in 1901 at Hartford, Conn., when Young Corbett took the championship crown away from him.

Dempsey has profited by the example of the South Brooklyn battler. He realizes prize ring popularity is to be won only by an exhibition of gameness and willingness to exchange punches with a rival under all sorts of conditions. The fighter who covers up when a rival displays a willingness to stand toe to toe and exchange wallops can never expect to win favor with the fans.
HAS FOUGHT BIG MEN
Dempsey has never shown the slightest sign of "backing away" from an opponent in any of his fights.
The fact that he experienced little trouble in putting away such big, husky fighters as Fred Fulton, Battling Bill Brennan, Carl Morris, Jim Flynn, Bob McAllister, Porky Flynn, Bob Devere, Al Norton, Homer Smith and Charley Miller, the last named a scrapper who earned a decision over Jess Willard, is proof of the "kick" the carrier has in his campaign against the best heavyweight boxers. He earned the right to challenge Jess Willard for the championship title by the K. O. route.

IS COOL AND DELIBERATE
Some experts have pictured Dempsey as a rough and tumble slugger. Dempsey is not a skillful boxer, but he is a cool, cunning fighter who knows how to make the most of his natural ability and can take a wallop without looking for a soft spot to drop on. This latter fact is going to play an important role in his coming battle with Big Jess.
Dempsey was born of Scotch-Irish parents in 1895, being only 24 years of age. Reports that his mother was a descendant from the Cherokee Indians are denied by the fighter himself. He is proud of his Scotch-Irish ancestry. It is open in his declaration that the Irish strain is the one which made him the real fighter that he is.

White Seeks Match with Benny Leonard

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Charlie White, lightweight boxer, has started a campaign to force Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, to meet him in the squared ring.
Leonard, according to White, has refused to meet him in the ring on several occasions and the latter has instructed his manager, Nate Lewis, to get a list of the towns the champion intends to visit in his travels and Charlie plans to meet Benny in every town.
"I can see no reason for Leonard dodging me," said White today, "except for the fact that he knows I have the goods."

EX-POLICEMAN HIS TIPS SO BIG IDENTIFIED AS THEY THOUGHT BANDIT HIM CRAZY

Man Nabbed on Year-Old
Street Car Robbery in
St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—Bird Kilgore, who gives his St. Louis address as 4320 St. Louis avenue, former policeman and "former motorman for the United Railways, was identified by William F. Daniels, 3925 North Twenty-third street, a conductor on the Lee avenue line, as the man who held him up twice during the summer of 1917 and shot him in the hand the second occasion.

Kilgore was brought back from Philadelphia today on a charge of jumping an $800 bond on which he was at liberty under a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He had been traced through a letter he sent to his wife.

BANDIT TOOK $19.80

Daniels and Archibald Morris, 4022 Grove avenue, motorman on his car, were held up at Taylor and Lee avenue the night of July 13, 1917, when they got off the car for a moment. Daniels was relieved of $19.80 and a watch belonging to his wife.

On the night of Aug. 2, 1917, the same man, wearing a false mustache, is alleged to have boarded the car and again held Daniels up. Daniels was armed but his revolver failed to work. The man shot Daniels in the right hand.

TRIED THIRD TIME

He is alleged to have boarded the car a third time, later in the summer, but escaped before Daniels could summon a policeman.

On Dec. 31, 1917, Kilgore was arrested in a saloon at 211 North Eighth street, on suspicion, and a charge of carrying concealed weapons was placed against him. He obtained release on bond, but left the city before the date of his scheduled hearing. Kilgore quit the police force in April, 1912, to become a motorman for the United Railways, it is said.

Head of Missouri State Life
York

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—After having distributed between $500 and $600 in tips to the employees of the Ritz-Carlton hotel in New York last Saturday and Sunday, J. S. Kendall, president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. of St. Louis, was involuntarily placed in the psychiatric ward of the Bellevue hospital there, according to dispatches.

New York failed to understand the unusual generosity of the St. Louisan, brought about according to officials of the company, by celebration over a successful business deal. An official who talked with Kendall over the long distance telephone said Kendall explained to him that he was merely gleeful over some business matters which had been cleared up and staged a celebration. He pronounced it absurd that any one should think his mind affected.

Kendall and George Graham, a vice president of the company, went to New York a week ago on a business trip. Kendall was accompanied by his wife. They were staying at the Pennsylvania hotel until Saturday, when they moved to the Ritz-Carlton. The business matters had been cleared up then and Kendall, according to the explanation, became hilarious. Saturday afternoon he began giving away money among the employees of the hotel. Two, five and ten dollar bills were taken from a roll which he carried in his pocket and distributed indiscriminately.

The generosity caused guests at the hotel to become alarmed. Mrs. Kendall then called in a physician and at 5 p. m. Sunday, Kendall was bundled into an ambulance and taken to Bellevue hospital.

Kendall formerly was an investment banker of Dallas, Tex. He was elected president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. Sept. 27, 1913, following a contest of Texas and Missouri interests controlling the company. He then removed to St. Louis and has been making his home at Portland place and Kings highway.

Trench Drama Told on Stained Paper

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—About the most gruesome souvenir yet received from France has just been received from Corporal Julius M. Adams, One Hundred and Tenth Aero Squadron, in France.

The souvenir is just a tiny piece of blood-stained paper, but it brings a story of gripping drama. This is the message that accompanied the scrap of paper:

"I took this off the wall of a German billet. It contains the names of the men who slept there before I threw a hand grenade and cleaned out the bunch."

The names on the blood-stained paper are: Dendeburn, Pointek, Finger, Lange, Dorer, Dinkler, Rabenstein, Schulte, Bankye, Bulke, Luge, Schmarzenberger, Hess and Dobs.

Rolls Dice, but Gets 'Eleven' from Court

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—"To fine or not to fine, that is the question," mused Recorder Johnson when dusky William Shakespeare, charged with rolling dice, told his name.

"How about it, Bard of Avon?" queried his honor.

Reciting a "Winter of discontent" Bill told of a lot of hard luck and acknowledged "rolling the bones."

"Eleven bones," quote the judge, and called the next case.

Mrs. Grady further alleges her husband refused to bathe, and when she remonstrated with him, told her it was "none of her damn business."

CAT GIVES FIRE ALARM

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—A black cat who answers the call of "Alice" and is the pet of the Clinton street market district, gave an alarm that prevented a serious fire. Special Officer Donnelly heard Alice's cry, and upon investigation discovered the fire. Alice was the cause of calling attention to a fire in the same place just three years ago.

EAGLE "STEALS" TRAP

EAST HADDAM, Conn., Feb. 19.—W. F. Clarke, a trapper, missed one of his traps from the place where he had set it recently. A three-pound stone was attached to the trap and this also was missing. Later he saw an eagle which had been making its eyrie in the vicinity flying overhead with the trap, stone and all, caught on one of its talons.

GLASS IS STIFF IN BONE DRY LAW MAKING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Legislation with a "kick" in it is the style of Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass in enforcing wartime prohibition.

The Anti-Saloon league forces even admit that he can give them pointers on writing real "bone dry" prohibition and that their claims for enforcement legislation are modest in comparison. Mr. Glass was asked by the house judiciary committee to suggest any changes that should be made in the Barkley enforcement bill, Anti-Saloon league's plan, and his reply was read to a subcommittee of the judiciary committee today.

Representative Barkley, author of the pending bill; E. C. Dinwiddie, executive secretary, and Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, were present. They gasped as the clerk read the Glass amendments and then smiled at one another with incredulity.

"He's no piker," whispered Mr. Barkley to Mr. Dinwiddie, evidently referring to Mr. Glass.

"That certainly shows that what we asked for was a minimum at least," openly declared Mr. Wheeler to the subcommittee when the reading was concluded.

Representative Whaley of South Carolina thought Mr. Glass had covered the whole ground.

"I see there is nothing about divorce in that—about the only thing left out," he finally said.

The subcommittee reached no conclusion on a bill to be reported, but will probably adopt some of the proposals by Mr. Glass. Another meeting will be held Monday. Anti-Saloon league officials are getting nervous as the end of the session nears for fear they will have no legislation to enforce war-time prohibition when it goes into effect next July.

WHO'S THERE, ASKS VICTIM; NO ONE, SAYS THE THIEF

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—"Who's there?" demanded William Whitcraft from the head of the stairs in his home at midnight.

"No one," came a voice from below, and a pistol shot followed rapidly the closing of the front door.

Investigation developed a diamond ring, gold watch and chain and seal-skin cap, valued at $53 and $13 in cash missing.

LOVE, OPERA
SINGER SAYSBelieves She Has Passed from Mortal Sphere and Body
and Soul Divided

SWOONED AT VOLCANO

Madame Mariska Aldrich Davis
Tells Experiences in 'Velvet of Utter Night'That she has experienced death three times in her career—being brought back to life by the power of love—is the remarkable statement of Mariska Aldrich Davis, made today.Her first experience came when she swooned on gazing into the lurid depths of the volcano Kilauea's crater, in the Hawaiian islands.Her other "deaths"—as she views them—were phases of a serious illness through which she passed.Each time, she firmly believed, she passed from the mortal sphere. She believes her soul left her body and that love alone was the revitalizing, resurrective force that brought it back.Telling of her trip to the volcano, when she had her first weird experience, she said that as she reached the edge of the crater the awe-inspiring magnificence of it overcame her.
Gasping, she swooned, and was not revived for several hours.

FLOATED IN SPACE

On regaining consciousness she was able to give the most exact description of the crater and its surroundings, stating that she had felt herself floating over the volcano and looking down into its depths.

This occurred two years ago.

Last November Mme. Davis was taken seriously ill, and this time she seemed, one night, to have indeed slipped into the other world as she lay with her daughter's arms about her.Her heart and pulse to all intents and purposes had ceased their functioning and the pallor of death appeared upon her brow.On her return to consciousness she was able, quite clearly, to tell her experiences.

VOID OF BLACKNESS

Again she was floating—this time in a gigantic endless void of utter blackness. "Blackness that could almost be felt, so thick and velvet and menacing was it. No sound penetrated the great spaces in which she floated—no light—no consciousness of pain or pleasure. Only the deep, sullen midnight darkness surrounded her ever floating body.Two days later a similar condition occurred—again family and physicians thought the end had come.
Indeed, Madame Davis' daughter Meeka speaks seriously of "when mother died."Again she was lost in the velvet of utter night—her body and soul divided. Only this time, while eternity was born, she floated toward a narrow ribbon of overpowering light —blinding in its intensity.Again she returned to this world, called each time by love, or so the artist believes.

RECALLED BY LOVE

"Both times," says Madame Davis,
"I was recalled to this world by the strength of love—first my daughter and then my husband. Had I been alone I should never have 'come back' and had I gone a third time I know
I should have beheld that entire land from which the powerful blinding stream of light gleamed—which would have meant the end."Madame Davis, known better as Mariska Aldrich, has never studied the occult, but she has never denied the possibility of anything because she herself has never experienced it.Woman, Shot by Own

Plea for COMPLETE Change in Management of State School for Girls Should Be Heeded

REPRESENTING the women of California, five prominent clubwomen have appeared before Governor Stephens and insisted on a complete change in the management of the State School for Girls at Ventura.

These representative women demand not only sweeping reforms at the school and drastic changes in the personnel of the management of the school, but they go farther and INSIST ON A COMPLETE REORGANIZATION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE SCHOOL, WITH AT LEAST THREE OF THE FIVE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD "NEW BLOOD" NOT AFFILIATED IN ANY WAY WITH THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION OF THE SCHOOL OR THE PRESENT BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

It is stated that at this time three of the five trustees of the Ventura school are merely carrying on duties which there is no official reason for them continuing. The terms of two of these trustees have expired and a third trustee has resigned.

Governor Stephens, therefore, has a perfect right now to fill these vacancies that exist on the board. Without removing any member of the board and without causing recriminations, the governor may appoint to these three places three women who will effect the necessary changes in the policies of the Ventura state school.

The supervisors of the county of Los Angeles have already gone on record as refusing to send any more girls from Los Angeles to the Ventura state school unless sweeping reforms are made.

The clubwomen's committee, representing tens of thousands of California women, told Governor Stephens yesterday that they did not believe sweeping reforms would be made unless there was a majority of "new blood" on the board of trustees.

These women have carefully perused all the reports on the Ventura school.

The official findings of the State Board of Charities and Corrections said:

That there had been incarceration of girls in the "No Privilege" cottage at the school for long periods of time—in one instance 93 days.

That girls had been "hosed"—that is that water had been violently squirted on them with a three-inch fire hose held by an official of the school.

That girls had been given hypodermic injections of apomorphine for the purpose of producing nausea.

That girls were given baths in tubs of floating ice.

That mouth washes of cayenne pepper were given.

The girls in "No Privilege" cottage were in unheated cement cells.

BUT IN THE VERY FACE OF THESE FINDINGS BY THE STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF VENTURA SCHOOL MAKES THIS REPORT:

"It is again our pleasure to express our continued confidence in the superintendent, Mrs. C. M. Weymann. We wish to express our hearty appreciation of Mrs. Weymann's devotion to and enthusiasm for the work of the school, the success of which is due to her efforts and the co-operation of her teachers and assistants."

What sort of a "house-cleaning" would a board having a majority assenting to this praise of the Ventura school make?

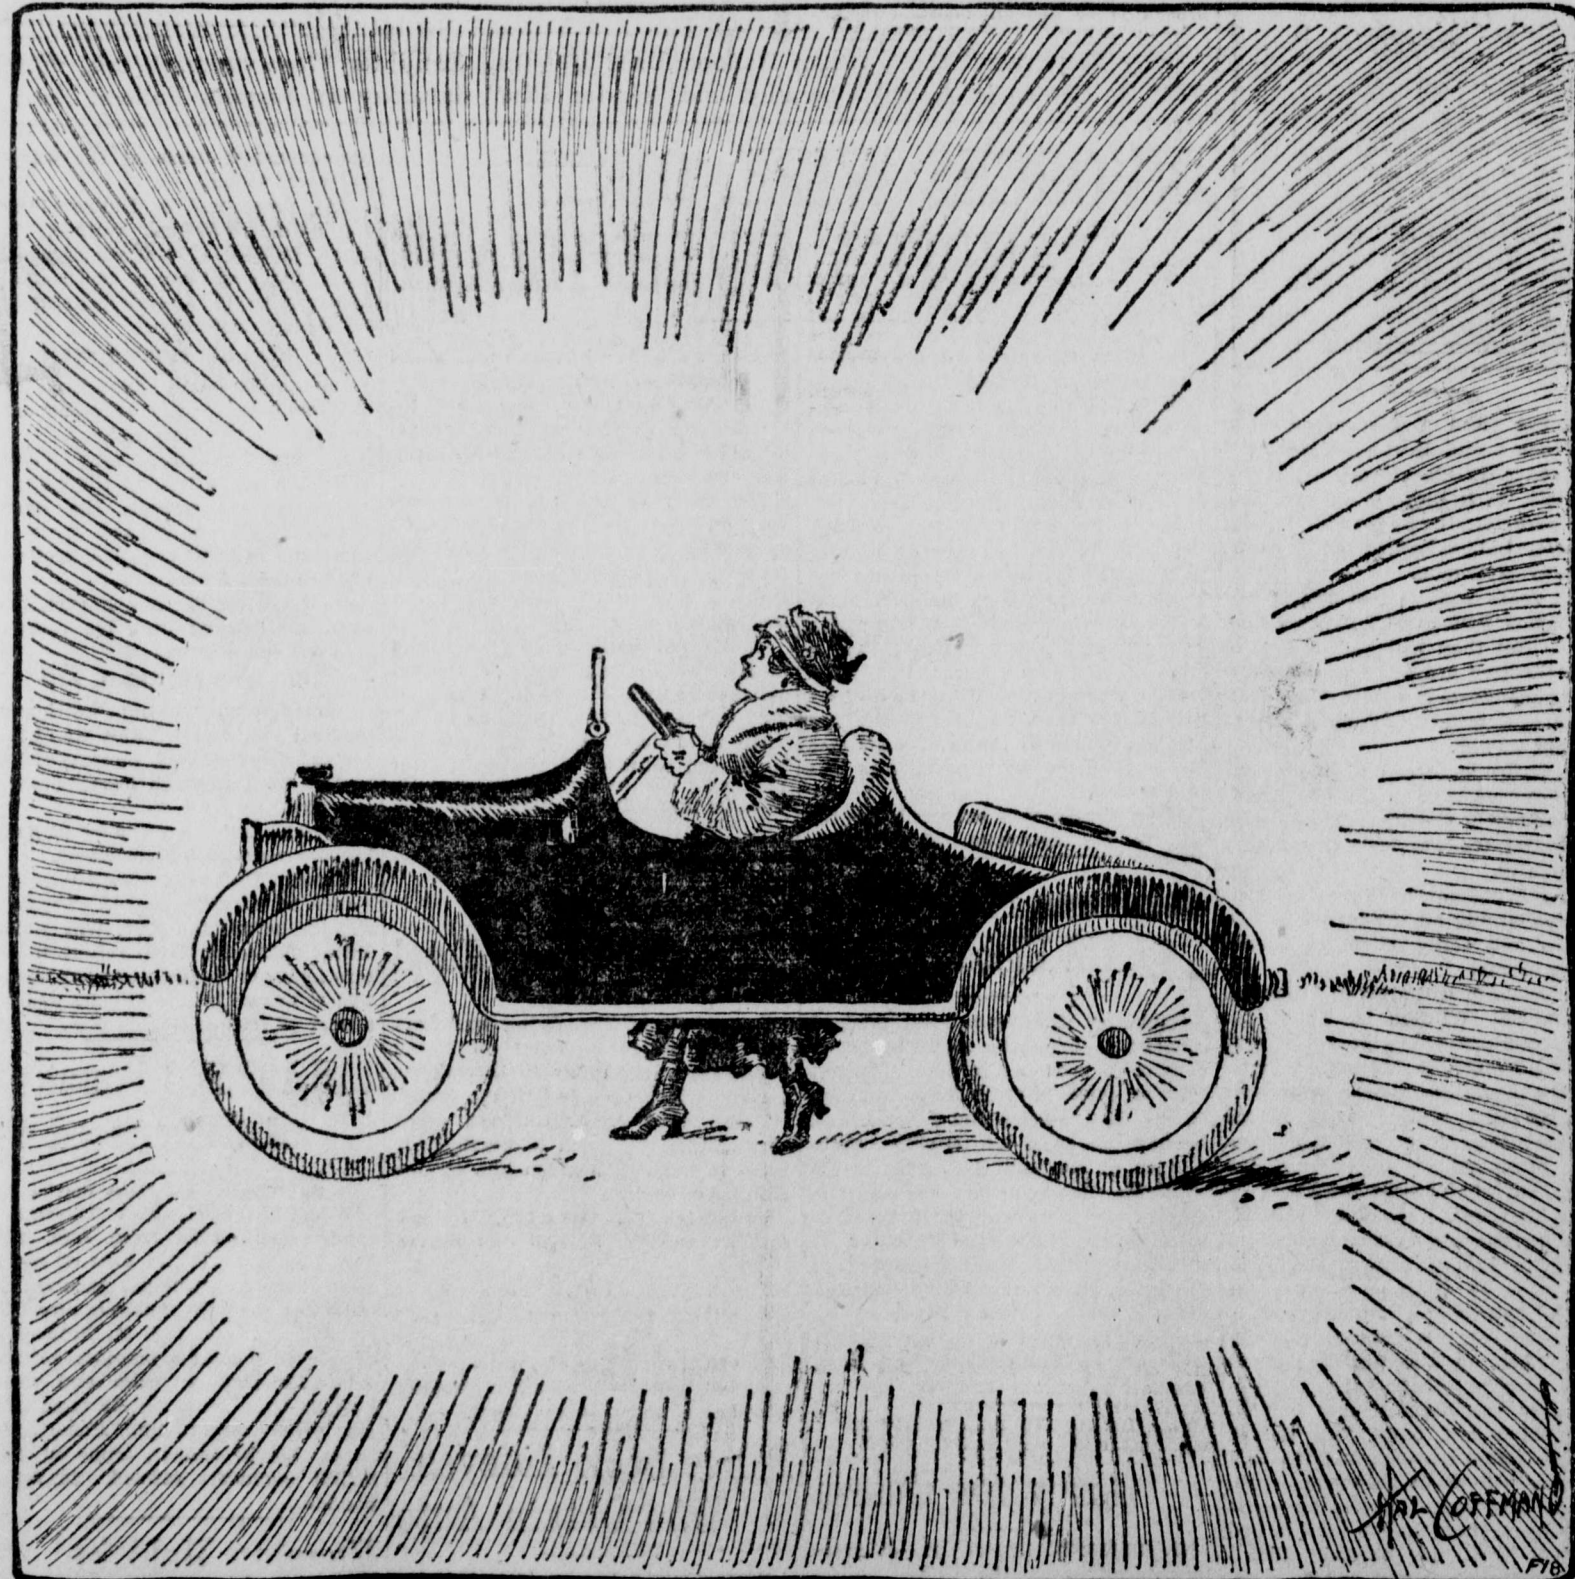

The clubwomen, representing the women of California, who called on Governor Stephens yesterday, told the governor plainly that they expected no reforms of real value unless the whole administration of the school was changed and new ideals and vision for the school were introduced.

It is to be hoped that Governor Stephens will act on broad grounds of public policy and will not allow political considerations to influence him against the appeal of the women of California.

BRING HIM HOME WITH THE REST

WHOM ARE YOU FOOLING?

Mrs. Fumididdle lives in the next block. Mrs. Fumididdle moves in our set and her husband makes $10,000 a year. My husband makes $5000. Of course it's nothing to me, but they have just bought a new car. Our car is last year's, so we are going to get a better car than the Fumididdles. Her gowns and dinners are very expensive and I don't want her to have anything on me—so my gowns and dinners are just as expensive as hers. I hear they are terribly in debt, but that's nothing—so are we. We owe the butcher, the grocer, the baker and the tailor more than the Fumididdles do anyway. The grocer was rude enough today to say: "Nothing more 'til you have paid your bill." The very idea! I shall get a new grocer. My husband says his firm's business is awfully dull since the war and he may be let out. I'm sure I don't know what's to be done. I wouldn't have the Fumididdles know of it for the world.

Try Not to Overeat

By DR. W. A. MCKEEVER

PEOPLE are dying at all ages from the disease of overeating. The food which is an excess quickly becomes poison when taken into the body, and at once a hindrance to the working of the muscle or the brain to its full capacity.

Food poisoning is rather difficult to detect, but it is common to children as well as to adults. One may be plump and fat and the "very picture of health" to the casual observer and yet on the verge of illness from a clogged system. Such a person is especially lacking in the reserve strength so necessary to combat freely such a disease as influenza.

"A healthy child is a hungry child," says a wise physician. That is, he is very hungry at the beginning of each meal and his appetite still has a thin edge when he quits. Such a child is also comparatively quick in his lessons and alert in his attention to every assigned task.

If some parents would give a little less attention to the training of their children to "eat nice and proper" and a little more attention to the quality and the quantity of the food eaten we would have more uniform good health among the young.

No, I do not mean here to urge fasting and semi-starvation for children—nothing of that character, but simply enough to eat, and nothing more. Therefore, watch the "big eater" among your flock. He is the one most likely to be threatened, if not actually afflicted, with incipient disease.

You cannot turn something into nothing. Food is food, and it must be transmuted into blood or bone or heat or energy—or poison. Too often it is the last named, an undigested mass of poison remaining overlong in the stomach and intestines and absorbed as poison—what we call auto-intoxication.

Unfortunately the child whose system is clogged constantly with more food than he can assimilate does not always manifest any outward disturbance of body or mind. But when he reaches full bodily development with the overeating as a fixed habit he is almost certainly started on a long period of broken or breaking health.

In a case of this kind the appetite often becomes even more abnormal and the craving for food practically beyond the control of the will. In not a few cases I have watched both men and women—outwardly appearing healthy—slowly bring themselves to chronic illness or an early death by the poisonous habit of overeating.

See that your children have an average quantity of food of good quality and make almost a religion of feeding them at certain regular intervals. They should be reasonably plump and round with a ruddy glow of the skin and a clear luster in the eyes.

If you occasionally commit the sin of permitting your children to over-partake of rich food, better administer a purgative at once and free their systems of the burden. Enough is a plenty and more is a poison. Have them quit each meal while still a bit hungry.

THREE-MINUTE JOURNEYS

Where Restaurants Are Kept in the Open Streets
By TEMPLE MANNING

IT seems strange, indeed, that there should be a land where the customs haven't changed in 3000 years. And perhaps strangest of all is it that this land where things are done as they were 30 centuries ago should be Palestine, the Holy Land, which gave the two great monotheistic religions, Judaism and Christianity, to the world. Very progressive in thought in the old days, Palestine today is willing to live just as the inhabitants did ages ago.

One of the oddities of many a city in Palestine is the variety of ways the traveler may get his daily food. He may engage it to be served him in what answers for a hotel, or he may buy it of small restaurant-keepers, who open streets. A picture of one such street restaurant in Jerusalem was drawn from a photograph taken not very long ago.

Set in the street by the edge of what would be the sidewalk in one of our cities, this primitive restaurant consists merely of a box or two for a larder, and a tiny charcoal fire. Out of one of the boxes the restaurant keeper, who is his own cook, takes a tiny bit of meat, thrusts it upon an iron spit, and turns it over the fire until it is cooked. Then he hands it to the hungry customer who squats on the pavement and devours it with whatever the other delicacies he wishes and the restaurateur has to offer.

All this time—indeed, almost from sunup to sundown—the restaurateur smokes his water-pipe or narghile. First of all—even before business—he believes in comfort.

Contented is he when he has his larder full of the bits of meat and the odd, flat loaves of bread that form the bulk of the meals he sells. Customers may come or they may not appear.

If the worst comes to the worst the restaurateur and his family can eat the stock—which is one of the advantages of being in the restaurant business. This is the logic of the Arab, who is happy only when he's perfectly comfortable.

"ONCE OVERS"

"DADDY, I'll get breakfast for you; mother has a headache," exclaimed a little girl 10 minutes before the alarm went off.

But after one more snooze and a toilet which included shaving, Dad found little daughter still prinking and she hadn't been near the kitchen. "But it was so hard to lace my shoes," and "I could not find my big apron," was the excuse offered.

That little maiden, with the loving, helpful spirit, did not get anywhere with the morning meal because she did not get anything started. If she had had the teakettle boiling and the oven or toaster hot, she might have finished her own efforts at dressing later.

But she did not get a start. You will never get to the office at a given time if you do not start. You cannot be ready with the trial balance on the first day of the month if you do not start for it about as soon as you have finished the last one.

The whole thing is getting started right. There are heaps and heaps of good folk in this world who are just as short-sighted as the little girl who never accomplished anything because they never jump in and get started on time.

Shafts of Sunshine

Precedents mean nothing to some Presidents.

If we were Betsy-rossing it for the Czecho-Slovak nation we'd rig them up a Czeched flag.

Did we understand the gentleman to say that government by Bolsheviks was government by the "rank and file"—or did he mean "rank and vile?"

"Wheel me nearer to the window," said the dying John Barleycorn, "nearer tonight so that I may see the moonshine still."

The chorister desires to call attention to a slight change in the first line of the chorus—"Deutschland Ebert Alles."

Are you inclined to be short? Then straighten up.

Lots of people favor home rule—if it is some other fellow's home, and they can frame the rules.

We'll say the ex-kaiser spends a lot of time practicing to say "not guilty" first in one language and then in another.

Pooh wasn't nearly so frightened at the Germans threatening not to sign the armistice extension as perhaps they thought he would be.

Congress talks much, but seldom convinces anybody of anything.

Deporting undesirables is another application of the principle of the Recall.

Doctor's Advice in Influenza

The first thing the doctor asks is whether or not the bowels are open and regular. If not he advises the use of a thorough cathartic. That is the first step in combating this dreadful sickness.

Doctors advise the use of a thorough cathartic in influenza prevention too. A cathartic which will completely empty the bowels of food waste and stop fermentation and the dangerous poisons thus created and absorbed into the blood. This is a vital part of the influenza prevention.

Your druggist has a new, really pleasant tasting salts, a thorough laxative that will completely empty the digestive tract, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed. It is called SALINOS and is effective even if taken in cold water. Get a bottle for a quarter (larger sizes fifty cents and a dollar). Be safe! Take it tomorrow morning.—Advertisement.

L. A. High Graduate, Gassed on French Front, Is Back Home

After 15 months overseas service, Corp. Tracy Fulton, son of E. L. Fulton of 422 East Avenue Twenty-eight and member of the Rainbow division, One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, Company E, returned home today.

Corporal Fulton was gassed on Aug. 26 in the fighting about Chateau Thierry, and for the past five months had been in base hospitals 11 and 32 recuperating. He was finally transferred to the Letterman hospital in San Francisco.

"No one can imagine the sights which we saw," he said today. "Once I found myself in a field of 25,000 German dead in the Champagne sector. The horrors of battle, though, are something we all want to forget, not relate."

"On some fronts there was a perpetual pour—on others the firing was intermittent. I have lived in everything from muddy trenches to little holes in the ground which I have dug for myself."

"The two toughest fights I saw was the second battle of the Marne and the hundred and ten days under continual fire on the Lorraine front."

The young corporal was graduated from the Los Angeles high school in the summer of 1913 and was attending the junior college there when he enlisted.

PRISONER, NOW IN L.A., TELLS HUN CRUELTY

Taken prisoner while in mid-Atlantic by a Hun raider, carried with 500 other prisoners to Kiel, and thence to a German prison camp, Paul Phillips, British seaman, has arrived in Los Angeles with vivid tales of Prussian brutality.

Phillips is the 33-year-old son of Mrs. Matilda Phillips of 151 South Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena. He enlisted when the war broke out as a seaman on an English admiralty ship. His ship was captured by the German raider, "Moewe," on March 10, 1917.

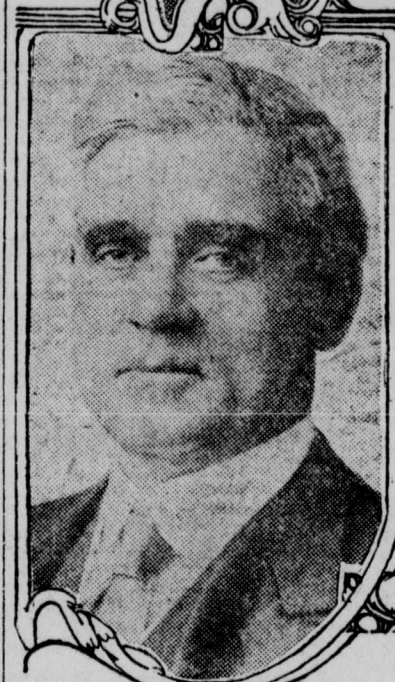

"Barley coffee, two ounces of bread for breakfast and at noon and night a bowl of thin turnip soup, was our menu," said Phillips today. "It never varied."

"We reached Kiel on March 23 and were transported at once to Dulman, where we were imprisoned for two months. En route there we were given but one bowl of thin soup every 26 hours. From Dulman we went to Brandenburg, where we were treated even worse. We were at Luck when the armistice was signed."

"Although our clothes were half torn off us we were made to work on the docks or in the coal mines for 12 and 16 hours a day with no time off for Sunday even. And all this time our rations consisted of barley coffee and turnip soup."

"Except for the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. food sent in to us, we would every one of us have perished from starvation—as many did anyway."

BISHOP CANTWELL AND JOSEPH SCOTT, WHO IS GIVEN MEDAL

LAETARE MEDAL TO BE GIVEN JOS. SCOTT

Marking the first time the honor has been conferred on a person residing west of the Mississippi river, the Laetare Medal, awarded annually by the University of Notre Dame, will be presented to Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, tomorrow evening.

The presentation exercises will take place at Shrine auditorium, with the Right Reverend John J. Cantwell, bishop of the see of Monterey and Los Angeles, presiding.

The formal speech of presentation will be made by the Very Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president of the Notre Dame university. The Knights of Columbus will be officially represented by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia.

The Laetare medal is the most highly coveted honor within reach of the Catholic laity of the country and the list of Laetare medalists includes the names of the most prominent Catholic men and women.

In the announcement of the award of the honor to Attorney Scott it was stated that the honor was conferred upon him for his "high spirited industry, which has made him a leader in California," his work as founder of the Newman club, his nation-wide tours as an apologist for Catholic principle, and, finally, because "he is, in the broadest and best sense of the word, a man."

Explains to Court in $65 Bad Check Case

William L. Gross, charged with issuing a fictitious check for $65, explained to Justice Summerfield that the check was issued in good faith. He declared that he and his wife used a joint bank account. Mrs. Gross drew all of the funds from the bank, while P. F. Mahoney, to whom Gross issued the $65 check, held it a month before cashing it. Gross was released on his own recognizance pending a hearing of the case. In the meantime Gross will have an independent bank account, he declared.

Theater 'Comeback' Is Talk of the Town

Cathryn Adams at Alhambra and Harland Tucker at Morosco.

By GUY PRICE

THE theater has "come back." The flu having flown, and Amusement Alley has settled down to the task of entertaining the public—and making ends meet.

The month of January was a record-breaker, according to information gathered from managers and owners. Not since long before the epidemic, which closed the theaters tight, and even after the board of health permitted them to reopen, left business so shattered that many could have saved by keeping closed, have the playhouses, legitimate, vaudeville and movies alike, been the magnet for so many persons.

During last month and this month to date there has been a steady, growing line of patrons at the various box offices. Sell-outs are as frequent now as empty houses were before. For instance, the picture theater that found it extremely difficult to muster an audience for one show several weeks ago, at present is put to its wits' end to take care of the overflow, both in the afternoon and in the evening, particularly the latter. And the demand for entertainment is becoming greater day by day, with the result that there is no indication when high tide will be reached.

The movie trade has increased fully 100 per cent, according to a prominent exhibitor, while, foot-lightedly speaking, the uninterrupted run of "Yes or No" at the Morosco explains legitimate conditions. If that is insufficient try some afternoon or night to obtain desirable seats at the Orpheum, Fanchers or other vaudeville theaters. Down at the Majestic, Faversham and Elliott are drawing almost capacity, with an assurance of a week exceeding $15,000 gross, and the Mason, with "Pollyanna," is polling a big financial vote in spite of the play being a repeater.

Similar conditions prevail throughout the country. Every city is patronizing its amusements with a gusto and generosity known only in the them-was-the-good-old-days period. San Francisco, for example, is reported to be enjoying a theatrical prosperity wave even unusual for that city, where the citizens are supposed to live in the theaters and cafes.

Yes, it's quite true that the world in general and Los Angeles in particular has gone recreation-mad.

But go to it—you can't make the theater men mad.

Theater Notes

"The Turn in the Road," running along to splendid business in its eighth week at Quinn's Rialto, is a great illustration of the public's appreciation of a manager who has the ability to pick clean, wholesome pictures. Everyone gives J. A. Quinn credit for the knowledge of the likes of the public necessary in catering to their desires and his firm stand for "better pictures" is the outcome of many years in the amusement business. That the public and well as the members of the picture industry are with him in this movement, is best illustrated by the crowded houses at Quinn's Rialto week after week to see this remarkable picture. Arthur Loeb continues to get liberal applause with his pictures and description of the dangers he has encountered as a government deep sea diver. There is a well chosen News-Views picture also.

The name of Theodore Roosevelt is in the minds and on the tongues of the entire nation. He will always live in the annals of history, and will always be remembered as the American Ideal. While this strenuous American was living he was acting so fast that it was almost impossible to follow him, and he did many notable things that failed to reach the public. "The Fighting Roosevelts" may be seen at Tally's Broadway this week.

Husband Deserted Her, Says Woman in Court, Asks Decree

Mrs. Lucretia J. Coates, who alleged her husband, Malachi Wilson Coates, was living at Ramona Acres and that he and Mrs. Verlie Hope Fuller posed as husband and wife, was in Judge Wood's court today seeking a divorce.

Mrs. Coates first instituted an action for maintenance and Coates and Mrs. Fuller filed answers denying her charges.

Coates then filed a cross-complaint through Attorney George Carter, asking for a divorce on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Coates then came back with a cross-complaint to the cross-complaint in which she sought a divorce, alleging her husband deserted her.

Coates did not appear in court when the case was called for trial and Judge Wood will attempt to unravel the tangle with the aid of the plaintiff and her witnesses late today.

$360 Offered for Wreck of School

The opinion of Long Beach contractors and wrecking companies as to the benefits to be derived from wrecking the American avenue school building, recently badly damaged by fire, is varied. This was shown today when the Long Beach board of education opened bids for the work of tearing down what remains of the structure.

The highest bidder asked for $2700 and salvage from the building for the work. The lowest bidder offered to pay the school board $360 for the opportunity to tear down the structure and retain the wreckage.

Woman, 78, Tries to End Her Life

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a teaspoonful of this Hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a tea-cupful at any time. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

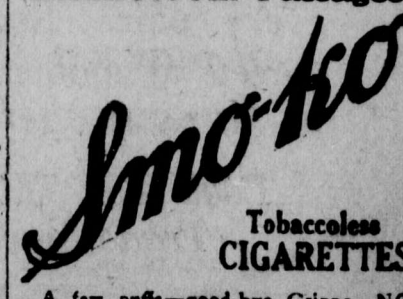

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of this powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes in liquid form, or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advertisement.

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

A Cincinnati Barber Tells How to Make a Remedy for Gray Hair.

Mr. Frank Harbaugh of Cincinnati, O., who has been a barber for more than forty years, recently made the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

Revelations of a Wife Why Lillian Made to Madge the Strongest Declaration of Her Life

IN the hall of Mrs. Durkee's house, for the last few weeks "the house of mystery," there is a large closet diagonally across from the library. Toward this Lillian moved swiftly, noiselessly, while I, toiling after her, felt my breath coming unevenly in wonder as to the thing she meant to do.

She paused at the door, bent her ear to the keyhole—being careful, however, not to obstruct the light—and listened. Then she beckoned me to do likewise. As I did so, I distinctly heard the sound of suppressed breathing.

She gripped my arm, and showed me a heavy cloth reeking of floor oil, shut in the crack of the door. And then, indicating by a gesture that I was to hurry on, she inserted the key which she held into the lock and turned it.

The following minute she was by my side hurrying toward the door and the next we were both upon the side veranda, exchanging careless perfunctory nothings with Dr. Pettit.

It wasn't until we were entirely within our own grounds that I ventured a question.

"Kato?" I asked.

"Kato, of course," she answered. "And that doddering old idiot—I beg your pardon, Madge, I really can't help my adjectives—won't hear a word against him. I doubt if he would be convinced even at the sight of his faithful one doubled up in the closet where he dodged when I opened the door."

HAPPY GIGGLES HELPS DOTTY

"OH, dear!" exclaimed Dotty as she stood at the gate and watched her little girl friends go laughing down the road. "I can't do anything, have anything or see anything I want to." Two big tears ran down her cheeks and splashed on her pretty white apron. "It's a horrid old world. I wish I lived in Fairyland."

"Tut! Tut!" laughed a merry voice, and Dotty looked up to see her little elfin friend, Happy Giggles, smiling at her from his perch on the gate post. "What's all this wishing you lived in Fairyland?"

"So I could do something I want to do once in a while," pouted Dotty. "Now the girls are going to have a picnic and I can't go. Mama just won't let me do anything. I other little girl's mamas always let them do what they want to."

"Oh, dear me!" laughed Happy Giggles. "Here you are this lovely bright morning feeling sorry for yourself. If mama sees best to keep you at home why not play with your toys instead of pouting and fussing?"

"But all my toys are old," sobbed Dotty. "I haven't anything worth while to play with. There are all my dolls—either their hair is lost or some of their arms or legs are gone, and it's no fun playing with broken toys!"

"Perhaps not so much fun as playing with brand new ones," replied Happy Giggles, "but just think of the millions of little folks in this great, big world that haven't even broken toys to play with. Those are the ones you should be feeling sorry for yourself. If little ones like you would only stop and count the many good things they have every one would be happy instead of sad."

"That's just it!" exclaimed Dotty. "I haven't anything!"

"Why, yes you have!" laughed the elfin, pointing to Dotty's two little feet. "You have two perfectly good feet that should be running around having a merry time. Think of the little ones who haven't good feet to play on. And you have two perfectly good arms and hands and a lovely mouth that should never pout. Why, dear little girl, this old world has been kind to you to give you all these blessings, besides a lovely mama who always knows just what's best for you even if you can't see it yourself. Just remember when you feel pouty and sorry for yourself that this old world is full of folks who need your sympathy more than you do yourself."

"I never thought of that," exclaimed Dotty with a smile. "I just thought I was abused, but I'll know better after this!"

When mama called her into the house Dotty ran in with a song and a smile on her lips, and before very long the rain began to pour down and Dotty sat at the window and watched her little friends return from their outing all wet. Then she decided that Happy Giggles was right when he said mamas always know what's best for their little ones. She was glad indeed that she hadn't gone to the picnic.

The Dangerous Age Beatrice Fairfax Pens Article All Women Should Read

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IT was a very blind world that used to take it for granted that middle-aged women have outgrown romantic love.

Love?—and ever afterward, home and fireside and housekeeping, the cook book and the sewing machine. Whether a woman was married or single, whether she had known love or had only dreamed of it, the fires of romance were supposed punctually to die in her at the threshold of middle age.

Then, two or three years ago, a European writer set the world gossiping by publishing a book called "The Dangerous Age." Dangerous, that is, because of its romantic susceptibility. Dangerous, because while it is particularly hungry for romantic love, romantic love isn't always within its reach. You see, we're not speaking of eighteen and nineteen, the time when romance promptly answers to romance. No, the "dangerous age" is—forty.

Eighteen and nineteen don't understand this idea in the least. They are incredulous and derisive. Everybody's safely married at forty, they protest. Everybody has a husband and a household of children. Isn't that the end of short of scandalous for a woman at that time of life to talk of romance?

But the truth is, of course, that there are plenty of women in the world who arrive at middle age with hearts unsatisfied. There are widows who have known a brief season of love, then a long period of loneliness, and who at 40, still young and with a keen zest for life, feel within themselves such possibilities of romance as 20 only gets a glimpse of.

There are unmarried women who have lost their lovers. There are others who never found the love ideal that their fastidious youth demanded. At 40 life has taught these women a good deal. They feel that above all other things they have learned how to love. And their lonely natures do cry out for an object to spend this love on.

Isn't it entirely natural and reasonable?

A deeply interesting instance of this has just come to light in the love-letters written by the brilliant Englishwoman, Anne Gilchrist, to our great American poet, Walt Whitman.

Mrs. Gilchrist was a widow. She hadn't cared deeply for her husband. He hadn't in the least typified romance for her. She was the affectionate mother of four children. She had a wide circle of friends, including the foremost writers and artists of England. She cared for books and poetry. And she was a little more than 40. That is, she was at the very height of the dangerous age.

Then Walt Whitman became famous the world over by publishing his wonderful book of poems called "Leaves of Grass."

The poems showed how deeply he understood the realities of life. To the lonely Englishwoman they were like a personal volume crying loudly and directly to her hungry heart.

With perfect simplicity and naturalness she answered the cry.

Love Letters to a Poet

She wrote Whitman a long letter, indeed a series of letters, telling him of the profound personal love that his poems had awakened in her, and asking if he granted that he, too, would be ready to love her and claim her for his wife.

It was intensely romantic. And the letters themselves were the very breath of romance.

"My love rises up out of the weary depths of grief and triumphs upon despair," she wrote him. "I can wait—any time—a lifetime, any lifetime—I can suffer, I can dare, I can learn, grow, toil, but nothing in life or death can tear out of my heart the passionate belief that one day I shall hear that voice."

It was tragic that Whitman could never answer her in his own language, the language of passionate love. Instead he wrote her kindly, gently, briefly and therefore discouragingly. Yet after a few years he had undiscouraged, Mrs. Gilchrist came to this country with her children and came to know Walt Whitman as a friend.

Two years later, when she went back to England, she, who wanted so much more, had learned the hard lesson of accepting the past as it was. Since Whitman could not meet her love with love, she found a way to quiet that tumultuous heart of hers. And her dangerous age was over.

No 20-year-old girl could love with the sustained fervor that Ann Gilchrist did during the five unrequited years that she addressed continual outpourings to that poet across the seas whose face she had never seen, whose voice she had never heard.

Mature Love Unrewarded

A woman must live considerably beyond 20 before she thoroughly understands the capacities of her own heart and gets near to the real meanings of life.

But the unhappy truth has to be faced that by the time she has learned to love in the most thorough and big-hearted way the chances are considerable against her finding a heart that can answer to her own.

Beauty Hints

By LUCREZIA BORI

THE woman who is enmeshed in a busy world of work or society should realize the effect that relaxation will have on her appearance. It is a great beautifier.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and the same is true of Jill. Likewise all work will make Jill a tired, old-looking woman before her time if she does not relax properly. And, strangely enough, all play does the same thing. Indeed, too much playing, which is another word for pleasure seeking, is sometimes more killing to beauty than really hard work.

Sleep is a great beautifier and restorer, but too much sleep and not enough exercise in the outdoor air is conducive to increasing the weight.

Relaxation is a rest between two periods of activity. Over-indulgence in relaxation becomes mere laziness, which is as destructive of beauty as the most tiring and ceaseless activity.

Allowing yourself to drift into habits of over-activity or over-relaxation will prove ruinous to both your beauty and your health.

On the other hand, the woman who is always tense and nervous is wearing herself out more rapidly than a man employed at hard muscular labor. This tenseness takes immense toll of her looks. The power to relax completely when nervous fatigue requires it is one of the best tonics for beauty in the world.

Resting Mind and Body

When nervous fatigue comes upon you and it is at all possible, sit down or lie down and "let go." Let your muscles hang limp, and let your mind be perfectly empty of any care in the world. Special exercises are often helpful in acquiring the power of relaxation. Raise both your hands above your head with your arms perfectly straight, and then try to reach an imaginary point three or four inches above the tips of your fingers.

In doing this try to stretch your spine, as well as your arms, as much as possible. Then suddenly relax and let your arms fall to your side. If they are perfectly limp and swing back and forth at your sides you have relaxed perfectly. Repeat this exercise several times.

Another relaxing exercise is this: While sitting on a couch or bed raise both your hands. Bring your arms in front of you to about the level of your shoulders; stretch your hands as far forward as possible without bending your body. Relax, letting your body and arms fall back limply on the bed. Repeat a number of times.

Now lie down and with the tips of your toes (first with one foot, then the other, and then with both) try to reach some point just beyond them. Try with both finger tips and the tips of your toes to stretch out just as far as you can, as though you were seeing how long you could possibly make yourself. Do this first with your right foot and right hand, then with your left foot and left hand, then with both feet and both hands at the same time.

Exercise is Fine Aid

After a brief practice of these exercises let your body lie perfectly limp and at least for 15 or 20 minutes. Even without sleep such complete relaxation is extremely refreshing. A few minutes spent in the middle of the day will add wonderfully to your powers of work and endurance.

Thin, nervous, energetic women should seek more sleep than those whose tendency is toward an overfulness of form. Both types of physique must have exercise, the former to build up muscle and fatigue the body, thus inducing sound sleep; the latter to consume fatty tissue.

Eight hours is usually given as the proper amount of time for sleeping, although some physicians require less and some more.

Thought Him Safe

Little Tobias had been told, with sundry sound slaps that he was on no account to fight. So when he came in from school one day with, metaphorically speaking, "horned sails," he was startled to find his fond mother was riled.

"Tobias," she said, "where did you get that black eye? Didn't I tell you good little boys never fight?"

"Yes, an' I believed you, ma," said Tobias. "I was sure he was a good little boy till he hit him, then I found he wasn't."

SACRAMENTO VALLEY

Only $50 Per Acre
360 Acres

Ten Years to Pay

This land is situated within 15 miles of the heart of Sacramento, city of 75,000 people. This fine land was never offered before on a retail basis in small tracts, and the United States government recently shows this land almost, if not entirely, free from all of the usual taxes and charges. It is a beautiful tract, the land is all under the plow, the water, developed, but is water-bearing land. This soil is adapted to all crops, wheat, alfalfa, corn, etc. Full irrigated, also first-class peach, apricot, almond and Thompson grapes. A beautiful tract, a beautiful location for a home, or a business. The price is $50 per acre, balance over a period of ten years, ten annual payments, interest 6 per cent. No exchange.

We also have 400 acres of the same character of soil, only a little farther out, and quite so good, that we can sell for $57.50 per acre, same terms as above. But at this price, you can get a better bargain. If interested, we only have a few days to sell these two tracts, the share price is low. We may be able to divide tract to suit purchaser.

U. S. TO FORBID ARMED ATTACKS ON NICARAGUA

Naval Blockade to Be Employed if Necessary to Foil Costa Rica Plans

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The United States government will not permit an armed attack upon Nicaragua, if it takes an armed force to do it.

This became known here today following reports that Costa Rica, under the Tinoco government, was mobilizing a force, said to reach a total of 8000 men, along the Nicaraguan border.

Indications that Costa Rica believed the United States was too engrossed with the peace conference and league of nations to pay attention to the Monroe doctrine and the western hemisphere may be met with a display of force that may take the form of a navy squadron off its coast that would effectively blockade the country.

BERLIN BATTLES RED MOBS

ESSEN SEIZED AND BRIDGES DYNAMITED

Machine Guns Mounted; Break with Berlin and Fight for Separate Peace Loom

BERLIN, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—A mob made an unsuccessful effort today to storm the Moabit prison and liberate Karl Radek, the self-confessed agent of the Russian Bolsheviks in Germany.

Following his arrest recently, Radek admitted that he had assumed leadership of the German Reds after the death of Karl Liebknecht.

By H. J. GREENWALL

ESSEN, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—Essen, the seat of the great Krupp gun works, is in the hands of the soldiers' council and there is a talk of a break between this district and Berlin with the possibility of a separate peace for the Rhineland if the entente would consider such a proceeding.

Neither Berlin nor Weimar knows what is about to happen here.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP
Recruiting for the German national army has been stopped and the revolutionaries have mounted machine guns and are blowing up bridges around Essen.

While seeking a traveling pass at Essen I was asked by one member of the people's commissaries whether the entente would likely make a separate peace with the Rhineland. This German said that the people of this community wanted to break away from the rest of Germany. Burgomaster Hans Luher admitted to me that the soldiers' council is in control.

Senator Cites Dangers Possible in Agreement of World Powers

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Instead of bringing universal and enduring peace, a league of nations, based on the constitution read to the peace conference in Paris by President Wilson, will multiply the opportunity for war, Senator Miles Poindexter declared in the senate today.

Senator Poindexter opened the attack on the league of nations in violation of the President's request that debate be suspended until he could confer with senators and representatives. The attack was begun, he said, because "the freest discussion is necessary." While opponents of the league are asked to keep silent, proponents are busy arguing for approval of the constitution, he declared.

Five specific objections to the constitution were made by Senator Poindexter. They were:

FIVE OBJECTIONS
First—The determination of the degree of disarmament as required by the constitution.
Second—Compulsory arbitration of all questions of every kind, without exception.
Third—Commitment of every nation to participate in wars and controversies of every other nation and the assumption of guardianship of peoples of Europe, Asia and Africa.
Fourth—The formation of an international labor bureau to deal with internal social, economic and industrial problems.
Fifth—The surrender of the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations in arms and ammunition to the league.

Tiger of France

Premier Georges Clemenceau, who was shot by assassin in Paris. This photograph was taken while the noted statesman was visiting the battlefields.

CROWD TRIES TO KILL FRENCH RED WHO FIRED ON 'TIGER OF FRANCE'

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Georges Clemenceau, "the Tiger of France," premier of the French republic, and, with the possible exception of President Wilson, the greatest figure of the peace conference, was shot and seriously wounded by one of two assassins who attacked him shortly after 9 o'clock this morning as he was entering an automobile.

Five shots were fired at the premier. M. Clemenceau, according to latest reports, was wounded in three places. One wound was in the arm, another in the back and the third, the most serious of the three, was in the chest.

Physicians declare the premier will recover, although he is 78 years of age.

The assassin who fired the shots is declared by the police to be an 18-year-old youth named Cottin, who had absorbed Bolshevik doctrines. Cottin was seized by a mob and almost killed but was rescued by gendarmes who placed him in jail.

A great mob surrounded the prison and howled for the instant death of Cottin.

SECOND ARREST
A second person with Cottin at the time of the shooting has been arrested. The second man is declared to be a Russian Bolshevik.

When the second bullet struck M. Clemenceau he sank to the floor of the auto, but immediately arose without assistance and walked 50 feet back into his home.

"It is nothing," said the aged premier of his wounds. "The man was an enemy of the future of France."

Cottin, the youthful assassin, is declared to come from Compeigne. He is declared to be the constant associate of anarchists and Bolsheviks.

At the time the premier was shot he had just entered a limousine to be driven to the residence of Col. House, the American peace delegate, who had an engagement to discuss peace conference affairs with him at 10 o'clock.

UNAVOIDABLY DETAINED
Premier Clemenceau, after being wounded, calmly canceled this engagement, saying, "Present Col. House my compliments and inform him that I have been unavoidably detained from this morning's conference."

CLEMENCEAU, 78, TYPIFIES DAUNTLESS FRENCH SPIRIT

Premier Georges Clemenceau, the "Tiger of France," as he has been nicknamed because of his fighting proclivities, was born in 1841 and has long been a prominent figure in French public life. He is serving his second tenure as prime minister of France, having been selected by President Poincare to form a new cabinet in the stormy days of 1917.

He assembled a ministry on Nov. 16, 1917, taking the posts of premier and war minister himself.

When the peace conference formally met, M. Clemenceau was named permanent chairman. During the days of imperial France M. Clemenceau had to flee because of his republican political tendencies and lived for a while in the United States.

He taught French in a school at Stamford, Conn., and later married Mary Plummer, a New York girl, from whom he was subsequently divorced.

"The Tiger" served his first term as premier from 1906 to 1909. After his retirement he continued to wield a powerful influence through his newspaper. M. Clemenceau called his publication "The Freeman," but when the censorship became very strict after the outbreak of the war, he changed the name to "The Man in Chains." When "The Tiger" became premier himself for the second time he changed the name back to "The Freeman" once more.

Throughout his long and adventurous career M. Clemenceau had always been known as a relentless fighter and in many big questions in the chamber of deputies he led the opposition. His reputation for personal fearlessness made him a beloved figure in France. Before he was 30 years old M. Clemenceau had fought half a dozen duels and had won them all.

In a way the career of "The Tiger" was something like that of the late Col. Roosevelt. Both were of tremendous power.

SOLDIERS WHO NEED WORK, ATTENTION

Governor of Alaska Points Out
Opportunity in Great
Juneau Gold Mines

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Soldiers out of employment take notice.

"Alaska urgently needs men for its industries," says the governor of Alaska, Thomas Riggs, in his annual report, just issued, to the secretary of the interior. He adds:

"Owing to the scarcity of labor the great mines in the Juneau gold belt are able to run the mills on one eight-hour shift only. The Jastineau (Perseverance) mine at Juneau, one of the richest gold mines in the world, is run at less than half capacity." (These mining companies pay their ordinary operators from $6 to $8 a day, their expert operators more.)

"The coal fields of Matanuska and Nenana need men. The forces at work on the government railroad tapping those coal fields have been reduced 50 per cent this year."

BUREAU ESTABLISHED
"In connection with the Alaska bureau of publicity at Juneau a central labor bureau has been established for general distribution of labor. To returned soldiers, young men who have been thrown into the atmosphere of adventure and outdoor life, the trails of the north call."

"Great Britain and Ireland, France, Belgium, Serbia, Montenegro, Italy, Rumania and Portugal, all these combined," Governor Riggs points out, "would make a territory no larger than Alaska—the great country." He continues:

"Alaska is already of more value as a commercial factor than any other territory to the United States. This is shown by the figures of the past year during which it furnished trade to the United States proper of $131,767,788."

MILLIONS IN MINERALS
Half a hundred millions in minerals—$25,000,000 in copper, $15,000,000 in gold, the remainder in silver, lead, iron, antimony, tungsten, platinum—were mined last year in Alaska. Although Alaska's fabulous gold placers—Nome and the Klondike creeks, Bonanza, Eldorado, Gold Run, and all the other magic names that lured tens of thousands of adventurers across continents and seas—are worked out, there still remain vast quantities of low grade ore and until last year enormous mining operations were in progress. The reduction of product was due chiefly to curtailment of operations because of the scarcity of labor.

The value of the furs shipped from Alaska last year amounted to twice the value of furs shipped out two years ago. It footed up to about a million and a half, in spite of the fact that during a part of the year the law forbidding the killing of fur-bearing seals in the Pribilof Islands, the greatest sealing grounds in the world, was still in force.

CLIMATE NOT SO BAD
This report modifies one's notions concerning the Alaska climate. The word "Alaska" evokes the remote north, spellbound in the breath of winter; far frozen seas and rivers of ice, northern lights and Esquimaux; people traveling by reindeer sleigh and dogteam, moving dimly amid a white world in the Arctic light.

These pages set forth the Alaska of summertime. They tell of the swiftly upshooting vegetation that fills the twenty-four-hour-long light of the northern summer day; of wheat, barley, oats and alfalfa successfully grown as far north as latitude 65 degrees 31 minutes of the Tanana, with its truck farms and fields of Siberian wheat; of Kodiak and one reads, not of the giant Kodiak bears, but of herds of Galloway and Holstein-Priesian cattle; of millions of acres in interior Alaska which, as fast as transportation facilities are provided, will be converted into productive farms.

"Greater possibilities are offered by Alaska to returning soldiers," affirms Governor Riggs, "than are offered by many of their former occupations. And Alaska needs men for her industries—men with the red blood that has made America victorious in the war."

WOULD END MOTH PLAGUE BY GAS FROM AIRPLANES

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 19.—E. B. Morse of Goffstown has outlined a plan for the use of poison gas in exterminating gypsy and brown tail moths in New Hampshire. Flying machines will fly over forests and drop gas bombs to exterminate the pests. Mr. Morse spoke in favor of the bill introduced in the state legislature by Representative Young of Goffstown for a $40,000 appropriation for the state department of agriculture to extend its work in exterminating the pests.

NEW GRAFT IN IOWA WORKED ON FARMERS

GLIDDEN, Ia., Feb. 19.—A new graft has been brought to light in this vicinity with the turning up of a large number of notes at a local bank. A "slick" salesman sells a farmer a hog feeder for $25 cash, the feeder to be sent to him later. He was also to sign an "order" that the salesman could "turn into the company." The "order" proved to be a note for $36.

FOR the benefit of our readers we take pleasure in publishing the Brooks offer to save all who are ruptured from wearing trusses and other painful makeshifts that do not cure.

The Brooks Appliance Co. gladly sends this remarkable Appliance ON TRIAL to prove that it holds the rupture back, keeps it in place, prevents it coming down or slipping out and finally cures it entirely.

Now we offer to prove it to you, entirely at our risk. We will send you a Brooks Rupture Appliance on trial. If you really want to be rid of your rupture fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

Instead of wearing a steel spring or inflexible harness, try the velvet soft Brooks Appliance.

Instead of the hard pad of a truss, use the soft rubber automatic air-cushion of a Brooks Appliance.

The Brooks Appliance clings to you without force and you are hardly conscious of its presence. And above all else, it HOLDS always.

Within an hour after you receive the Brooks Appliance, if you take advantage of this remarkable trial offer, you will throw away your truss forever.

Over 670,000 People Have Accepted This Offer. Why Not You?

Doesn't that prove that the Brooks Appliance is not an experiment but a positive success—that it does all we claim for it? Among these 670,000 men, women and children there must be hundreds whose condition was identical with yours. Can you afford not to investigate and satisfy yourself, when it costs you nothing to prove what the Brooks Appliance will do for you?

This wonderful device is a triumph of scientific and mechanical genius, the result of more than 30 years' experience, and the percentage of cures effected by its use is little short of miraculous.

Many hundreds of physicians and surgeons recommend the Brooks Appliance and condemn trusses as more harmful and dangerous than any other method of retaining and treating rupture. Thousands of people have written us to testify to the amazing results they have secured from this great invention. Many of these people live right in your vicinity, and we will be glad to send you copies of their thankful letters if you will ask for them when you write.

Men, Women and Children Find the Brooks Appliance Equally Effective

No matter if your rupture is old and severe or only recently developed, no matter if you are young or old, you should not fail to profit by this No-Risk Trial Offer.

No other rupture support, truss, lock, device, pad or plaster is offered to the public under so broad a guarantee of satisfaction.

If for any reason whatever you do not wish to keep the Brooks Appliance after you try it, send it back. You don't have to give any reason, you don't have to send to us for any return instructions or shipping label. There will be no argument, no dispute or misunderstanding.

Ten Reasons Why You Should Accept This Offer:

1. It is absolutely the only Appliance embodying the principles that inventors have sought after for years.
2. The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of position.
3. Being an air cushion of soft rubber it clings closely to the body, yet never blisters or causes irritation.
4. Unlike ordinary so-called pads, it is not cumbersome or ungainly.
5. It is small, soft and pliable, and positively cannot be detected through the clothing.
6. The soft, pliable bands do not give the unpleasant sensation of wearing a harness.
7. Nothing to get foul; it can be washed without any injury.
8. There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by cutting and bruising the flesh.
9. All materials are the very best that money can buy, making it a durable and safe Appliance to wear.
10. Our reputation is so thoroughly established and our prices so reasonable, our terms so fair, that you should not hesitate to send the free coupon today.

For Convalescents Who Don't Convalesce

Ravaging diseases, like pneumonia or typhoid, leave you with wasted, anemic body and a ferocious appetite. Appetite is Nature's means of persuading you to nourish yourself back to normal. But while anemia lurks in the blood, you remain weak and delicate despite the food you eat. You would do well to brace up your system with a good tonic like Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night, when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

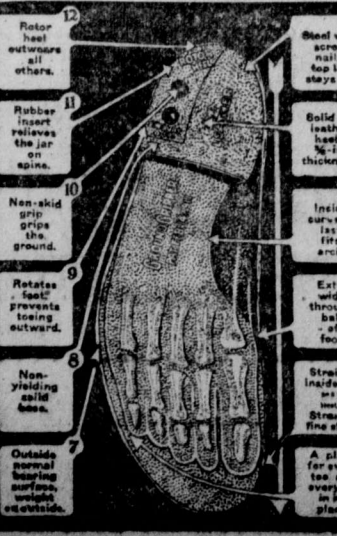

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

EXAMINE BODY FOR POISON IN DEATH CASE

Microscopic Examination Made by Experts to Determine How Mrs. Carson Died

Powerful microscopes and defining fluids were employed today in an examination to determine the exact cause of death of Mrs. Alpha Hughes Carson, whose body was exhumed yesterday at the request of relatives.

The examination of organs from the body was started by Prof. A. R. Maas, who announced that his first analysis would be for cyanide poisoning.

Following the cyanide test, Prof. Maas will search for trace of every known death-dealing poison. He expects his examination will require a week's time.

Horace S. Wilson, attorney for J. Gamble Carson, husband of Mrs. Carson, stated that no chemist or toxicologist representing Mr. Carson will be present during Maas' examination.

"NATURAL DEATH"
"We are confident that the examination will show Mrs. Carson died a natural death," Wilson stated, "and we therefore do not think it necessary to have an expert representing Mr. Carson witness the examination. We have faith in the ability of Prof. Maas and await his report with confidence."

The exhuming of the body of Mrs. Carson was at the request of relatives who suspected that her death was not due to natural causes. The investigation is a forerunner of a contest by these relatives of Mrs. Carson's will.

Mrs. Carson, formerly the widow of Thomas E. Hughes, wealthy Los Angeles property owner, left an estate estimated at $142,706 and it is claimed at least $110,000 of this amount was bequeathed to her husband.

Certain allegations regarding Carson's matrimonial career involving a charge that he was technically a bigamist when he married Mrs. Hughes, were made by the relatives.

NO AUTOPSY
In a statement issued by his attorney, Mr. Carson said today that his relatives were asked whether they desired an autopsy to be held to determine the cause of death.

Her attending physician, Dr. W. W. Skeel, stated that her death was caused by acute chronic nephritis. Dr. W. L. Huggins confirmed this opinion.

The arousing of suspicion regarding the death of my wife is spite work on the part of her relatives who are dissatisfied with the terms of her will. There is nothing mysterious about the case whatsoever.

MARITAL TANGLE
The brothers and sisters of Mrs. Carson, who instigated the investigation through their attorney, W. J. Ford, are W. H. McMillon of Upland, R. H. McMillon of Phoenix, Mrs. Sarah E. Walker of 822 West Eighth street, Mrs. Nancy E. Bruce of 635 San Julian street, Mrs. Jane E. Foster of Watts, and Miss Mary McMillon of this city.

The allegations regarding Carson's matrimonial career previous to his marriage to Mrs. Hughes were made by Attorney Ford, who claimed that at the time of the marriage Carson was not legally separated from another woman.

Ford alleged that Carson's former wife, Mrs. Rose Brookings Carson, was granted a decree of divorce on March 6, 1917, and that the divorce was not final until March 6, 1918. Carson married Mrs. Hughes on July 19, 1917, eight months before the termination of the divorce, Ford claims.

PRINCIPAL BENEFICIARY
It is on the allegation that Carson's marriage to Mrs. Hughes was not legal in that he was still technically the husband of another woman, that the effort to break the will will be based, Ford said.

According to Ford, Carson married Elizabeth E. Carson in San Francisco on Dec. 28, 1906, and was divorced from her July 2, 1908. This marriage was followed by his union to Mrs. Rose Brookings Carson on Jan. 7, 1910.

Ford pointed out that Carson married Mrs. Hughes July 19, 1917, and her will, naming him as principal beneficiary, was dated Aug. 29 of the same year. She died July 18, 1918. All but one of the brothers and sisters were left $100 each. Nephews, great-nephews and nieces were left $25,000, and the rest went to Carson.

SO. CAL. POULTRY MEASUREMENTS CHAMPION STATE MARKET

Commission Strongly Defended and Legislature Urged to Maintain Organization

The Poultry Producers of Southern California have come to the defense of the state market commission and in resolutions adopted at a meeting here vigorously oppose the bill pending in the state legislature for abolishment of the commission.

The poultry producers point to the fact that the market commission has numerous farmers' co-operative associations to be organized, whose collective annual output is estimated at more than $60,000,000.

The resolutions read as follows:

Whereas, A bill has been introduced in the state legislature to abolish the state market commission; and

Whereas, Co-operative marketing on the part of producers makes more nearly possible the elimination of waste in the cost of marketing the advantage of producer and consumer, and also tends greatly to broaden and to develop new markets, thus stimulating increased production to the advantage of the consumer; and

Whereas, The state market commission, under the direction of State Market Director Harris Weinstock, has caused to be organized numerous farmers' co-operative marketing associations, whose collective annual output is estimated as being over $60,000,000, sold at fair prices to consumers and living prices to producers; and

Whereas, The state market commission is thus proving a great boon to the producers of California and is encouraging them to keep on producing so that consumers may be more nearly assured abundant food supplies; now therefore be it Resolved, That Poultry Producers of Southern California, Inc., representing producers of eggs and poultry from the cities of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and San Diego, hereby protest against any attempt to deprive the producers of California of the leadership furnished by the state market commission, and be it further

Resolved, That the bill to abolish the state market commission, if passed by the legislature, would work against the best interests of producer and consumer, and would therefore be against public policy; and be it further

Resolved, That we call upon our legislative representatives to cast their votes and to use their influence against the passage of any such bill, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution, duly certified, be forwarded to State Market Director Harris Weinstock and to members of the legislature from the following named counties, to-wit: Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and San Diego.

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or Head noises should give this prescription a trial.

MANILA URGED
AS GREAT U. S.
TRADE CENTER

James J. Rafferty, Director of Philippine Commerce and Industry, Tells Possibilities

Declaring that the possibilities for commerce between America and all of the countries in the Orient are practically limitless, James J. Rafferty, director of commerce and industry at Manila, Philippine Islands, added that Manila should be made a gigantic trading center for the United States in the far east.
"Just as England has made Hongkong her great Oriental center for British commerce, so should the United States establish her far east trading post at Manila, where the Stars and Stripes are already floating and where friendly environments have already been created," he said.
Like many other Americans who have lived abroad for some time, Mr.
Rafferty is highly pleased with the awakening in the United States to the opportunities for foreign trade all over the world.

FLOW OF TRADE
Having lived in that part of the world that is more tributary com-mercially to the Pacific Coast than the United States than to any other part of the nation, he was not surprised to learn that Pacific Coast cities were arousing themselves to increase the flow of commerce through their ports to and from Pacific countries.

He was surprised, however, to learn that Los Angeles had made such rapid strides since the war ended in developing foreign business through her port.

Mr. Rafferty is a government man, therefore he speaks guardedly. What he does say, however, is to the point.

PHILIPPINE TRADE
"You people here at home," Mr.
Rafferty said, "can scarcely realize the wonderful opportunities in the Philippines alone for investments, to say nothing of trade. And while the United States has built up a large and constantly increasing trade with the Philippines, nothing more than a beginning has really been made."

"We are sending you fibers, such as hemp and sisal; coconut oil, sugar, hardwoods, rattan, gums to be used in varnishes, straw hats and hundreds of millions of cigars, and you are sending us many of your manufactured goods, but I want to say a word about investment opportunities.
"Some of the wonderful openings in this connection are in the growing of sugar cane, rubber and coconuts. Land is cheap, and there is an abundance of labor to be employed at wages that are adjusted to living conditions in that country."

COCONUT OIL
"Large and extensive refineries have been established in Manila for extracting coconut oil, therefore there is an immediate market there for copra, which is the meat of coconuts."

"The same opportunities for investment are offered in the Philippines that formerly was offered in Hawaii when that country came under the dominion of the United States."

Mr. Rafferty was very much interested when he learned that Los Angeles was well on the way to becoming the third big seaport on the Pacific Coast. He realized at once that the increasing volume of foreign traffic through Seattle and San Francisco gives Los Angeles her long sought opportunity.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION
Knowing the ambitions of the Philippines for a large industrial expansion and desire for American capital to develop her virgin resources, he realized that any movement that increases shipping from the Pacific Coast must bring the Philippines into closer relations with the United States and consequently a better comprehension of the possibilities of the trade and investment possibilities in the land across the Pacific.

Therefore, he subscribes to the slogan: "Make Manila the trading center for the United States in the Orient."
Which every good American will interpret to mean "the largest trading center in the Orient."

Predicts Gov't

Economic conditions will compel public ownership of railroads and other public utilities in the opinion of E. O. Edgerton, president of the California state railroad commission, who is visiting this city. The government, in assuming control of the railroads, met an imperative demand, Edgerton said, in an address before the Municipal league.

DON'T EXPERIMENT WITH CATARRH

Here Is a Sensible Treatment
That Gives Prompt Results.

Winter and Catarrh are companions in evil. Catarrh is sweeping civilization from one continent to another, just because civilization does not heed Nature's simple laws. Nature tells us what to do and we pay no heed.

Don't think lightly of Catarrh. Do not make the mistake of believing that it is merely an aggravated bad cold. True, this trouble usually starts with what is apparently a cold in the head, but beware of any cold that "hangs on." You may as well realize at the outset that Catarrh is a serious disease and one that should not be trifled with.
In fact, in many instances it is a forerunner of the most dreaded of all diseases—consumption.

Don't permit yourself to be deceived. Perhaps, like thousands of others afflicted with catarrh, you are about ready to believe that the disease is incurable, and that you are doomed to spend the remainder of your days hawking and spitting, with no relief in sight from inflamed and stopped-up air passages that make the days miserable and the nights sleepless.

If you are in the grasp of Catarrh, your experience should convince you that the disease is beyond the reach of sprays, douches, jellies, balms, salves, and other locally applied remedies.

When the air passages become so stopped up that every breath you take is difficult, when the throat and nose are so clogged up with offensive mucous that you are constantly hawking and spitting in an effort to clear your nostrils, every effort you make to get relief by the use of sprays and douches is promptly followed by new accumulations, so that no headway whatever is made toward getting rid of the disease.

Realize that the Catarrh comes from a germ which infects the blood, and that the disease cannot exist when these germs are routed from the blood. The rational and successful treatment, therefore, is one that reaches the blood, and cleanses it of every trace of impurity and rids it of these tiny Catarrh germs. Of course, no local remedies can reach the blood supply, and that is why Catarrh is not cured by sprays and lotions.

The one great blood remedy that has made a wonderful record is S. S. S., which has been on sale by drug stores everywhere for over half a century.
If you would be rid of your Catarrh, get a bottle of this great old remedy today, which will give you satisfactory results, as it has in so many cases.
You will find that you are on the right treatment at last, as
S. S. S. will do for you what it has for thousands of others.
Start taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete description of your case to our head physician, who will give you all necessary instructions by return mail, without charge. Address Medical Director, 158 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Owl Drug Co. in Los Angeles and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation, the appearance, the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany extreme thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general thinness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advertisement.

WOULDN'T TAKE A FORTUNE FOR IT

"I wouldn't take a fortune for the good Tanlac has done me, for it has not only restored my health but has added twenty-one pounds to my weight, and I feel like a different man in every way," said Peter Riedweg, a valued employee of the Pacific Car Foundry Co., and whose residence is 553 Clay street, Portland, Ore. "About eight months ago," he continued, "I had a bad spell of the grippe, and it left me in a very badly run-down condition, and until I began taking Tanlac, I was not able to find a thing that would get me started up hill again. My appetite was very poor, and my stomach was in such bad condition that the little I did eat would give me indigestion. Sometimes for three or four hours after my meals I would be all bloated up with gas and suffer something awful with shortness of breath. I was badly constipated most of the time, and occasionally suffered from headaches. My kidneys gave me lots of trouble also, and I had a dull, heavy pain across the small of my back all the time. All my strength and energy seemed to gradually leave me, and I lost a lot of weight, and finally got so weak and worn out that I had to give up my work and for three months I was not able to do a hand's turn.

"I heard so many folks around Portland talking about the good this Tanlac was doing them that I decided to buy a few bottles and see if it would help me. Well, it did, believe it is possible for anybody to improve faster than I did after I began taking that medicine. My appetite improved from the very first bottle, the condition of my stomach soon improved so much that I could eat just anything I wanted and I would not have indigestion afterwards. I kept on taking Tanlac and the more I took the better I felt, and after taking six bottles all my troubles disappeared. I am never bothered with that pain in my back, and my kidneys seem to be in good condition. I am rid of constipation, and never have a headache at all. I have gained a lot in weight, in fact I weigh more today than I ever weighed in my life, and thanks to Tanlac, I am well and strong in every way as I ever was, and am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advertisement.

SEATTLE STRIKE SETTLEMENT PLAN FAILS

Believe Postponement of Shipyard Opening Will Avert New Crisis

By International News Service SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 19.—Believing that a postponement of the reopening of the shipyards scheduled for today would avert a possible crisis and on the advice of the government's representatives, the yards remain idle. All efforts of government officials, international union officials and the Seattle Metal Trades Council to reach a basis for settlement so far have failed.

Conferences were resumed at 10 o'clock this morning with Dr. L. C. Marshall, representative of the emergency fleet corporation and international union officers present.

A mass meeting of the 15,000 members of the local boilermakers, iron shipbuilders and helpers' union was in session this morning to consider the strike.

SCORES DELEGATES
An effort is being made to turn the workers, soldiers and sailors' council here into a "soviet" with the avowed intention of substituting its constitution for that of the United States, according to M. K. Kennedy, acting chairman of the Metal Trades Council. Kennedy, at a union meeting, severely scored union delegates to the workers, soldiers and sailors' council for their inaction in allowing the council to fall into the control of the I. W. O. and Bolshevik factions. Destruction of the American Federation of Labor is another object of the council, Kennedy said.

RADICALS FAIL
That the radical organization is a failure was the assertion made today by W. Chapman, a union delegate to the council. He said he declined to be connected with it further and had resigned his seat along with Kennedy.

Fred Arndt and Ernest E. Heitmler, both Germans, are under detention here today at the request of C. L. Reames, special assistant attorney general, who expects to have them deported after the peace treaty is signed. Reames charges both are I. W. O. organizers and have been active agitators against the government.

CLUB SEEKS SHAKEUP AT VENTURA SCHOOL

That the Wednesday Morning club, one of the largest clubs in the city, will send resolutions to Governor Stephens, demanding a change in management of the California School for Girls at Ventura was announced today by Mrs. Cora Holland, club president.

Holland stated that she would present resolutions to this effect to the club late this afternoon. "We will ask for a complete reorganization of the board of trustees and school administrators," Mrs. Holland said today just before calling the club to order, "because we think it inadvisable to try to secure desired reforms through the medium of the incumbents. The club feels very strongly about this."

Other clubs are preparing to adopt similar resolutions, it was understood today.

Startling Question New Sermon Topic

Dr. R. A. Torrey, the evangelist, will speak tonight at Bible institute on the subject, "A Startling Question." Music for the services has been arranged under direction of Charles Alexander.

Southern California is the most beautiful spot ever visited. Dr. Torrey said during his sermon last night, but added that "Southern California is in comparison to the beauty of heaven."

Can't Bind Customer Is Gas Case Ruling

The district court of appeals has held it illegal for a gas company to bind a customer to buy gas from only one concern. J. H. Burk contracted with the Los Angeles Gas & Electric corporation to buy gas, the company agreed that if the company would install certain apparatus, failure to comply was followed by a suit for $330, the cost of the appliances. The company lost.

YOUNG ZIONIST BALL
The second annual grand ball of the Young Zionists' association will be held tonight at Kramer's dancing academy, 1500 South Figueroa street. Miss Edith Cohan, a young Philadelphia society girl, will lead the grand march at 10 o'clock with Jack Lieberman, president of the association. Zionist soldiers, recently returned from the front, will be the guests of honor.

FAITH IN RUSSIA
Expressing faith in the ultimate development of Russia, Charlesman Tower, former United States ambassador to Austria-Hungary, to Germany and to Russia, is in Pasadena for the season. He is accompanied by Mrs. Tower and the two expect to make a later visit to their daughter and her husband, the latter being Maj. Robertson in command of the aerial gunnery school in San Diego.

FILES WILL SUIT
On the ground the will of his late wife, Augusta Thompson, was revoked by a later instrument, which was voluntarily destroyed by Mrs. Thompson herself, John M. Thompson filed a contest asking to have the first will set aside.

PIANIST VECSEI, WHO SAYS WAR HAS KILLED INTELLECTUAL MUSIC

MELODY MUSIC IS LATEST SAYS VECSEI

Here is hope for the mere, ordinary, garden variety of music lover, who enjoys lyric music and, whether he confesses it or not, can't "get" the ultra modern composers!

For Desider Josef Vecsei, one of the foremost pianists of Los Angeles, who is to be a star feature of the Los Angeles Symphony concerts this year, has declared that "intellectual" music is going out.

The war, according to Vecsei, has put it out of vogue.

There is already a tremendous swing back to melodic music—the simple, beautiful kind, written, as Vecsei puts it, with the "heart-soul" of the composer.

Cubist music, intellectual music, the kind of music that one sees in colors or has to guess what it means in order to appreciate it, has been only a caprice, he declares, and will pass away as the older, lyric school of music comes back.

"Romantic music is coming back with a great force," Vecsei said today. "No more do the people want music written only with the mind. They want music written with the heart-soul—romantic music. And the other will pass away, into oblivion. It was just a caprice."

Vecsei will play two concertos at the next symphony concert on March 7, one to be Saint-Saens' F Major, by request, and the other to be Liszt's A Major. The Saint-Saens concerto was played by this artist last year at the symphony and it proved so great a success that he has had many requests to repeat it this year.

P. E. Gets Shipment of 'One-Man' Cars

The new "one-man" cars are about to be introduced in Los Angeles by the Pacific Electric railway. The cars were successful, it is said, in El Paso, Kansas City and other eastern cities. They will be tried out on the Pomona, Redlands, Riverside and Santa Monica lines at certain times of the day.

Twenty-two of the cars arrived here recently from the factory.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

Pay $60 for Coffee, Expecting Booze

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 19.—The "wholesaler" carried his sample and the "retailer" declared it "great stuff." How much for a full case of pints? he was asked.

"Sixty bucks, cash," replied the wholesaler. The men dug up.

When the case was delivered the retailers were on hand to sample it. It looked all right.

PREDICTS DRY SUMMER ON WORK OF MUSKRATS

GENEVA, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Charles Kelley, a half-breed Mohawk Indian of this city, predicts the driest summer this year that has been experienced in many years. Kelley sprang into prominence as a weather prophet last autumn, when he prophesied that the present winter would be a mild and open one. He bases his prediction on the actions of the muskrat and other animals. The habit of the muskrat is to build his house thick in wall and high. This winter they were the reverse, says Kelley.

REFINED EVANSTON COPS TO HAVE FINE LIBRARY

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Even though forced by their calling to associate with low and rough characters, the Evanston police are going to keep their minds refined and elevated, and with this end in view a library has been installed in the police station.

There the detectives and patrolmen may get a clue to the thief on their beat by reading Carolyn Wells' "The Clew," and may get a line on what is causing all the fights in the district by digesting "Things Men Fight For"—also the policeman of the brogue may find a little consolation in "Doing My Bit for Ireland."

SHOTGUN SQUAD TO ROUND UP VAGRANTS

Chances in Combing Railway Yards

Vagrants and box car itinerants will be rounded up at the points of shotguns by detectives working in the railroad yards in the future.

Because tramps are seeking refuge in Los Angeles, Captain of Detectives Home today instructed the yegg squad detailed to work in the freight yards to take no chances with the vagrants but to use every precaution to protect themselves.

The order was a sequel to the shooting fray near River station in the Southern Pacific yards, in which Detectives Patrick J. Downey was shot and killed by a tramp.

INQUEST TOMORROW

Bert Williams, alias Frank J. Byrnes, who is suspected of the slaying, was detained by the police on a charge of murder today.

An inquest will be held over Downey's body by Coroner Hartwell tomorrow afternoon at the mortuary of Edwards, Gamash & Heath.

Williams, when questioned today by Detectives Herman Cline and Manuel Leon, said Downey was shot by the gun he held in his own hand in the scuffle. The police say they will prove the man's assertion is false.

In the Southern Pacific railroad yards, Officers Conley, Sweetman and Parsons early today arrested a man giving the name of Steve Bisk, known to the police as an I. W. W. and Austrian Bolshevik sympathizer. He was armed with a large revolver, the police say.

THREE ARE ARRESTED

The officers searched a freight train which arrived from the north. Bisk and three men giving the names of C. D. Gage, Andrew Simmons and J. Robins were taken from the car. They were held on vagrancy charges.

Bisk's record was under investigation at the city jail today. The police believe they have in custody members of the vanguard of I. W. W. and Bolshevik agitators recently reported enroute from Seattle and other northern cities to the southland.

CITRUS BELT PARADE TO BIG ORANGE SHOW

Headed by the Claremont band residents of many cities in the citrus belt today paraded in automobiles to San Bernardino to attend the ninth annual orange show. Today was observed as San Gabriel Valley day.

The automobile procession to the orange show started from Whittier, new quotas being added as the parade passed through various towns until Claremont was reached at 10 o'clock.

The associated chambers of commerce of the valley took charge of the day's events. A feature of the program was the singing by Miss Harriet Pasmore of Pomona college.

The bathing beauties from Venice are to invade the orange show tomorrow, which has been set apart as Venice day. Plenty of "pep" is promised for the celebration in behalf of the beach resort.

Governor W. D. Stephens is to visit San Bernardino Saturday to review the welcoming home parade to honor returned soldiers and to take part in the closing events of the orange show.

Approximately 3000 visitors participated in the Canadian day celebration at the show. Special trains were run from Santa Monica, Long Beach and other cities.

Ship Board Ordered to Detail Policies for Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The shipping board is required to report to congress on policies pursued by it relative to the construction and operation of ships for the American merchant marine under a resolution adopted by the house this afternoon after discharging the house merchant marine committee from further consideration of the measure, which was sponsored by Representative Gould, Republican of New York.

The resolution also provided that the shipping board furnish the house with information as to what it has done to adjust seamen's wages and equalize "the higher cost, if any, of building ships in American yards in competition with foreign-owned ships whether by the United States government or by private corporation."

REDS IN LISBON ATTACK GOVT. FORCES

By NED CLEARY
Exclusive cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express
LISBON, Spain, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—Bolsheviks and anarchists have united at Lisbon and are attempting to overthrow the Portuguese government, according to information brought into Spain today by a British merchant who has just arrived from the Portuguese capital.

In the meantime the government troops in the northern district have been successfully suppressing the monarchists.

Shooting is continuous at night in the streets of Lisbon.

SEVERAL KILLED NIGHTLY
A number of persons are killed there nightly, but the authorities are reported to be concealing these tragedies.

Gen. Paiva Couceiro, leader of the monarchist army in Portugal, who formally announced at his headquarters that the royalist uprising had failed, has since disappeared.

A republican army has entered Oporto.

Wholesale arrests of the monarchist chiefs are being made.

The monarchist forces are being disbanded.

DISPERSE MONARCHISTS
Some 6000 monarchist soldiers remain in the Espinto district, but those in the Mirandella, Chaves and Thragas regions have been dispersed.

An extraordinary change has taken place at Oporto. Crowds that were formerly cheering for Manuel (the former king) are now thronging the cafes and theaters singing revolutionary hymns. The Republicans are collecting all the arms in Oporto.

At the railway station a freight train, supposed to be carrying potatoes, was searched and found to be filled with munitions.

There is considerable disorder in Oporto and many individuals are being attacked on the streets.

Lieutenant, Trapped by Actor in Bribery Case, Gets 3 Years
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—As a result of the activities of Joseph Whitehead of the navy intelligence department and Jack Pickford, motion picture actor, a lieutenant who had served as a medical examiner has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment, while 48 officers and yeomen of this third cavalry district, with headquarters here, are reported under arrest on charges of bribery.

The traffic in "swivel chair" and "bombproof" jobs for naval men is said to have been the source of considerable graft.

Whitehead and Pickford trapped their man by applying for transfers and having detectives record the dickerings. After the conference the officer was arrested and $500 in marked bills, given to him by Whitehead, was found in his pocket, as it is alleged. Thereupon he confessed, it is said, and surrendered bank books showing deposits far in excess of his salary as a naval officer.

HUNT W. W. IN FORT SHERIDAN BOMB PLOT

Workmen on Hospital Buildings and Start Close Watch

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Workmen employed on the hospital buildings at Fort Sheridan were watched closely, for the authorities believe that some of them, either I. W. W.s or at least believers in sabotage, are the men who have twice in one week tried to destroy government property by bombs.

Two clocks in a suit case, padded to prevent the sound of their ticking, and so electrically connected as to set off a spark and ignite a percussion cap and set off a charge of dynamite, were found in the old brick building alongside the railroad tracks, near the new quartermaster building, about a quarter mile from the hospital structures.

RED HANDKERCHIEF SIGNAL
A week ago a watchman for the contractors doing the construction work noticed a pile of inflammable rubbish heaped against the side of one of the hospital buildings, which had just been completed, but which was not occupied.

Near by, on the picket of a fence, there was a red handkerchief, believed to be set there as a signal to the torchmen that "everything is ready."

It is believed the plotters didn't intend to injure any of the wounded soldiers at the post or wreck or fire any buildings housing them, but that they did desire to damage new structures, either to make more work for men about to be laid off through completion of the work or out of a spirit of malicious disloyalty.

It has been noticed that many windows have been broken and walls which have to be plastered and painted have been spoiled.

MIGHT RELEASE PRISONERS
It is also a theory that the bomb might have been designed to liberate some few I. W. W.s and enemy aliens who are in the guardhouse. The guardhouse is not far from the spot where the bomb was found.

A workman stumbled over the suit case with the clocks in it last Friday. He told Sergeant Harry McNelly, who notified Capt. Karl Engelinger, post adjutant, and Maj. John Robinson.

The clocks were removed, the suit case placed in its original position and a guard was placed where he could see anybody who came near it. No one came.

No dynamite was found, nor any other explosive. No dynamite or powder has been stolen from the magazine at the fort; no blasting powder has been stolen from the contractors.

Rejected Suitor Bombs Sweetheart

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—John George loved Cora Cazza. Cora Cazza did not love John George. They occupied adjoining rooms in Mrs. Besie Hall's boarding house at No. 1912 Warren avenue.

John persisted until he was spurned and "bawled out." Then he languished and one night he went to bed apparently in grief. Very early in the morning he went away. He left the house—

Boom!
It was in the closet of Cora's room—a bomb. It sent Cora sprawling from her bed. It shattered the windows, wrecked the furniture and tore out the partitions. Cora started to get up from the floor, discovered her mattress afire and went down again in a faint. She was rescued. Firemen came and extinguished the blaze. John has not been heard from.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach. It is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of this powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advertisement.

THE GIRL OR THE GOWN?

By Juanita Hamel

WHO was the wise man who first said, "The point of view is everything"? Consider a rosebud—there may be infinite ways of looking at it, and only one point of view will truly interest each person. Consider the rosebud girl, the radiance of whose beauty is set in a wonderful gown, his Mother sets the gown and then—her glance is attracted by the eager gaze of HIM who stares at the GIRL with his HEART in his adoring eyes.

COURSES OF STUDY TO PREVENT ILLNESS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—As industrial physicians multiply, many women will find a wide field of usefulness. Among the students in the new course on industrial hygiene, which Harvard university offers this year, are several young women who are preparing for service in the big plants where more attention than ever before will be given to health problems.

The working conditions service, department of labor, is doing all possible to arouse the interest of educators in the importance of preparation for a constantly widening work in factories. Yale university is now offering an intensive course and the University of Pennsylvania will have one at its next semester. These are leading a nation-wide effort to make ready for the demand for industrial physicians wherever there are large factories.

The industrial physicians are really the successors of the old contract physicians. Instead of being concerned altogether with the workers who are ill or injured they devote themselves to the conservation of health. Much of their work is educational as well as strictly professional, for after they have examined the worker to ascertain his exact physical condition and have prescribed for him they are interested in teaching him how to keep well. Their instruction goes further and embraces lectures on the economic value of health and the industrial loss through illness. In factories where large numbers of girls are employed the usefulness of women who serve as industrial physicians is readily understood.

Diet, exercise and recreation are prescribed by the industrial physician, who seeks to avoid the need of medicine. Through his executive ability and organizing power he is able to reach employees in many ways to inspire them with respect for the human machine, a knowledge of the operation of which will pay in money as well as happiness, for statistics prove how great is the annual loss through illness or disability.

The department of labor is not only encouraging the extension of educational opportunities for industrial physicians but it is also doing much to develop the actual scope of his work in shop or factory. In addition to the special training for physicians there will be courses for nurses who desire to devote themselves to industrial work.

LEAPS FROM 13TH FLOOR OF WOOLWORTH BUILDING

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Passers-by in Park place, just west of Broadway, saw a man step out on a window sill of the thirteenth floor of the Woolworth building and stand for a moment.

The man turned and closed the window behind him. Then he dived to the sidewalk.
R. B. Hays, district sales manager of the Monroe Calculating Machine Co., a few minutes later identified the battered body as that of Richard Dwight Hutchins, a salesman for the company.

DID HE FIND THE FOOL THAT HE ADVERTISED FOR?

MACON, Ga., Feb. 19.—The following ad has appeared recently in a local newspaper:
"For Sale—The finest looking horse in Bibb county; just suits a fool; high head and long legs; don't think he'll run away; but the darndest bluff you ever saw; if he don't measure up to a fool, I think he has some more qualities for a fool."

BANJO AND GUITAR SAVED BOY'S LIFE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—Jimmy, the soldier boy from the mountains, was slowly dying. There was no question about it. And there seemed to be no pressing physical reason for it other than that he had slipped into the Slough of Despond. Slowly but visibly he sank, and no word of encouragement from solicitous nurses in the general army hospital in North Carolina brought a gleam of hope to his heavy black eyes. They were sad eyes, dying eyes.

But one day recently a representative of the recreational branch of Red Cross service brought into Jimmy's ward a trio of mountain boys armed with banjo and guitar, and made them sing and play for the patients. The lilting of a merry folk song seemed to arouse the languishing Jimmy. It fanned a fading life spark that had been beyond the reach of material aids.

The trio of large-boned, ambling minstrels stood at Jimmy's bed. Peevily at first Jimmy responded to their inquiries, but his interest in the visitors and their instruments was written plainly in more alert eyes. Eventually he admitted that he "useter pick one o' them," indicating a guitar, "as a kid in the backwoods."

"Want ter try yer han'?" asked one of the three who proffered a hand-marked and scarred guitar to the invalid. The Red Cross worker with the sanction of a nurse encouraged the boy. He was a trifle nervous and abashed, but gradually his mind became concentrated on the instrument. Fumbling with the strings, he produced a few chords, his eyes brightened and he smiled. "It kind o' comes back to a feller," he observed.

Jimmy was allowed to have the instrument but a few minutes.
"How would you like to have a guitar to practice on while you are getting well?" asked the Red Cross worker. "Oh—oh, I'd sure like it. Mebbe the doc won't stand for it." But the doctor did "stand for it" the next day—and for a little while each day. And Jimmy got a new grip on himself—his thinking was objectified a bit, and he looked forward to the practice hour impatiently. It had to be when other patients were disturbed least, but, knowing its purpose, they were willing to "stand for it," too.

Now Jimmy is in a convalescent house and is frequently in demand as a one-man orchestra, according to Red Cross officials.

Memorial Museum for Roosevelt Is Proposed by Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—The great museum proposed by Congressman Hicks as a memorial to Col. Roosevelt in the bill introduced by him in the house of representatives, Jan. 29, is designed to be a museum of history and the arts—illustrating the history and genius of Americans—two subjects with which Mr. Roosevelt was vitally concerned.

Washington, the nation's capital and the focusing place for all American people, is the logical location for the memorial to this great American. Such a memorial, while as permanent as bronze, would be a living and enduring tribute that would serve for all time as a real force in the education of all classes of Americans.

It would contain the vast collections already in the National museum of relics and mementoes of illustrious patriots of our country and of the events conspicuous in its history. These concern not only our brave warriors and statesmen and important military incidents, but also scientists and inventors and the epoch-making discoveries and inventions produced by their genius, which have advanced the cause of civilization and added luster to our national fame.

The great collection relating to the world war, now being gathered, would also be installed within its walls.

It would house the National Gallery of Art, in the development of which President Roosevelt took an effective and timely interest. The collections of the National Gallery now approximating $1,000,000 in value, will rapidly grow as soon as its adequate installation is assured. It is now shown amid inappropriate surroundings in one of the halls of the National History building.

In it also would be hung the National Portrait Gallery—a collection of portraits of distinguished personages connected with American history.

Exhibits relating to arts and industries would be here, too, showing the development of the electric telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, electric lighting, transportation by land, water and air; photography, from earliest invention to modern moving picture apparatus; printing, illustrating the bookmaking; ores and minerals—their natural occurrence and processes of manufacture; textiles, drugs, foods, and of many other subjects in this important phase of our history.

It would serve to stimulate the historian, artist, designer, manufacturer and artisan and bring to the American people in the most realistic manner an appreciation of the extent and character of their historical and industrial development, and would be a more powerful and practical influence for good than any other form of memorial to Mr. Roosevelt.

Illinois Schools to Use Only English

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A movement has been launched to bar all but the English language from being taught in the public schools of Illinois. Samuel Insull, chairman of the state council of defense, is back of the movement and is preparing a recommendation urging the general assembly to pass a law making it obligatory in every grade school in the state to employ only the English language.

"A foreign-born family in America begins with two—the wife and husband," said Insull. "We may find it difficult always to make good Americans of these because they lack our language. But the children of foreign-born—why should we make them poor Americans by allowing them to acquire their educations in a foreign tongue?"

According to present plans the bill will apply to parochial schools as well as public.

COURTEOUS BANDIT ROBS GAS STATION

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—For the fourth time in 18 months the filling station of the Automobile Gasoline Co. at North and South and Clayton roads was held up and robbed by a well-dressed highwayman; $22 was taken from the cash register. Twenty minutes before the holdup Sheriff Bopp of St. Louis county had visited the station. Everett Baggett was in charge.

"What is your busiest day?" the holdup man courteously inquired of Baggett.

"Every day is about the same," he answered.

"I meant to call last night, but I was too busy. I've been here before, you know," the holdup man said.

The visitor then drew a revolver, pocketed the money and ordered Baggett to tear the telephone from the wall, which he did.

"See you later," the man remarked as he departed.

The mockingbird first joined this winter colony on Jan. 4 and continued to be a regular boarder despite the zero weather.

LOBBYIST BARRED

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 19.—Lobbying at the Washington legislature has become so distasteful to the solons that a resolution has been adopted barring lobbyists from the floor of the house. If guests are found working for or against any measure their cards of admission will be recalled, according to the resolution.

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

A Cincinnati Barber Tells How to Make a Remedy for Gray Hair.

Mr. Frank Harbaugh of Cincinnati, O., who has been a barber for more than forty years, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce bay rum, a small box of Barks Compound and 3 ounce glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

Mines and Steel Mills Closed Down by Strikes
BY ALFRED G. ANDERSEN,
Staff Correspondent International News Service

BERLIN, Feb. 18, via London, Feb. 19.—Thirty-five coal mines in the Rhineland district and a number of steel mills, including Krupp's, are all idle, as the result of the general strike proclaimed by the Spartacists. Spartacist leaders declare the strike will remain in effect until government troops are withdrawn.

Fighting has broken out at some places, and during the clashes the reds used minenwerfers. The government troops were defeated in these engagements, it was reported from the Ruhr district.

Mine officials have formally appealed to the government authorities at Weimar, the seat of the national assembly, for protection.

10,000 Homeless in Eastern Galicia Fighting

CRACOW, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—Ten thousand persons are homeless in eastern Galicia, as a result of the devastation caused by the fighting between the Ukrainians and the Hungarians.

Three thousand persons have been wounded in the bombardment of Lemberg. The city is under shell fire daily.

Several towns in eastern Galicia have been destroyed entirely.

stronger northern neighbor if she should elect to do so.

Another view, propounded chiefly by the French, is that such a bloc would constitute a menace for the rest of Europe and that peace could be best guaranteed by forming the German people into as many different states as possible.

The question is bound to come before the council of ten before long, although not until President Wilson returns from the United States.

It is now understood that the German army will be fixed at a maximum of 25 divisions, or roughly at half a million men and that no part of this force shall be garrisoned near the Franco-German frontier. At the same time Germany will be absolutely forbidden to use a single submarine.

The question of allowing Germany to continue training men without equipping them for war will probably be settled by the league of nations executive council, as indeed will the whole question of conscription and submarine warfare and world navies in general.

NON-CONSCRIPTION

One view that likely will be pressed under article twelve of the constitution of the league of nations is non-conscription for Germany for at least ten years. If such a proposition is adopted, it is held there will be absolutely no frontier danger for France to face and that France, Italy and other nations will be only too ready to take advantage of the financial relief thus afforded by abolishing conscription in their own countries.

It is believed that if the principal powers go without conscription for a period of ten years there will be no disposition to take it up later.

Under the same article, number twelve, of the league of nations covenant, it is expected that the submarine will be banned by all navies, even for legitimate uses of naval warfare. Italy's refusal to accept arbitration of her territorial defenses with the Jugo Slavia cause no surprise in Paris.

All along Italy has taken the view that the peace conference should deal with this question in the same manner it had taken up the others.

SERBIAN MEMORANDA

The Serbians have submitted a memorandum outlining their claims against Bulgaria. Serbia is seeking a belt of territory along the Bulgarian frontier from 10 to 20 miles wide, which would bring her new frontier at one point in close proximity to Sofia.

These claims are based on purely strategical grounds, Serbia contending that they are necessary to protect her main railroad against any sudden incursion across the border.

Another memorandum, outlining the terms of the union between the Serbians and the Czechoslovaks. The conference now is about to consider the Moroccan question. France is seeking free development in Morocco, but she has been hindered in this by existing treaties, notably the act of Algeiras, and is calling for their complete revision. Except in the sense of freeing herself of German interference, France will not seek any strengthening of her protectorate. She desires to retain native help in the administration of the country.

Information has reached the peace delegates that food conditions in Germany are very grave, and if relief does not reach the people the rations will have to be reduced by the end of March.

ALLIES CONSIDER SERBIANS, SLOVENES AND CROATS' CLAIMS

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The territorial claims of the Serbians, Slovenes and Croats were considered by the allied powers at the foreign office, it was announced in the following communique:

The representatives of the allied and associated powers met Tuesday at the Quai d'Orsay from 3 to 6 o'clock.

M. Vesnitch, M. Zager and M. Trumbitch explained the territorial claims of the Serbs, Slovenes and Croats, respectively.

It was decided to submit the question of frontiers claimed, with the exception of those in which it was directed interested, to the commission already charged with the examination of the question of Banat.

The next meeting will take place on Thursday, Feb. 20, at 3 p. m.

SURRENDER OF FORTS AT KIEL, HELGOLAND, IS TO BE DEMAND

LONDON, Feb. 19.—While the armistice terms providing for the surrender of the forts at each end of the Kiel canal and at Helgoland, and the German warships now interned, so that these ships may be destroyed have not been fully agreed to, it is understood that the United States will make certain reservations so as not to establish precedents which might involve the fortifications of its own coastal canal systems, such as the Cape Cod and other Atlantic waterways. So far it is understood that the question of the fortifications at the Panama canal have not been mentioned but that the United States wishes to make possible the maintenance of certain fortifications.

It is reported that it is the intention of the allies to leave Germany a fleet large enough for defensive purposes but to make sure of the opening of the Kiel canal.

It has been announced in the commons that Germany, up to Feb. 14, had surrendered 15,326 freight cars and that up to Feb. 9, the British had received the surrender of the following armament and equipment: Heavy guns, 2,600; field guns, 2,500; machine guns, 25,000; trench mortars, 3,000; airplanes, 1,700; locomotives, 4,000; motor trucks, 1,200.

MEDIUM GRADE SHOES NOW IN BIG DEMAND

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—Manufacturers of medium grade men's shoes report a better business. One large concern that up to the last week of December complained of receiving no orders, with plenty of cancellations instead, is now viewing the situation in a more optimistic mind. However, manufacturers of men's work shoes are not getting the orders they ought to. Some factories in this district specializing in those lines will have to curtail within a short time if business is not forthcoming. The situation in women's shoes has not changed, and few orders are few. Prices keep very firm.

TWO SETS OF OPINIONS

In regard to the future there are two sets of opinions deserving attention. One believes that business will be very good and prices remain as high as they are and possibly go higher. They think that labor will continue to be well employed at advantageous wages. The other opinion, although recognizing many points of the first as being valid, thinks that so much can happen between now and next winter that they prefer to work on conservative lines. Those who hold that opinion believe the demand will then center upon $7 and $8 shoes. They feel that anything above $10 is too high, whatever the leather market may be. There are certainly no signs of decreased wages in the shoe industry, but it is hard to say how the lowering of the cost of living will affect them. One very large manufacturer is already arguing that they should be lower, but the majority certainly do not think in this manner.

CLEANING OUT SHELVES

Shoe retailers in this district are busy cleaning out their shelves and include staple men's shoes in their list of offerings. They certainly feel that the old prices were too high and that it is time to reduce profit for the sake of volume.

There is a fair demand for hemlock sole leather, and quotations for the week for No. 1 heavy standard tan range from 46 cents for the best down to 40 cents for No. 3. Production is fairly large. Union leather continued to sell actively in cow weights, and there was more trading noted on heavy weights. Lower selections are also easier to move than they have been for some time past. There is some export demand, but nothing compared to what it might be if it were not for embargoes and other restrictions. Oak leather is selling fairly well, with bonds of good quality quoted at 85 cents and 90 cents for Nos. 1 and 2. Steer backs are still on the basis of 75 cents. Finders' leather sells without difficulty at top prices. Offal is selling at a variety of prices, according to quality, and some selections are stronger than ever. Hemlock bellies are selling at 15 cents; oak bellies, 27 cents to 30 cents, with some at 20 to 25 cents, and union bellies at 15 to 23 cents, according to weight. Double rough oak shoulders are quoted from 50 to 60 cents. Belted butts are selling up to 35 cents for the very best, 23 and 21 cents asked for light weights.

CALFSKIN QUOTATIONS

Calfskins are generally quoted on the basis of 75 cents for the best colors. Some special shades range up to 80c. However, some producers are not asking over 72 cents. There is a large amount of low grade leather on the market now offered at prices over those ruling two weeks ago. There is more demand than supply for ooze calf at 90 cents a foot. Black glazed kid is generally quoted around 70 cents for the best grades of black. Some lines are said to be higher and some lower. Raw material is in scant supply and new arrivals will help but little. Patent leather in top selections sell well and are now quoted at 60 to 64 cents. Low grades are difficult to get rid of. Chrome side leather was generally marked up this week 2 cents a foot. Colored kip sides are now quoted up to 50 cents for the best colors. It is still difficult to induce manufacturers to buy low grades. Bark and combination sides are not easy to sell, and there is plenty of unfinished army leather to be had for work shoes. Sheepskins can sell easily when the best grades are offered, but manufacturers are not interested in inferior selections.

Less interest this week than last. Some tanners are well supplied and out of the market until good hides come back. Extremes could be sold up to 24½ cents for the choicest. Sales made between 23 and 24 cents. Bufts are still hard to sell alone, but some are moving in conjunction with extremes.

COTTON CROP HAS FINE PROSPECTS IN TORREON

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 19.—According to information brought here by arrivals from the Torreon section of Mexico, one of the greatest crops of cotton in the history of the Laguna district, which is provided irrigation by a plentiful supply of water in that rich agricultural valley, has been planted and promises a record crop. Recently the farmers of the Laguna district near Torreon harvested one of the greatest wheat crops ever in Mexico, aggregating 50,000,000 bushels, while the biggest corn crop of the district was also grown and harvested a few months ago.

MIMIC JAIL BREAKER FAILS WHEN UNDER ARREST

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 19.—Breaking out of a real jail is another thing. Attest, Jack Carson, billed in Yavapai as "Nemo the Jail Breaker." Incarcerated here for stealing a $200 diamond, he couldn't realize on his ability to perform any of his marvelous exhibitions of jail breaking, handcuff slipping and chain breaking.

COOTIE SENT AS GIFT

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 19.—There is one less cootie in France and one more in Waukegan. Mr. and Mrs. David Erwin have received from their son Sergeant Jack Erwin a package containing a cootie.

Humor Crops Out in Bomb Reward Case

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—The city billboards and signposts were flooded recently with huge placards offering $10,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the persons who planted the bombs which on December 31 damaged the homes of several prominent city officials.

There is a humorous twist in the placards because of the fact that in eight-inch type they announce that the rewards for the "violators of the city's fair name" is offered in behalf of the municipal authorities by "I. Thomas B. Smith," who is at present standing trial on charges of violation of the Shearn Act and misdemeanor while in office.

FALLS DEAD IN HALL AS HE FINISHES A SQUARE DANCE

FULTON, Mo., Feb. 19.—Luther Black, 35 years old, dropped dead in a dance hall in Fulton, Mo., after a failure, superinduced by a recent attack of influenza, was the cause. Black had just finished a square dance and collapsed as he was leaving the floor. He was a son of Thomas Black, a prominent Boone county farmer.

Chains His Roll; Fishes for Dips

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 19.—W. H. Johnson, farmer from Northern Minnesota, sure had one swell time "puttin' it over" on the dumb smart city "dips" during a recent visit to the Minnesota metropolis. Johnson used a roll of real cash—$125 in bills—as bait and landed four fresh city "suckers" with it.

The first two of the city guys got a flash at Johnson's roll as he walked down the street, the end of the full-grown roll protruding from his vest pocket. They went for the bait—hook, line and all—but pulled up with a sudden jerk.

One end of a well-forged chain was fastened to the roll of $125—the other end to Johnson. Johnson turned the pair over to the police.

The following night two more city sharks reached for the roll and a few minutes later were occupying adjoining cells and exchanging notes with the suckers of the night before.

FINDS MASTODON TOOTH

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—A mastodon tooth, weighing four pounds and measuring eight inches in length, five inches by three and one-half across the top, has been found on a farm near Virginia, Ill., by Charles Tibbs.

Curling Iron Fires Celluloid Comb

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 19.—The thoughtless woman, a curling iron, celluloid comb and some dainty fixture of milady's dressing table are the causes of many fires in this country. H. H. Friedly, Indiana fire marshal, told the Optimist club here. Hurriedly dressing for a party or shopping trip, the woman heats the curling iron, uses it, drops it, still hot, on a celluloid comb or the dresser scarf and rushes away. The result—a fire.

NO PHONES, MOVIES OR AUTOS IN HER LIFE—90

WINCHESTER, Mass., Feb. 19.—Mrs. Mary Anna Hutchinson, who died at her home here, aged 90 years, never used a telephone, rode in an automobile or attended a moving picture show. She lived in this town 88 years. Mrs. Hutchinson was born in Boston and was the great-granddaughter of a member of the Boston Tea Party of 1773. Her childhood home was on Purchase street, Boston, within a short distance of the wharf where the tea was thrown overboard.

Champion Miner Is Now No More

FROSTBURG, Md., Feb. 19.—Lawrence B. Finzel, known as the champion coal miner of the United States, is dead, and his passing has called attention to several of his exploits. Several years ago he loaded in one year 4000 tons of coal, an average of about 12 tons a day. His pay was $2360.60. This was at a time when wages were two to three times lower than at present.

On one occasion he was given a heading to drive and two other miners were given an air course. In one month Finzel had driven the heading 60 feet deeper in the coal than the others had driven the air course.

Finzel was an object of curiosity among physicians and he was often invited to hospitals for examination.

COW HAD GOAT APPETITE

URBANA, Ohio, Feb. 19.—Rural Mail Carrier Robert S. Middleton was the owner of a valuable cow. She took sick and baffled the combined efforts of two veterinarians, and finally died. A post-mortem was held and wire nails and barbed wire were found in the stomach.

"I did not know that there was a goat strain in the breed" was Middleton's comment.

Sleep is the Body's Building-up Time

ONLY deep, sound sleep can restore the energy spent in your day's work.

You can't get this kind of sleep in a wooden bed that creaks and groans every time you move in it. Or a metal bed that rattles and sways. Or on a spring that sags—does not support the body.

People who know the facts are going beyond the mere looks of a bed, and asking about sleeping quality.

There isn't anybody anywhere but will sleep better in a Simmons Metal Bed and Slumber King Spring.

THE Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless. It locks firm at the corners. The corner locks are made of pressed steel—have much longer bearing surfaces than the average—fit true and snug—not a creak, rattle, or feeling of unsteadiness.

It is perfectly rigid—feels and moves like one solid piece.

The Simmons Pressed Steel Corner Locks are protected by basic patents. They are the most fundamental inventions of modern bed manufacturing—exclusive with Simmons, not to be duplicated or imitated.

And these patented corner locks have made possible the Three-piece Bed—the new Simmons idea—the spring forming a single unit with the side rails.

IF you want the most relaxing and constructive sleep anyone can get, you'll find it in a Simmons Twin Bed.

Everywhere people of refinement are learning that there's nothing like a separate bed for promoting perfect rest and good health.

This advanced thought about sleep has long been a Simmons specialty. They are pioneer makers of Twin Beds. There is nowhere a showing of Twin Beds equal to those produced by Simmons Company.

THE Slumber King Spring really does what you have always wanted a spring to do. It is a new and advanced idea. It is a system of elastic steel strips with spirals of high-test spring wire—so combined that the spring action is equal in all directions.

The Slumber King Spring yields to the weight of the body, but supports it. It fits square on the bed. It does not sag, hump—or lose its resiliency. It is always a firm, elastic foundation for the mattress. It invites sound, health-giving sleep.

The Slumber King Spring is finished in oxidized silver. It is rustproof. It has no loose ends or rough corners—cannot wear or tear the ticking.

NO doubt you're tired of trying to get the right kind of sleep in a bed made merely for looks.

You'd be glad to get a good metal bed. The Simmons Bed comes in brass, and in enamel with or without brass trimmings. Also beautiful natural wood effects.

Not all furniture dealers carry Simmons Beds. But leading merchants everywhere have a complete stock of Simmons Beds and Simmons Slumber King Springs.

If you do not know the Simmons merchants in this section, we shall be glad to send you their names.

The Man or Woman Who Can Eat Heartily and Not Feel Any Discomfort, Tells the Story.

Many people just hate to eat in company. They prefer to crawl into some by-place for a dyspeptic's plate of molly coddle. Business men often resort to this form of weakness under the belief they can work better. But it isn't what you eat, but what you digest that counts. Some stomachs can't digest even a glass of milk. So they simply keep on feeding dyspepsia and get gas, water brash, sour risings and so on that the better informed and hearty eaters entirely avoid. This they do by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many physicians prescribe them for indigestion, dyspepsia and other digestive disorders. They are sold at every drug store, everywhere, price 50 cents a box.

Episcopal Bishop Ont to Probe Charges Against Preachers' Home

That the National Episcopal secretary association, founded three years ago to provide homes for aged clergymen, is entirely independent of the bishop of the Episcopal diocese or the Episcopal church, and that, therefore, neither the bishop nor the church can institute an investigation of the association, was asserted today by Dr. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ church and founder of the association.

An investigation has been asked by Dr. E. J. H. Van Deerlin, assistant rector of Christ church, Ontario, who had been an inmate of the home conducted by the association, on a $5000 endowment made by E. L. Doherty.

Dr. Van Deerlin claims that, despite the fact the $5000 was supposed to provide a home for him for the rest of his life, Dr. Lee told him a year ago to leave the home, and that he could never get any explanation as to why he was ousted.

BISHOP ABSENT

Bishop Johnson was out of the city when Dr. Van Deerlin made a demand for an investigation, but Dean MacCormack, rector of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, stated that an investigation might be a desirable thing.

"However," Dean MacCormack said today, "I must agree with Dr. Lee in his claim that the Episcopal church has no jurisdiction over the home. The inquiry has been worth while if it has made clear to the public the fact that the church had had nothing whatever to do with the home, and is in no way responsible for it."

Dr. Lee stated today that while anyone would be welcome to investigate the home, and that it is really a fine institution, there is nobody authorized to conduct a probe, and that if Dr. Van Deerlin's complaints were not annoying and "gross ingratitude," they would be amusing. "Dr. Van Deerlin was in the home for two years," Dr. Lee said. "His wife was with him, and for a good part of the time his daughter was there. He was not sent there by Mr. Doherty, as the latter had never seen him. When Mr. Doherty gave that $5000 he asked me to send some one to the home."

ASKED TO LEAVE

"Dr. Van Deerlin made himself so objectionable to the management of the hotel that I was forced to ask him to leave. He tried to run everything and everybody. Although under no obligation at all, we gave him $50 a month for a year after he left there."

"Our plan for the home is to accept the $5000 donations for retired clergymen and their wives, in order to get money to complete the purchase of the home. When it is completed we will take couples in without any charge, and we have also decided not to limit it to clergymen, but to take in any needy, aged couple."

"The Episcopal church has never given a dime to this home, or helped in any way, and it has nothing to do with the situation now."

The home is known as the Casa Blanca hotel at Ontario, and $46,000 has been used for the purchase of the property. There remains $104,000 to pay before the association will own the hotel. All funds have been raised by subscriptions.

Invoke Initiative in 'Gas' Ordinance

According to John P. Steele an initiative petition providing for the restoration of the city's former ordinance fixing a high standard for gasoline sold in this city, soon will be placed in circulation. This action, Steele said, was to be taken because the city council had adopted the government gasoline specifications, which were said to be lower than those of the city's old ordinance.

MANY MATCHES IN SIGHT FOR LEONARD

By JACK VEIOCK

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, will not have to pine for action when he returns to the east from California, where he is starring among the four-rounders.

With the promoters of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other states planning stellar attractions and New York on the verge of bringing boxing back, the woods will be full of offers.

Promoter Dave Mackay of Newark announced today that he is offering Leonard $10,000 to meet the winner of the coming bout between Lew Tendler of Philadelphia and Joe Weiling, the crack Chicago biffer. Mackay wants to stage the bout before May 1.

Dick Curley, New Haven promoter, wants Leonard for four bouts, and Philadelphia promoter will tie with each other in making offers to the champion to meet Lew Tendler, who is being touted as the next lightweight champion.

Tendler has risen so rapidly in lightweight circles that the wise birds predict he will be seen in the ring with Leonard before many moons have passed.

Walling, who kept in condition in the navy, is also getting considerable attention as a lightweight contender.

Rickard Still Seeks
Site for Big Battle

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—On his departure here last night for Texas Tex Rickard, promoter of the coming Willard-Dempsey fight, intimated that he would likely get a site for the battle somewhere in Illinois.

Local sportsmen here believe that this will be an impossibility, the standard that boxing is illegal in this state.

Buzukos Challenges
Eddie O'Connell

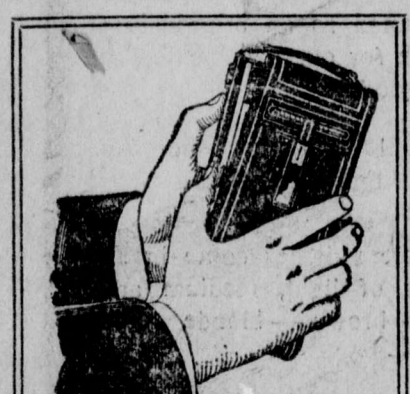

Pete Buzukos, welterweight wrestler, arrived in Los Angeles today from the Imperial valley, where he has been wrestling, with a challenge to meet Eddie O'Connell on a winner-take-all basis.

Although he weighs only 143 pounds, Buzukos says he would not hesitate to meet Young Gutch in a handicap affair.

BIG OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG
PLAYERS, DECLARE MANAGERS

Young ballplayers will be given more opportunities to make good this season and in future years than in the past, is the belief of Wade Killifer and Bill Essick, the men who will handle the baseball hopes of Southern California.

With the abolition of the draft the Class AA clubs will feel more like trying out young players. In past years if a good youngster was developed the majors had the right to draft him for $2500. But now the minors can keep their young players until they see fit to sell them.

It has been the policy of most clubs in Class A and Class AA to depend upon veterans. To prove a better investment financially and far safer for a manager to spend $1000 or $1500 for a man whom he knew could deliver in his league than to try out a dozen youngsters and not find a single peach in the lemon basket.

Then if one was found he was whisked away at the end of the season.

MANY YOUNGSTERS

In spite of the unfavorable conditions the Coasters developed such players as Chase, Hollister, Bancroft and a host of others. Bill Per-tica was the Angels' youngster last year, while Bobby Meusel was one of the recent Vernon lads.

While the Coast league paid some attention to youngsters the American association and other high grade minors overlooked them almost entirely. To remedy that state of affairs the Southern league has passed a rule that only seven men of Class A experience can be on one club in that circuit. It is believed the rule will do more than anything else to develop youngsters. But it also has peeved the Southern league fans.

This year Killifer will try out Sullivan at first, Coulterjohn at third and Andrews at short. He saw Andrews work last year and believes the lad has the making of a good player.

Bill Essick promised Frank Hunt of San Diego a trial and a number of other lads will be out in an effort to take some of the places of the Vernon regulars.

Walter McCredie always has one or two youngsters. Eddie Herr, the Salt Lake manager, is expected to try out a large number of youngsters. Cal Ewing of the Oaks always has been a strong booster for young blood and he is expected to have a number of them ready for Del Howard. The Oakland manager has been working in the shipyards at Oakland and he may pick up one or two of the promising youngsters who played in that league.

There is one kickback to the abrogation of the agreement between the minors and the majors. In the past few years the Class AA clubs had first call on the men dropped by the majors. Now the major league clubs claim the right to place their players in any league they see fit.

CAMP DODGE, Ia., Feb. 19.—Sergeant Earl Caddock, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, should arrive in the United States from France in the next few weeks, according to word received here today.

Caddock in a letter to a friend stationed at this cantonment declared that he had decided to quit the wrestling game and devote his time to operating a Wyoming ranch.

The heavyweight champion, has been in France with the United States army for a number of months.

Gossip

By MATT GALLAGHER

The call of baseball has proved so strong that Wade Killifer will not wait until March 10 to start the spring training season.

The red-topped leader of the Seraphs will be out at Washington park starting to warm up his right arm for the coming year. A half-dozen other members of the Angel band are expected to be with him.

Killifer says he needs more time than most of the other players to get in shape. He also intends to have a few of his pitchers worked out.

Coulterjohn, the Marine sharpshooter who will be out for the third base position; "Red" Andrews, who is after the shortstop berth, and several other youngsters also are expected to be on hand for the early practice.

Bill Essick had his ball club lined up so early that he felt he could take on the added responsibility of driving a motor car.

Eddie Herr, new manager of the Salt Lake club, had experience in handling Class D baseball clubs years ago. He was successful then and was signed as a scout because of his ability to pick young ball players.

"Scotty" Finlay, trainer for the Los Angeles club, has come to terms with John Powers and he will handle the Angel athletes this year.

"Shine" Scott will be back with the Tigers. As Chet Chadbourne remarks, "It wouldn't be the Vernon club without 'Shine' around."

Tom Stephens, part owner of the Salt Lake club, is in Los Angeles for a visit. He says the Seals are fairly well lined up for the coming season. Kamm, third base, and Cavenay, at second, are two of the new men who will be seen by Coast league fans. Charley Graham is after a pair of catchers.

With good weather at Salt Lake city the opening week of the season the Coast league should get a good start. The other games will be at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento and that practically assures the league officials of good weather.

Walter McCredie added another catcher to his club yesterday when he signed Boezelle, who was with Vancouver last season. Judge McCredie, owner of the Beavers, likes the way Boezelle handles himself behind the plate.

Bill Rodgers says he has the best catching staff in the league in Fisher and Easterly. Then he tries to trade one of them for a shortstop.

There is considerable talk of restoring railroad rates again. If the rates are put back it will mean a saving of thousands of dollars for Coast league teams and practically assure the success of the Coast league this season.

What the Boxers
Are Doing

By FANE NORTON

San Francisco sport writers and boxing fans call him "Lucky" Dundee owing to the breaks he gets in his close bouts in the north, but if Jimmy Dundee ever gets any more than a coming to him at Vernon he will have to have a change in luck or they will have to keep on changing referees or something like that.

Jimmy won the main event at Vernon last night but he didn't win the decision. Referee Artie Reynolds calling the bout a draw after four rounds of honest milling.

Weldon Wing made it decidedly interesting for Dundee all the way and at one time the third round it looked as if he would be returned a winner, but the fourth round was so far Dundee's that the Oakland boy was a much disappointed youngster when he failed to receive the award.

The first round was not particularly fast, as the boys were feeling each other out. Dundee was piling up a shade on points. Wing took the second round by good use of a left jab and in the third they went to it and battled all over the place.

It was Wing's best round and he opened a cut over Dundee's eye and otherwise mugged him up, but Jimmy fought back hard enough to almost hold his own.

The fourth was the real round of the mill. Dundee hooked repeatedly with his left and each time crossed with his right, hobbling Wing's head time and again. A boy less tough and less game would have been upset by the roughing, but "Tuffy" weathered it and was ready to go some more.

The round was Dundee's by such a big margin that it put him in front for the bout.

Earl Caddock was to have been matched with the winner but the draw verdict puts it up to the matchmaker to pick either Dundee or Wing. It looks as if Dundee will appear another week in Southern California.

Harry Lee took the boozing of his life in the semi-windup when he gave Young Golindo the decision over Kid Mende. If powder puff punches were to decide, Golindo would be the winner, but Mende out-gamed and out-roughed him all the way. Mende never let up and while he failed to get the decision, he did have him running all the way with the exception of a flash in the fourth round. A boy who tries as Mende did to conserve every advantage over a staller who doesn't give the crowd any sort of run. The worst Mende should have received was a draw, but he was entitled to the verdict if willingness to step receives the consideration it should.

Joe Brown received the verdict over Kid Jackson after four rounds of milling. Jackson started out with a good deal of stamina and liked the pace to well for him. It wasn't much of a battle, but Brown was entitled to the decision he received. He was expected, Mike Doll and Kid Strawhecker furnished the comedy bout of the night, Doll winning the decision.

Ted Levin fought a better bout than usual and gave George Mende a regular scrap, but George's cleverness enabled him to get out in front and he was never headed. Babe Crist took the decision from Mende in the curtain raiser. Crist scored a couple of knockdowns in the opener and it was lucky that he did, for he tired rapidly and he took the knockdowns to give him the edge. At that, Crist didn't look at all bad and if he gets in shape he will go good in the preliminaries.

Bob Summerville, formerly a local heavyweight boxer, was introduced from the ring. Bob left a leg in the Argonne forest and has just returned home from the German hospital in San Francisco. The big fellow had no more, than hopped over the ropes when a shower of money started and a purse of $516.52 was his inside of five minutes. Summerville has hundreds of friends in Los Angeles. He was popular as a boxer and was the first of the local athletes to come home disabled as a result of the war.

JACK DEMPSEY'S RISE IN GAME WITHOUT PARALLEL
IN HISTORY OF BOXING

By TOM THORP

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The meteoric rise of Jack Dempsey from an "unknown" boxer of the far west to a contender for the heavyweight championship of the world in a period of less than four years is without a parallel in the history of prize ring doings.

Should he succeed in wrestling the title from Jess Willard on Independence Day he will have achieved the most startling pugilistic record of all time.

No fighter since the memorable days of Terry McGovern, the pride of Brooklyn, and one of the greatest battlers that the sport ever produced, has won so much popularity among boxing fans as has the Salt Lake City challenger. The fact that he is the same slashing, smashing, ripping, tearing type of fighter that the Brooklyn champion was, has had much to do with gaining him prominence.

AN AGGRESSIVE FIGHTER
Dempsey from the time that he first learned how to put up his mitts in the ring, has been giving his best efforts in every fight he has engaged in. Willard's challenger has never heard of the word "draw" or "fight instead of stalling." No gallery-baiter has ever had occasion to whistle the "Merry Widow" while he was engaged in a ring contest. Jack has a long list of knockouts to his credit.

It is this slam-bang style of fighting that Jack is going to depend upon to win the heavyweight championship of the world for him next Independence Day. It is the sort of battling with which the late Terry McGovern conquered all rivals until that unfortunate Thanksgiving Day afternoon in 1901 at Hartford, Conn., when Young Corbett took the championship crown away from him.

Dempsey has profited by the example of the South Brooklyn battler. He realized prize ring popularity is to be won only by an exhibition of gameness and willingness to exchange punches with a rival under all sorts of conditions. The fighter who covers up when a rival displays a willingness to stand toe to toe and exchange wallops can never expect to win favor with the fans.

HAS FOUGHT BIG MEN
Dempsey has never shown the slightest sign of "backing away" from an opponent in any of his fights.

Willard Boxed but
Twice for Benefits
CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A statement made by Jess Willard, champion heavyweight of the world, who is to meet Jack Dempsey on July 4, that he had contributed liberally to every war cause and has boxed for every fund, has started a protest from war organizations.

The real fact is that only in two places did he perform with the gloves for a war benefit—once in Fort Riley, Kansas, and the other in Port Worth, Tex. Willard came to Chicago in July for a benefit bout for the Salvation Army, but never boxed because the local authorities objected to the affair being held.

IS COOL AND DELIBERATE
Some experts have pictured Dempsey as a rough and tumble slugger. Dempsey is not a skilful boxer, but he is a cool, cunning fighter who knows how to make the most of his natural ability and can take a wallop without looking for a soft spot to drop on. This latter fact is going to play an important role in his coming battle with Big Jess.

Dempsey was born of Scotch-Irish parents in 1895, being only 24 years of age. Reports that his mother was a descendant from the Cherokee Indians are denied by the fighter himself. He is proud of his Scotch-Irish ancestry. He is open in his declaration that the Irish strain is the one which made him the real fighter that he is.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Yussif Hussane, well known Turk wrestler, has been removed to the Garfield Boulevard hospital here for treatment of an internal ailment that is puzzling the doctors.

The wrestler was taken sick about 12 weeks ago and has had no relief since that time. He weighs but 159 pounds now where before he tipped the scales at 216. He has not appeared on the mat for the last four months and is under the care of Dr. B. W. Sippy.

Killifer, who was stationed at Campuster, was discharged yesterday and telegraphed Mitchell that he would join the Cub team on March 19, when the club will leave this city for Pasadena.

White Seeks Match
with Benny Leonard

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Charlie White, lightweight boxer, has started a campaign to force Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, to meet him in the squared ring.

Leonard, according to White, has refused to meet him in the ring on several occasions and the latter has instructed his manager, Nate Lewis, to get a list of the towns the champion intends to visit in his travels, and Charlie plans to meet Benny in every town.

Trench Drama Told on Stained Paper

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—About the most gruesome souvenir yet received from France has just been received from Corporal Julius M. Adams, One Hundred and Tenth Aero Squadron, in France.

The souvenir is just a tiny piece of blood-stained paper, but it brings a story of gripping drama. This is the message that accompanied the scrap of paper:

"I took this off the wall of a German billet. It contains the names of the men who slept there before I threw a hand grenade and cleaned out the bunch."

The names on the blood-stained paper are: Dendeburn, Pointek, Finger, Lange, Dorer, Dinkler, Rabenstein, Schulte, Bankye, Balke, Lunge, Schmarzenberger, Hess and Dobz.

Rolls Dice, but Gets 'Eleven' from Court

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—"To fine or not to fine, that is the question," mused Recorder Johnson when dusky William Shakespeare, charged with rolling dice, told his name.
"How about it, Bard of Avon?" queried his honor.

Reciting a "Winter of discontent" Bill told of a lot of hard luck and acknowledged "rolling the bones."

"Eleven bones," quote the judge, and called the next case.

WHO'S THERE, ASKS VICTIM;

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—"Who's there?" demanded William Whitecraft from the head of the stairs in his home at midnight.

EX-POLICEMAN IDENTIFIED AS BANDIT

Man Nabbed on Year-Old
Street Car Robbery in
St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—Bird Kilgore, who gives his St. Louis address as 4320 St. Louis avenue, former policeman and former motorman for the United Railways, was identified by William F. Daniels, 3925 North Twenty-third street, a conductor on the Lee avenue line, as the man who held him up twice during the summer of 1917 and shot him in the hand the second occasion.

Kilgore was brought back from Philadelphia today on a charge of jumping an $800 bond on which he was at liberty under a charge of carrying weapons. He had been traced through a letter he sent to his wife.

BANDIT TOOK $19.80
Daniels and Archibald Morris, 4022 Grove avenue, motorman on his car, were held up at Taylor and Lee avenue the night of July 19, 1917, when they got off the car for a moment. Daniels was relieved of $19.80 and a watch belonging to his wife.

On the night of Aug. 2, 1917, the same man, wearing a false mustache, is alleged to have boarded the car and again held Daniels up. Daniels was armed but his revolver failed to work. The man shot Daniels in the right hand.

He is alleged to have boarded the car a third time, later in the summer, but escaped before Daniels could summon a policeman.

On Dec. 31, 1917, Kilgore was arrested in a saloon at 211 North Eighth street, on suspicion, and a charge of carrying concealed weapons was placed against him. He obtained release on bond, but left the city before the date of his scheduled hearing. Kilgore quit the police force in April, 1912, to become a motorman for the United Railways, it is said.

Head of Missouri State Life
York

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—After having distributed between $500 and $600 in tips to the employees of the Ritz Carleton hotel in New York last Saturday and Sunday, J. S. Kendall, president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. of St. Louis, was voluntarily placed in the psychopathic ward of the Bellevue hospital there, according to dispatches.

New York failed to understand the unusual generosity of the St. Louis man, brought about according to officials of the company, by celebration over a successful business deal. An official who talked with Kendall over the long distance telephone said Kendall explained to him that he was merely gleeful over some business matters which had been cleared up and staged a celebration. He pronounced it absurd that any one should think his mind affected.

Kendall and George Graham, a vice president of the company, went to New York a week ago on a business trip. Kendall was accompanied by his wife. They were staying at the Pennsylvania hotel until Saturday, when they moved to the Ritz Carleton. The business matters had been cleared up then and Kendall, according to the explanation, became hilarious. Saturday afternoon he began giving away money among the employees of the hotel. Two, five and ten dollar bills were taken from a roll which he carried in his pocket and distributed indiscriminately.

The generosity caused guests at the hotel to become alarmed. Mrs. Kendall then called in a physician and at 5 p. m. Sunday, Kendall was bundled into an ambulance and taken to Bellevue hospital.

Kendall formerly was an investment banker of Dallas, Tex. He was elected president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. Sept. 27, 1918, following a contest of Texas and Missouri interests controlling the company.

He has been making his home at Portland place and Kings highway.

CHURCH

Pillar Is Found Filled with Gasoline; Fire Department Is Called

DAMAGE IS NOMINAL

Several Other Places of Worship Fired by Maniac in Past Two Months

Unidentified incendiaries made a daring attempt early today to destroy the Swedish Methodist church at Fifteenth and Los Angeles streets.

H. Reichard of 2626 North Broadway discovered a pillar on the front porch of the edifice ablaze. He telephoned the fire and police departments, and then fought the flames with sand. He extinguished the fire before apparatus arrived.

FIND GASOLINE

Capt. E. H. Enos of the bureau of fire prevention and Detective Sergeants Herman Cline and Sidney Hickok found a bottle which had contained gasoline in the charred pillar. They reported the incendiaries apparently placed the large bottle in the pillar and set the inflammable liquid afire. The bottle broke and gasoline flowed from the pillar onto the porch.

NOMINAL DAMAGE

Reichard's attention was attracted as the oil blazed up. He said he saw no suspicious persons about the church as he approached the place.

Nominal damage was done by the fire. The detectives sought suspects today.

During the last two months several churches have been burned by incendiaries, and the authorities are of the opinion a crank is at work.

Osage Indian Leaves
$62,500 Oil Estate

Moses Robert Shaw, said to be a member of the Osage Indian tribe, left an estate, valued at $62,500, according to a petition for probate of his will, which was filed for probate today.

Shaw, who lived at 1121 West Sixty-first street, acquired the bulk of his fortune through his share of a leasehold interest in oil bearing lands in Oklahoma. The lands were a part of the share distributed by the government to members of the tribe. Shaw owned 150 acres of this land, according to the petition, and his share of the income from the oil was valued at $50,000. The estate is left to the widow.

Meet at Friend's
Bier and Settle
Suit for $40,000

With the dismissal today of the $40,000 slander suit of A. Eisenberg against David Goldstein and his wife there was brought to light the story of a broken friendship renewed by the litigants at the grave of a mutual friend.

It was at the funeral of the late M. Schneiderman, held a few days ago, that Eisenberg and the Goldsteins met, and over the bier of their friend agreed to forget their differences and bury old animosities.

Rivalry over the efforts of factions to control a Jewish charitable organization, of which Eisenberg was treasurer, was said to have been at the seat of the trouble between the litigants.

DIVORCES WIFE, ONCE
BANDIT'S SWEETHEART

Recalling the story of the alleged infatuation of a young wife for a train bandit and her flight from home in his company, to be forgiven afterwards by her husband, Roy S. Statler was granted a divorce by Judge Crail from Lola I. Statler.

It was in 1913 that Mrs. Statler, then a bride of a few months, became infatuated with Ralph Fariss and she was said to have been his sweetheart at the time he killed H. A. Montague, a traveling passenger agent, on a train near this city, Dec. 1, 1913. Mrs. Statler was questioned by the authorities at the time, but denied she had any knowledge of the crimes planned and committed by Fariss, and she was released.

After Fariss was executed for the slaying of Montague, Mrs. Statler came back to her husband and asked to be forgiven. Statler agreed to forgive and forget and they lived together for a short time. In 1915, Statler alleged his wife became dissatisfied and deserted him again.

The story of the two separations was related on the witness stand by Statler, who told Judge Crail she came to his place of business in San Pedro a day or two before she left the last time.

"I am not satisfied to live here," he testified she told him. "I am going away and I am not coming back." The following day, he said, she left home and returned a few days later and took her belongings away. He said he urged her to stay with him, but she refused. He only saw her once after that, he said.

Stephens Pledged to Aid Flood Control

Governor Stephens has pledged himself to urge the state board of control to provide the state's $1,050,000 for flood control for protection of the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors, as soon as possible. Only $250,000 of the sum has been made available for immediate use and the cost of rights of way for the necessary canal will exceed $1,000,000, it was stated at a hearing before the governor. The governor's pledge came after a hearing attended by the county supervisors, representatives of Los Angeles City and Long Beach, and of civic bodies.

Exclusive Cable to the International News Service and London Daily Express

LONDON, Feb. 19.—"The food controller in announcing a drop in the price of food made ominous remarks about our obligation to pay the guaranteed prices of wheat under war conditions to the United States," said the Daily Express editorially today.

The Daily Express is regarded in England as very close to the British government and its editorials are frequently considered as being semi-official. The editorial today continues: "If there is to be a loss, the taxpayers ought to bear it through the government and not through their own pockets. The country wants a reduction of prices proportionate to the immense stocks of food."

SAYS BRITAIN BEATS
U. S. COTTON PRICES

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Great Britain today buys cotton products far below the normal quotation, at the expense of the American cotton industries, "because President Wilson maintains the war export embargo," Representative Black of Texas told the house judiciary committee today, in urging repeal of the President's embargo powers.

The committee agreed to forward Black's resolution proposing the repeal to the war trade board for comment. "Evidently the embargo emergency still exists—the President has not lifted it," interposed Representative Reavis of Nebraska.

"I don't agree with the President. I think the emergency has passed," Black replied.

The war trade board in a recent letter to the house interstate commerce commission explained that the armistice compelled the continued enforcement of the embargo.

DIED 3 TIMES;

LOVE, OPERA
SINGER SAYS

Believes She Has Passed from Mortal Sphere and Body
and Soul Divided

SWOONED AT VOLCANO

Madame Mariska Aldrich Davis
Tells Experiences in 'Velvet of Utter Night'

That she has experienced death three times in her career—being brought back to life by the power of love—is the remarkable statement of Mariska Aldrich Davis, made today.

Her first experience came when she swooned on gazing into the lurid depths of the volcano Kileuea's crater, in the Hawaiian islands.

Her other "deaths"—as she views them—were phases of a serious illness through which she passed.

Each time, she firmly believed, she passed from the mortal sphere. She believes her soul left her body and that love alone was the revitalizing, resurrecting force that brought it back.

Telling of her trip to the volcano, when she had her first weird experience, she said that as she reached the edge of the crater the awe-inspiring magnitude of it overcame her. Gasping, she swooned, and was not revived for several hours.

FLOATED IN SPACE

On regaining consciousness she was able to give the most exact description of the crater and its surroundings, stating that she had felt herself floating over the volcano and looking down into its depths.

This occurred two years ago.

Last November Mme. Davis was taken seriously ill, and this time she seemed, one night, to have indeed slipped into the other world as she lay with her daughter's arms about her.

Her heart and pulse to all intents and purposes had ceased their functioning and the pallor of death appeared upon her brow.

On her return to consciousness she was able, quite clearly, to tell her experiences.

VOID OF BLACKNESS

Again she was floating—this time in a gigantic endless void of utter blackness. Blackness that could almost be felt, so thick and velvet and menacing was it. No sound penetrated the great spaces in which she floated—no light—no consciousness of pain or pleasure. Only the deep, sullen midnight darkness surrounded her ever floating body.

Two days later a similar condition occurred—again family and physicians thought the end had come. Indeed, Madame Davis' daughter Meeka speaks seriously of "when mother died."

Again she was lost in the velvet of utter night—her body and soul divided. Only this time, while eternity was born, she floated toward a narrow ribbon of overpowering light—blinding in its intensity.

Again she returned to this world, called each time by love, or so the artist believes.

RECALLED BY LOVE

"Both times," says Madame Davis, "I was recalled to this world by the strength of love—first my daughter and then my husband. Had I been alone I should never have 'come back' and had I gone a third time I know I should have beheld that entire land from which the powerful blinding stream of light gleamed—which would have meant the end."

Madame Davis, known better as Mariska Aldrich, has never studied the occult, but she has never denied the possibility of anything because she herself has never experienced it.

This service flag is published in honor of the 85 employees of The Evening Herald who are serving their country.

Plea for COMPLETE Change in Management of State School for Girls Should Be Heeded

REPRESENTING the women of California, five prominent clubwomen have appeared before Governor Stephens and insisted on a complete change in the management of the State School for Girls at Ventura.

These representative women demand not only sweeping reforms at the school and drastic changes in the personnel of the management of the school, but they go farther and INSIST ON A COMPLETE REORGANIZATION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE SCHOOL, WITH AT LEAST THREE OF THE FIVE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD "NEW BLOOD" NOT AFFILIATED IN ANY WAY WITH THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION OF THE SCHOOL OR THE PRESENT BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

It is stated that at this time three of the five trustees of the Ventura school are merely carrying on duties which there is no official reason for them continuing. The terms of two of these trustees have expired and a third trustee has resigned.

Governor Stephens, therefore, has a perfect right now to fill these vacancies that exist on the board. Without removing any member of the board and without causing recriminations, the governor may appoint to these three places three women who will effect the necessary changes in the policies of the Ventura state school.

The supervisors of the county of Los Angeles have already gone on record as refusing to send any more girls from Los Angeles to the Ventura state school unless sweeping reforms are made.

The clubwomen's committee, representing tens of thousands of California women, told Governor Stephens yesterday that they did not believe sweeping reforms would be made unless there was a majority of "new blood" on the board of trustees.

These women have carefully perused all the reports on the Ventura school.

The official findings of the State Board of Charities and Corrections said:

That there had been incarceration of girls in the "No Privilege" cottage at the school for long periods of time—in one instance 93 days.

That girls had been "hosed"—that is that water had been violently squirted on them with a three-inch fire hose held by an official of the school.

That girls had been given hypodermic injections of apomorphine for the purpose of producing nausea.

That girls were given baths in tubs of floating ice.

That mouth washes of cayenne pepper were given.

The girls in "No Privilege" cottage were in unheated cement cells.

BUT IN THE VERY FACE OF THESE FINDINGS BY THE STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF VENTURA SCHOOL MAKES THIS REPORT:

"It is again our pleasure to express our continued confidence in the superintendent, Mrs. C. M. Weymann. We wish to express our hearty appreciation of Mrs. Weymann's devotion to and enthusiasm for the work of the school, the success of which is due to her efforts and the co-operation of her teachers and assistants."

What sort of a "house-cleaning" would a board having a majority assenting to this praise of the Ventura school make?

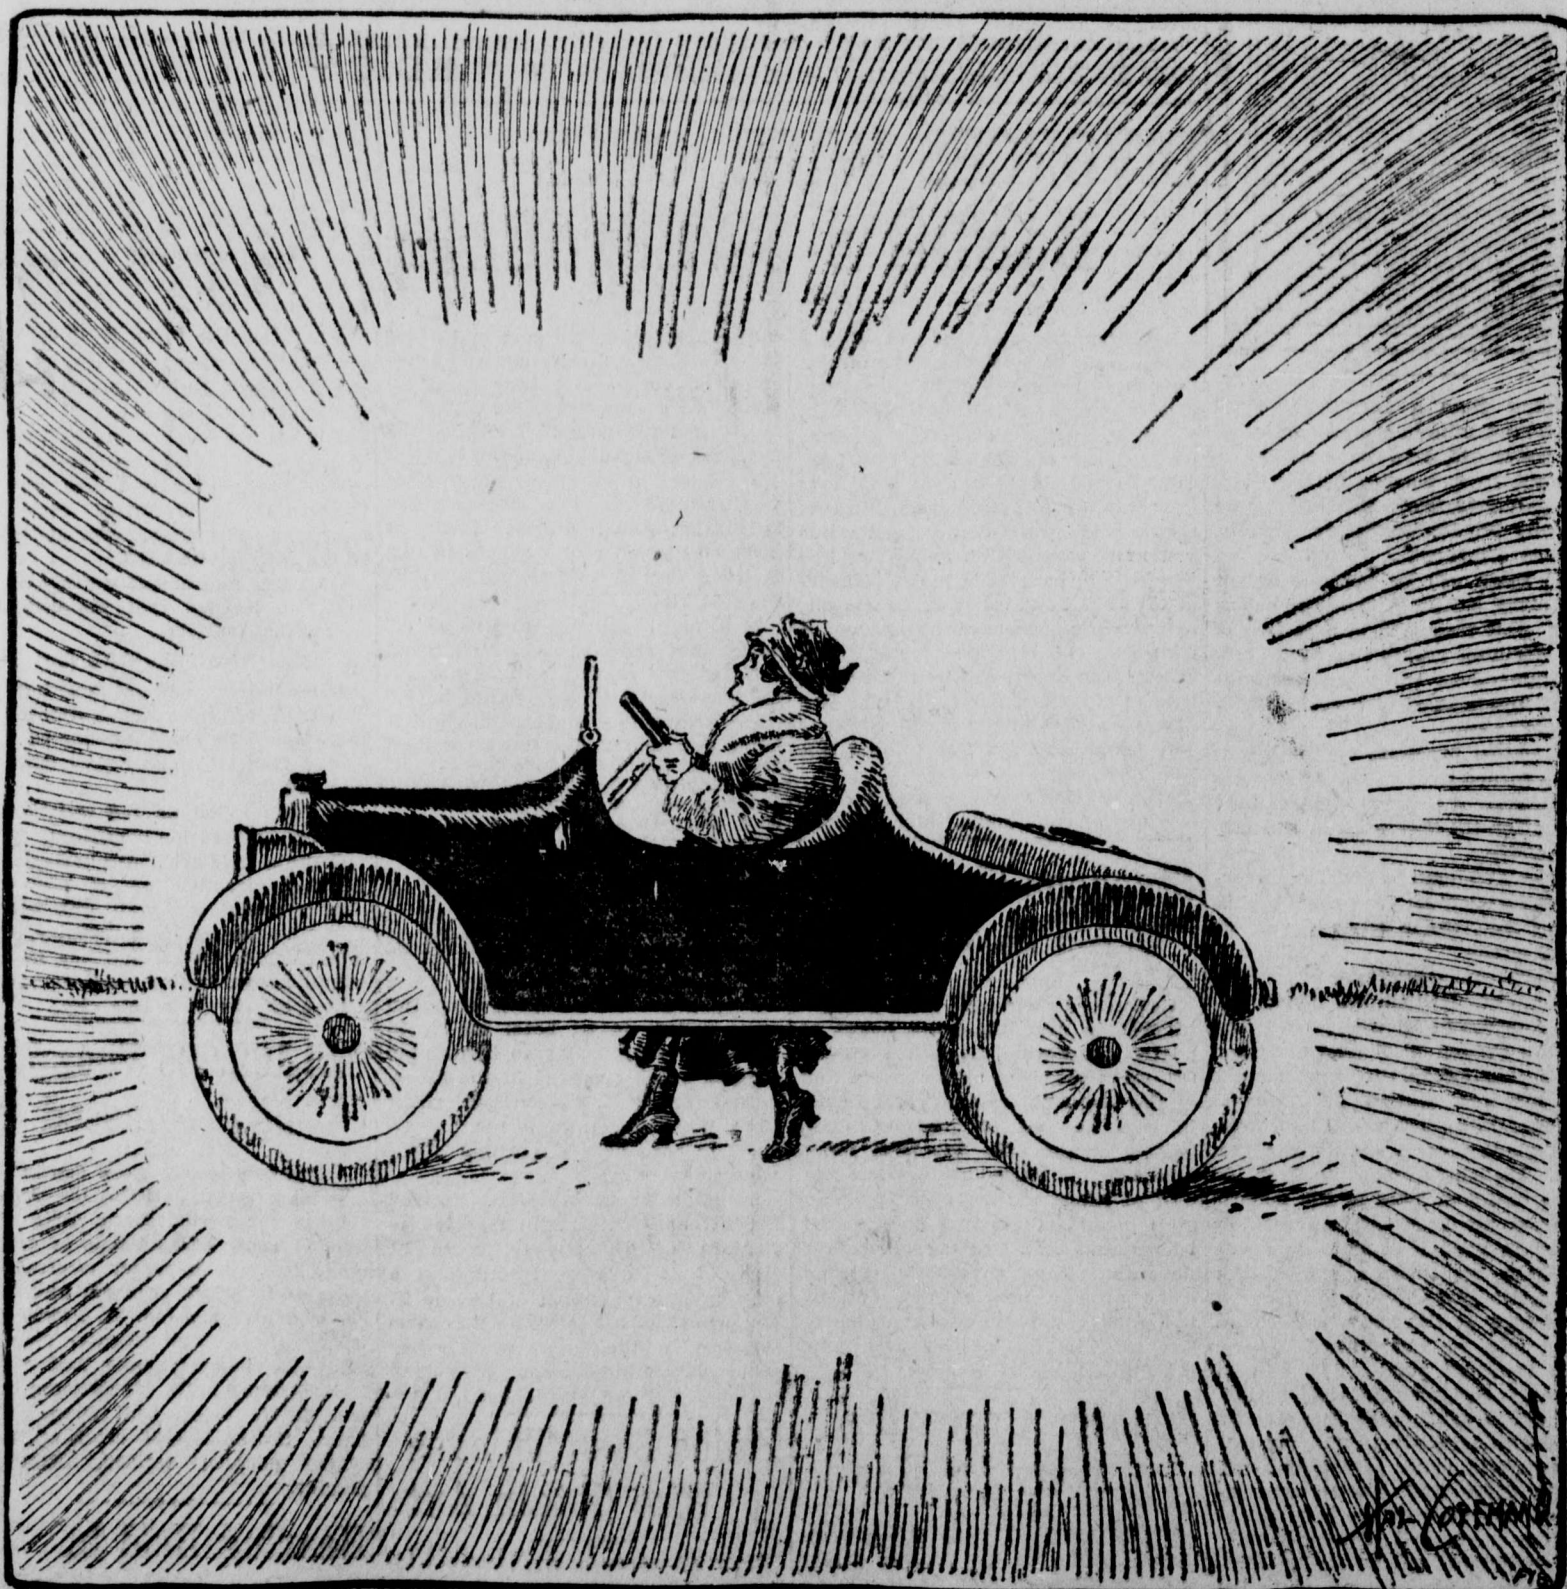

The clubwomen, representing the women of California, who called on Governor Stephens yesterday, told the governor plainly that they expected no reforms of real value unless the whole administration of the school was changed and new ideals and vision for the school were introduced.

It is to be hoped that Governor Stephens will act on broad grounds of public policy and will not allow political considerations to influence him against the appeal of the women of California.

BRING HIM HOME WITH THE REST

WHOM ARE YOU FOOLING?

* Mrs. Fumididdle lives in the next block. Mrs. Fumididdle moves in our set and her husband makes $10,000 a year. My husband makes $5000. Of course it's nothing to me, but they have just bought a new car. Our car is last year's, so we are going to get a better car than the Fumididdles. Her gowns and dinners are very expensive and I don't want her to have anything on me—so my gowns and dinners are just as expensive as hers. I hear they are terribly in debt, but that's nothing—so are we. We owe the butcher, the grocer, the baker and the tailor more than the Fumididdles do anyway. The grocer was rude enough today to say: "Nothing more 'til you have paid your bill." The very idea! I shall get a new grocer. My husband says his firm's business is awfully dull since the war and he may be let out. I'm sure I don't know what's to be done. I wouldn't have the Fumididdles know of it for the world.

Try Not to Overeat

By DR. W. A. MCKEEVER

PEOPLE are dying at all ages from the disease of overeating. The food which is an excess quickly becomes poison when taken into the body, and at once a hindrance to the working of the muscle or the brain to its full capacity.

Food poisoning is rather difficult to detect, but it is common to children as well as to adults. One may be plump and fat and the "very picture of health" to the casual observer and yet on the verge of illness from a clogged system. Such a person is especially lacking in the reserve strength so necessary to combat freely such a disease as influenza.

"A healthy child is a hungry child," says a wise physician. That is, he is very hungry at the beginning of each meal and his appetite still has a thin edge when he quits. Such a child is also comparatively quick in his lessons and alert in his attention to every assigned task.

If some parents would give a little less attention to the training of their children to "eat nice and proper" and a little more attention to the quality and the quantity of the food eaten we would have more uniform good health among the young.

No, I do not mean here to urge fasting and semi-starvation for children—nothing of that character, but simply enough to eat, and nothing more. Therefore, watch the "big eater" among your flock. He is the one most likely to be threatened, if not actually afflicted, with incipient disease.

You cannot turn something into nothing. Food is food, and it must be transmuted into blood or bone or heat or energy—or poison. Too often it is the last named, an undigested mass of poison remaining overlong in the stomach and intestines and absorbed as poison—what we call auto-intoxication.

Unfortunately the child whose system is clogged constantly with more food than he can assimilate does not always manifest any outward disturbance of body or mind. But when he reaches full bodily development with the overeating as a fixed habit he is almost certainly started on a long period of broken or breaking health.

In a case of this kind the appetite often becomes even more abnormal and the craving for food practically beyond the control of the will. In not a few cases I have watched both men and women—outwardly appearing healthy—slowly bring themselves to chronic illness or an early death by the poisonous habit of overeating.

See that your children have an average quantity of food of good quality and make almost a religion of feeding them at certain regular intervals. They should be reasonably plump and round with a ruddy glow of the skin and a clear luster in the eye.

If you occasionally commit the sin of permitting your children to over-partake of rich food, better administer a purgative at once and free their systems of the burden. Enough is a plenty and more is a poison. Have them quit each meal while still a bit hungry.

THREE-MINUTE JOURNEYS

By TEMPLE MANNING

IT seems strange, indeed, that there should be a land where the customs haven't changed in 3000 years. And perhaps strangest of all is it that this land where things are done as they were 30 centuries ago should be Palestine, the Holy Land, which gave the two great monotheistic religions, Judaism and Christianity, to the world. Very progressive in thought in the old days, Palestine today is willing to live just as the inhabitants did ages ago.

One of the oddities of many a city in Palestine is the variety of ways the traveler may get his daily food. He may engage it to be served him in what answers for a hotel, or he may buy it of small restaurant-keepers, who open streets. A picture of one such street restaurant in Jerusalem was drawn from a photograph taken not very long ago.

Set in the street by the edge of what would be the sidewalk in one of our cities, this primitive restaurant consists merely of a box or two for a larder, and a tiny charcoal fire. Out of one of the boxes the restaurant keeper, who is his own cook, takes a tiny bit of meat, thrusts it upon an iron spit, and turns it over the fire until it is cooked. Then he hands it to the hungry customer who squats on the pavement and devours it with whatever the other delicacies he wishes and the restaurateur has to offer.

All this time—indeed, almost from sunup to sundown—the restaurateur smokes his water-pipe or narghile. First of all—even before business—he believes in comfort.

Contented is he when he has his larder full of the bits of meat and the odd, flat loaves of bread that form the bulk of the meals he sells. Customers may come or they may not appear.

If the worst comes to the worst the restaurateur and his family can eat the stock—which is one of the advantages of being in the restaurant business. This is the logic of the Arab, who is happy only when he's perfectly comfortable.

"ONCE OVERS"

"DADDY, I'll get breakfast for you; mother has a headache," exclaimed a little girl 10 minutes before the alarm went off.

But after one more snooze and a toilet which included shaving, Dad found little daughter still prinking and she hadn't been near the kitchen. "But it was so hard to lace my shoes," and "I could not find my big apron," was the excuse offered.

That little maiden, with the loving, helpful spirit, did not get anywhere with the morning meal because she did not get anything started. If she had had the teakettle boiling and the oven or toaster hot, she might have finished her own efforts at dressing later.

But she did not get a start. You will never get to the office at a given time if you do not start. You cannot be ready with the trial balance on the first day of the month if you do not start for it about as soon as you have finished the last one.

The whole thing is getting started right. There are heaps and heaps of good folk in this world who are just as short-sighted as the little girl who never accomplished anything because they never jump in and get started on time.

Shafts of Sunshine

Precedents mean nothing to some Presidents.

If we were Betsy-rossing it for the Czech-Slovak nation we'd rig them up a Czeched flag.

Did we understand the gentleman to say that government by Bolsheviks was government by the "rank and file"—or did he mean "rank and vile?"

The chorister desires to call attention to a slight change in the first line of the chorus—"Deutschland Ebert Alles."

Are you inclined to be short? Then straighten up.

Lots of people favor home rule—if it is some other fellow's home, and they can frame the rules.

We'll say the ex-kaiser spends a lot of time practicing to say "not guilty" first in one language and then in another.

Foch wasn't nearly so frightened at the Germans threatening not to sign the armistice extension as perhaps they thought he would be.

Congress talks much, but seldom convinces anybody of anything.

Deporting undesirables is another application of the principle of the Recall.

Doctor's Advice in Influenza

The first thing the doctor asks is whether or not the bowels are open and regular. If not he advises the use of a thorough cathartic. That is the first step in combating this dreadful sickness.

Doctors advise the use of a thorough cathartic in influenza prevention too. A cathartic which will completely empty the bowels of food-waste and stop fermentation and the dangerous poisons thus created and absorbed into the blood. This is a vital part of the influenza prevention.

Your druggist has a new, really pleasant tasting salts, a thorough laxative that will completely empty the digestive tract, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed. It is called SALINOS and is effective even if taken in cold water. Get a bottle for a quarter (larger sizes fifty cents and a dollar). Be safe! Take it tomorrow morning.—Advertisement.

L. A. High Graduate, Gassed on French Front, Is Back Home

After 15 months overseas service, Corp. Tracy Fulton, son of E. L. Fulton of 422 East Avenue Twenty-eight and member of the Rainbow division, One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, Company E, returned home today.

Corporal Fulton was gassed on Aug. 26 in the fighting about Chateau Thierry, and for the past five months had been in base hospitals 11 and 32 recuperating. He was finally transferred to the Letterman hospital in San Francisco.

"No one can imagine the sights which we saw," he said today. "Once I found myself in a field of 25,000 German dead in the Champagne sector. The horrors of battle, though, are something we all want to forget, not relate."

"On some fronts there was a perpetual roar—on others the firing was intermittent. I have lived in everything from muddy trenches to little holes in the ground which I have dug for myself."

PRISONER, NOW IN L. A., TELLS HOW CRUELTY

Taken prisoner while in mid-Atlantic by a Hun raider, carried with 500 other prisoners to Kiel, and thence to a German prison camp, Paul Phillips, British seaman, has arrived in Los Angeles with vivid tales of Prussian brutality.

Phillips is the 33-year-old son of Mrs. Matilda Phillips of 13 South Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena. He enlisted when the war broke out as a seaman on an English admiralty ship. His ship was captured by the German raider, "Moewe," on March 10, 1917.

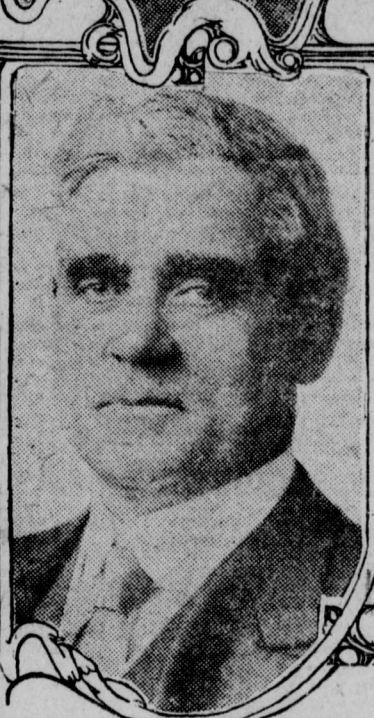

"Barley coffee, two ounces of bread for breakfast and at noon and night a bowl of thin turnip soup, was our menu," said Phillips today. "It never varied."

"We reached Kiel on March 23 and were transported at once to Dulman, where we were imprisoned for two months. En route there, we were given but one bowl of thin soup every 36 hours. From Dulman we went to Brandenburg, where we were treated even worse. We were at Lu-back when the armistice was signed."

"Although our clothes were half torn off us we were made to work on the docks or in the coal mines for 12 and 16 hours a day with no time off for Sunday even. And all this time our rations consisted of barley coffee and turnip soup."

"Except for the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. food sent in to us, we would every one of us have perished from starvation—as many did anyway."

LAETARE MEDAL TO BE GIVEN JOS. SCOTT

Marking the first time the honor has been conferred on a person residing west of the Mississippi river, the Laetare Medal, awarded annually by the University of Notre Dame, will be presented to Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, tomorrow evening.

The presentation exercises will take place at Shrine auditorium, with the Right Reverend John J. Cantwell, bishop of the see of Monterey and Los Angeles, presiding.

The formal speech of presentation will be made by the Very Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president of the Notre Dame university. The Knights of Columbus will be officially represented by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia.

The Laetare medal is the most highly coveted honor within reach of the Catholic laity of the country and the list of Laetare medalists includes the names of the most prominent Catholic men and women.

In the announcement of the award of the honor to Attorney Scott it was stated that the honor was conferred upon him for his "high spirited industry, which has made him a leader in California," his work as founder of the Newman club, his nation-wide tours as an apologist for Catholic principle, and, finally, because "he is, in the broadest and best sense of the word, a man."

The following committee of Knights of Columbus, appointed at the request of Bishop Cantwell, arranged the details for the presentation meeting:

Thomas P. White, W. Joseph Ford, Judge Paul J. McCormick, Frank P. Jenal, Charles F. Lenz, John F. Powers and John P. Burke.

Explains to Court in $65 Bad Check Case

William L. Gross, charged with issuing a fictitious check for $65, explained to Justice Summerfield that the check was issued in good faith. He declared that he and his wife used a joint bank account. Mrs. Gross drew all of the funds from the bank, while P. F. Mahoney, to whom Gross issued the $65 check, held it a month before cashing it. Gross was released on his own recognizance pending a hearing of the case. In the meantime Gross will have an independent bank account, he declared.

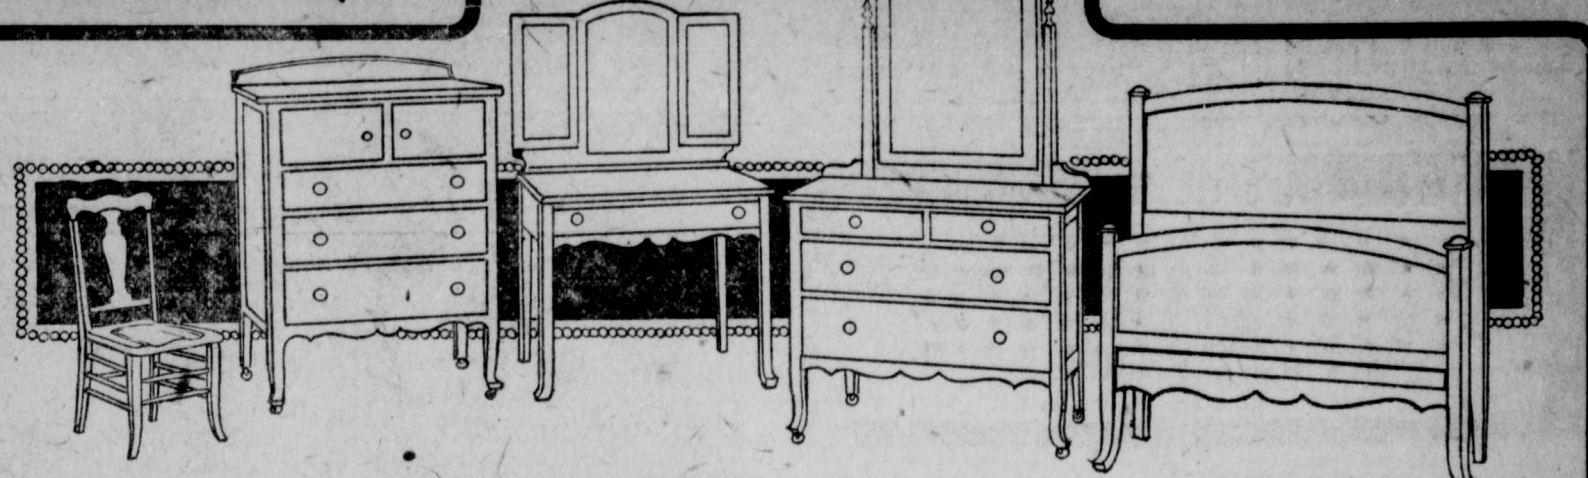

Organize Posse to Hunt Escaped Man

Deputy Marshal Dolph Bassett of this city has organized a posse in Northern Oregon and is trailing Frank Berek, alias Brighter, a noted counterfeiter who escaped from a moving train Saturday while enroute to McNeil Island prison to serve eight years. Yesterday Marshal C. Walton wired Bassett to remain in Oregon as long as there was a possibility of getting a trace of the escaped counterfeiter.

Revelations of a Wife Why Lillian Made to Madge the Strongest Declaration of Her Life

IN the hall of Mrs. Durkee's house, for the last few weeks "the house of mystery," there is a large closet diagonally across from the library. Toward this Lillian moved swiftly, noiselessly, while I, toiling after her, felt my breath coming unevenly in wonder as to the thing she meant to do.

She paused at the door, bent her ear to the keyhole—being careful, however, not to obstruct the light—and listened. Then she beckoned me to do likewise. As I did so, I distinctly heard the sound of suppressed breathing.

She gripped my arm, and showed me a heavy cloth reeking of floor oil, shut in the crack of the door. And then, indicating by a gesture that I was to hurry on, she inserted the key which she held into the lock and turned it. The following minute she was by my side hurrying toward the door and the next we were both upon the side veranda, exchanging careless perfunctory nothings with Dr. Pettit.

It wasn't until we were entirely within our own grounds that I ventured a question.

"Kato?" I asked.

"Kato, of course," she answered. "And that doddery old idiot—I beg your pardon, Madge, I really can't help my adjectives—I won't hear a word against him. I doubt if he would be convinced even at the sight of his faithful one doubled up in the closet where he dodged when I opened the door."

HAPPY GIGGLES HELPS DOTTY

"OH, dear!" exclaimed Dotty as she stood at the gate and watched her little girl friends go laughing down the road. "I can't do anything, have anything or see anything I want to." Two big tears ran down her cheeks and splashed on her pretty white apron. "It's a horrid old world. I wish I lived in Fairyland."

"Tut! Tut!" laughed a merry voice, and Dotty looked up to see her little elfin friend, Happy Giggles, smiling at her from his perch on the gate post. "What's all this wishing you lived in Fairyland?"

"So I could do something I want to do once in a while," pouted Dotty. "Now the girls are going to have a picnic and I can't go. Mama just won't let me do anything. Other little girls' mamas always let them do what they want to."

"Oh, dear me!" laughed Happy Giggles. "Here you are this lovely bright morning feeling sorry for yourself. If mama sees best to keep you at home why not play with your toys instead of pouting and fussing?"

"But all my toys are old," sobbed Dotty. "I haven't anything worth while to play with. There are all my dolls—either their hair is lost or some of their arms or legs are gone, and it's no fun playing with broken toys!"

"Perhaps not so much fun as playing with brand new ones," replied Happy Giggles, "but just think of the millions of little folks in this great, big world that haven't even broken toys to play with. Those are the ones you should be feeling sorry for yourself."

"I almost wish you would only stop and count the many good things they have every one would be happy instead of sad."

"That's just it!" exclaimed Dotty. "I haven't anything."

"Why, yes you have!" laughed the elfin, pointing to Dotty's two little feet. "You have two perfectly good feet that should this very second be running around having a merry time."

Think of the little ones who haven't good feet to play on. And you have two perfectly good arms and hands and a lovely mouth that should never pout. Why, dear little girl, this old world has been kind to you to give you all these blessings, besides a lovely mama who always knows just what's best for you even if you can't see it yourself. Just remember when you feel pouty and sorry for yourself that this old world is full of folks who need your sympathy more than you do yourself."

"I never thought of that," exclaimed Dotty with a smile. "I just thought I was abused, but I'll know better after this."

When mama called her into the house Dotty ran in with a song and a smile on her lips, and before very long the rain began to pour down and Dotty sat at the window and watched her little friends return from their outing all wet. Then she decided that Happy Giggles was right when he said mamas always know what's best for their little ones. She was glad indeed that she hadn't gone to the picnic.

The Dangerous Age Beatrice Fairfax Pens Article All Women Should Read

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IT was a very blind world that used to take it for granted that middle-aged women have outgrown romantic love.

Love, and its attendant joys and sorrows, and the housekeeping, the cook book and the sewing machine, whether she was married or single, whether she had known love or had only dreamed of it, the fires of romance were supposed to be dead and buried in her at thirty.

Then, two or three years ago, a European writer set the world gossiping by publishing a book called "The Dangerous Age." Dangerous, that is, because of its romantic susceptibility. Dangerous, because while it is particularly hungry for romantic love, romantic love isn't always within its reach. You see, we're not speaking of eighteen and nineteen, the time when romance promptly answers to romance. No, the "dangerous age" is—forty.

Eighteen and nineteen don't understand this idea in the least. They are incredulous and derisive. Everybody's safely married at forty, they protest. Everybody has a husband and a household of children. Isn't it only a little short of scandalous for a woman at that time of life to talk of romance?

"The Rebirth of Love"

But the truth is, of course, that there are plenty of women in the world who arrive at middle age with hearts unsatisfied. There are widows who have known a brief season of love, then a long period of loneliness, and who at 40, still young and with a keen zest for life, feel within themselves such possibilities of romance as 20 only gets a glimpse of.

There are unmarried women who have lost their lovers. There are others who never found the love ideal that their fastidious youth demanded. At 40 life has taught these women a good deal. They feel that above all other things they need love. And their lonely natures do cry out for an object to spend this love on.

Isn't it entirely natural and reasonable?

A deeply interesting instance of this has just come to light in the love-letters written by the brilliant Englishwoman, Anne Gilchrist, to our great American poet, Walt Whitman.

Mrs. Gilchrist was a widow. She hadn't cared deeply for her husband. He hadn't in the least typified romance as she was the affectionate mother of four children. She had a wide circle of friends, including the foremost writers and artists of England. She cared for books and poetry. And she was a little more than 40. That is, she was at the very height of the dangerous age.

Then Walt Whitman became famous the world over by publishing his wonderful book of poems called "Leaves of Grass." The poems showed how deeply he understood the realities of life and love. To the lonely Englishwoman they were like a personal volume crying loudly and directly to her hungry heart.

With perfect simplicity and naturalness she answered the cry.

Love Letters to a Poet

She wrote Whitman a long letter, indeed a series of letters, telling him of the profound personal love that his poems had awakened in her, and taking it for granted that he, too, would be ready to love her and claim her for his wife.

Two years later, when she went back to England, she, who had learned the hard lesson of accepting the poet's love, found a way to quiet that tumultuous heart of hers. And her dangerous age was over.

But her letters alone, as eloquent perhaps and as ardent as any love letters ever written, would of themselves have been a last-fashioned notion that 50 is the supreme and only age of romance.

Now 20-year-old girl could love with the same intensity as the old woman. But she had never heard of this.

Ann Gilchrist did during the five unenriched years that she addressed continual outpourings to that poet across the seas whose face she had never seen, whose voice she had never heard.

Mature Love Unrewarded

A woman must live considerably before she can understand the capacities of her own heart and gets near to the real meanings of life. But the unhappy truth has to be faced that by the time she has learned to love in the most thorough and big-hearted way the chances are considerable against her finding a heart that can answer to her own.

Beauty Hints

By LUCREZIA BORI

THE woman who is enmeshed in a busy world of work or society should realize the effect that relaxation will have on her appearance. It is a great beautifier.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and the same is true of Jill. Likewise all work will make Jill a tired, old-looking woman before her time if she does not relax properly. And, strangely enough, all play does the same thing. Indeed, too much playing, which is another word for pleasure seeking, is sometimes more injurious to beauty than really hard work.

Sleep is a great beautifier and restorer, but too much sleep and not enough exercise in the outdoor air is conducive to increasing the weight.

Relaxation is a rest between two periods of activity. Over-indulgence in relaxation becomes mere laziness, which is as destructive of beauty as the most tiring and ceaseless activity.

Allowing yourself to drift into habits of over-activity or over-relaxation will prove ruinous to both your beauty and your health.

On the other hand, the woman who is always tense of nerve is wearing herself out more rapidly than a man employed at hard muscular labor. This tenseness makes immense toll of her looks. The power to relax completely when nervous fatigue requires it is one of the best tonics for beauty in the world.

Resting Mind and Body

When nervous fatigue comes upon you and it is at all possible, sit down or lie down and "let go." Let your muscles hang limp, and let your mind be perfectly empty of any care in the world. Special exercises are often helpful in acquiring the power of relaxation. Raise both your hands above your head with your arms perfectly straight, and then try to reach an imaginary point three or four inches above the tips of your fingers.

In doing this try to stretch your spine, as well as your arms, as much as possible. Then suddenly relax and let your arms fall to your side. If they are perfectly limp and swing back and forth at your sides you have relaxed perfectly. Repeat this exercise several times.

Another relaxing exercise is this: While sitting on a couch or bed raise both your hands. Bring your arms in front of you to about the level of your shoulders; stretch your hands as far forward as possible without bending your body. Relax, letting your body and arms fall back limply on the bed. Repeat a number of times.

Now lie down and with the tips of your toes (first with one foot, then the other, and then with both) try to reach some point just beyond them. Try with both finger tips and the tips of your toes to stretch out just as far as you can, at though you were seeing how long you could possibly make yourself. Do this first with your right foot and right hand, then with your left foot and left hand, then with both feet and both hands at the same time.

Exercise is Fine Aid

After a brief practice of these exercises let your body lie perfectly limp and at rest for 15 or 20 minutes. Even without sleep such complete relaxation is extremely refreshing. A few minutes spent in the middle of the day will add wonderfully to your powers of work and endurance.

Thin, nervous, energetic women should seek more sleep than those whose tendency is toward an overfulness of form. Both types of physique must have exercise, the former to build up muscle and fatigue the body, thus inducing sound sleep; the latter to consume fatty tissue.

Eight hours is usually given as the proper amount of time for sleeping, although some physiques require less and some more.

Thought Him Safe

Little Tobias had been told, with sundry sound slaps, that he was on no account to fight. So when he came in from school one day with, metaphorically speaking, "horn sails and shafted deck," his fond mother was riled. "Tobias," she said, "where did you get that black eye? Didn't I tell you good little boys never fight?"

"Yes, an' I believed you, ma," said Tobias. "I was sure he was a good little boy till he hit him, then I found he wasn't."

as had happened before, and now, with pitiful, ruin-red-dened hands, she dejectedly looked at the hopeless task—

The intricate hollows filled with polish, showing white traces in spite of her energetic, finger-breaking efforts, and the smooth surfaces scratched.

Discouraged at heart, she decided to neglect her silver, the most important factor in a well-appointed table.

Had she but known it, the task might have been turned into a pleasure—the hours of hard work and ruined hands saved by using RAIN WATER CRYSTALS—does not injure the hands.

Here is the recipe. Try it and you will be well pleased forever:

Use an aluminum vessel. To one quart of hot water add two tablespoons of RAIN WATER CRYSTALS. When dissolved, immerse the silver, let stand for fifteen minutes, remove, rinse and dry. Should some stains still remain, let silver stay in solution a little longer.

A box of Rain Water Crystals costs but few cents, and can be used to make many household tasks. Softens hard water; that alone is worth its small cost many times over. Contains no lye.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days—you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the only medicine that gives the pleasing results.

U. S. TO FORBID
ARMED ATTACKS
ON NICARAGUANaval Blockade to Be Employed
if Necessary to Foil Costa Rica Plans

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The United States government will not permit an armed attack upon Nicaragua, if it takes an armed force to do it.

This became known here today following reports that Costa Rica, under the Tinoco government, was mobilizing a force, said to reach a total of 8000 men, along the Nicaraguan border.

Indications that Costa Rica believed the United States was too engrossed with the peace conference and league of nations to pay attention to the Monroe doctrine and the western hemisphere may be met with a display of force that may take the form of a navy squadron off its coast that would effectively blockade the country.

GLASS PREPARES FOR VICTORY LOAN DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Secretary Glass today was busy formulating plans for the Victory Loan campaign, which he declared must be started not later than April 21, whether the securities to be floated are short term notes or bonds.

According to the tentative plan adopted by the house ways and means committee, the secretary will issue short term notes ranging from one to five years and the Victory Bonds will be abandoned.

SHERIFF FINDS STILL ON OWN LAND; NEGRO RAN IT

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 19.—Deputy Sheriff R. M. Denson is an industrious rider of moonshine stills and had recently paid a fine for Jasper Crowder, who had been caught illicitly making whisky, and put him to work on the Denson farm. Following a clue not long afterward Denson located and raided a still on his own place where Crowder had again engaged in the making of the forbidden juice. The negro escaped.

BERLIN, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—A mob made an unsuccessful effort today to storm the Moabit prison and liberate Karl Radek, the self-confessed agent of the Russian Bolsheviks in Germany.

Following his arrest recently, Radek admitted that he had assumed leadership of the German Reds after the death of Karl Liebknecht.

ESSEN, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—Essen, the seat of the great Krupp gun works, is in the hands of the soldiers' council and there is a talk of a break between this district and Berlin with the possibility of a separate peace for the Rhineland if the entente would consider such a proceeding.

Neither Berlin nor Weimar knows what is about to happen here.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

Recruiting for the German national army has been stopped and the revolutionaries have mounted machine guns and are blowing up bridges around Essen.

While seeking a traveling pass at Essen I was asked by one member of the people's commissaries whether the entente would likely make a separate peace with the Rhineland. This German said that the people of this community wanted to break away from the rest of Germany.

Burgomaster Hans Luher admitted to me that the soldiers' council is in control.

FIGHTING IN PROGRESS

Heinrich Jager, one of the leaders of the strikers, said he did not contemplate any trouble unless government troops attempt to overrun all of Westphalia.

Fighting between counter revolutionaries and government troops has been in progress in the Doersten district of Westphalia since last Friday.

Six hundred reinforcements have joined the revolutionaries. They are well equipped with artillery.

Railway trestles have been blown up to prevent the government from sending in more soldiers. Wanne, Sterkade and part of Dusseldorf

Mrs. Roosevelt Places Flowers on Quentin's Grave

By International News Service
PARIS, Feb. 19.—There was a touching scene over the grave of the late Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt yesterday when his mother saw it for the first time and placed flowers upon it.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who was accompanied by another son, Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, stood for several minutes in silence, apparently re-picturing in her own mind the tragic though glorious death of her aviator son.

Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt was shot down near Charny on the old Aisne-Marne front.

POINDEXTER LEADS FIGHT ON TREATY

Senator Cites Dangers Possible in Agreement of World Powers

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Instead of bringing universal and enduring peace, a league of nations, based on the constitution read to the peace conference in Paris by President Wilson, will multiply the opportunity for war, Senator Miles Poindexter declared in the senate today.

Sensor Poindexter opened the attack on the league of nations in violation of the President's request that debate be suspended until he could confer with senators and representatives. The attack was begun, he said, because "the freest discussion is necessary." While opponents of the league are asked to keep silent, proponents are busy arguing for approval of the constitution, he declared.

Five specific objections to the constitution were made by Senator Poindexter. They were:

FIVE OBJECTIONS

First—The determination of the degree of disarmament as required by the constitution.

Second—Compulsory arbitration of all questions of every kind, without exception.

Third—Commitment of every nation to participate in wars and controversies of every other nation and the assumption of guardianship of peoples of Europe, Asia and Africa.

Fourth—The formation of an international labor bureau to deal with internal social, economic and industrial problems.

Fifth—The surrender of the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations in arms and ammunition to the league.

POINDEXTER'S CLAIMS

Sensor Poindexter took up the constitution, article by article, pronouncing many of its provisions "loosely drawn and unintelligible," and declaring many others unconstitutional.

He placed great stress on the fact that no provision is made for the withdrawal of any nation from the league after once having entered it. This, he said, would inevitably lead to war, just as the Civil War in the United States was brought on by the denial of the right of certain states to secede from the union.

In its simplicity the machinery

Tiger of France

Premier Georges Clemenceau, who was shot by assassin in Paris. This photograph was taken while the noted statesman was visiting the battlefields.

CROWD TRIES TO KILL ASSASSINS; 'TIGER' OF FRANCE WILL RECOVER

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Georges Clemenceau, "the Tiger of France," premier of the French republic; and, with the possible exception of President Wilson, the greatest figure of the peace conference, was shot and seriously wounded by one of two assassins who attacked him shortly after 9 o'clock this morning as he was entering an automobile.

Five shots were fired at the premier. M. Clemenceau, according to latest reports, was wounded in three places. One wound was in the arm, another in the back and the third, the most serious of the three, was in the chest.

Physicians declare the premier will recover, although he is 78 years of age.

The assassin who fired the shots is declared by the police to be an 18-year-old youth named Cottin, who had absorbed Bolshevik doctrines.

Cottin was seized by a mob and almost killed but was rescued by gendarmes who placed him in jail.

A great mob surrounded the prison and howled for the instant death of Cottin.

SECOND ARREST

A second person with Cottin at the time of the shooting has been arrested. The second man is declared to be a Russian Bolshevik.

When the second bullet struck M. Clemenceau he sank to the floor of the auto, but immediately arose without assistance and walked 50 feet back into his home.

"It is nothing," said the aged premier of his wounds. "The man was an enemy of the future of France."

Cottin, the youthful assassin, is declared to come from Compeigne. He is declared to be the constant associate of anarchists and Bolsheviks.

At the time the premier was shot he had just entered a limousine to be driven to the residence of Col. House, the American peace delegate, who had an engagement to discuss peace conference affairs with him at 10 o'clock.

UNAVOIDABLY DETAINED

Premier Clemenceau, after being wounded, calmly canceled this engagement, saying, "Present Col. House my compliments and inform him that I have been unavoidably detained from this morning's conference."

One report of the shooting states that Cottin and a confederate waited in front of the Clemenceau residence for the premier to appear. Clemenceau came out quickly and started to seat himself in the automobile. The two men sprang on the running board of the machine and Cottin opened fire. One bullet penetrated the framework of the automobile and entered the premier's right shoulder. Another struck Clemenceau in the back. There is a report that the premier was also shot in the chest, and that this is the most serious wound. The report of

CLEMENCEAU, 78, TYPIFIES DAUNTLESS FRENCH SPIRIT

Premier Georges Clemenceau, the "Tiger of France," as he has been nicknamed because of his fighting proclivities, was born in 1841 and has long been a prominent figure in French public life. He is serving his second tenure as prime minister of France, having been selected by President Poincare to form a new cabinet in the stormy days of 1917. He assembled a ministry on Nov. 16, 1917, taking the posts of premier and war minister himself.

When the peace conference formally met, M. Clemenceau was named permanent chairman. During the days of imperial France M. Clemenceau had to flee because of his republican political tendencies and lived for a while in the United States. He taught French in a school at Stamford, Conn., and later married Mary Plummer, a New York girl, from whom he was subsequently divorced.

"The Tiger" served his first term as premier from 1906 to 1909. After

Governor of Alaska Points Out
Opportunity in Great
Juneau Gold Mines

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Soldiers out of employment take notice.

"Alaska urgently needs men for its industries," says the governor of Alaska, Thomas Riggs, in his annual report, just issued, to the secretary of the interior. He adds:

"Owing to the scarcity of labor the great mines in the Juneau gold belt are able to run the mills on one eight-hour shift only. The Gastineau (Perseverance) mine at Juneau, one of the richest gold mines in the world, is run at less than half capacity." (These mining companies pay their ordinary operators from $4 to $8 a day, their expert operators more.)

"The coal fields of Matanuska and Nenana need men. The forces at work on the government railroad tapping those coal fields have been reduced 50 per cent this year."

BUREAU ESTABLISHED

"In connection with the Alaska bureau of publicity at Juneau a central labor bureau has been established for general distribution of labor. To returned soldiers, young men who have been thrown into the atmosphere of adventure and outdoor life, the trails of the north call."

"Great Britain and Ireland, France, Belgium, Serbia, Montenegro, Italy, Rumania and Portugal—all these combined," Governor Riggs points out, "would make a territory no larger than Alaska—the great country."

"Alaska is already of more value as a commercial factor than any other territory to the United States. This is shown by the figures of the past year during which it furnished trade to the United States proper of $131,767,788."

MILLIONS IN MINERALS

Half a hundred millions in minerals—$25,000,000 in copper, $15,000,000 in gold, the remainder silver, lead, antimony, tungsten, platinum—were mined last year in Alaska. Although Alaska's fabulous gold placers—Nome and the Klondike creeks, Fortuna, Eldorado, Gold Run, and all the other magic names that lure tens of thousands of adventurers across continents and seas—are worked out, there still remain vast quantities of low grade ore and until last year enormous mining operations were in progress. The reduction of product was due chiefly to curtailment of operations because of the scarcity of labor.

The value of the furs shipped from Alaska last year amounted to twice the value of furs shipped out two years ago. It footed up to about a million and a half, in spite of the fact that during a part of the year the law forbidding the killing of fur-bearing seals in the Pribilof Islands, the greatest sealing grounds in the world, was still in force.

CLIMATE NOT SO BAD

This report modifies one's notions concerning the Alaska climate. The word "Alaska" evokes the remote north, spellbound in the breath of winter, far from snow and rivers of ice, northern lights and Esquimaux; people traveling by reindeer sleigh and dogteam, moving dimly amid a white world in the Arctic light.

These passes set forth the Alaska of summertime. They tell of the swiftly upshooting vegetation that tills the twenty-four-hour-long light of the northern summer day; of wheat, barley, oats and alfalfa successfully grown as far north as latitude 65 degrees 31 minutes; of the Tanana, with its truck farms and fields of Siberian wheat; of Kodiak—and one reads, not of the giant Kodiak bears, but of herds of Galloway and Holstein-Friesian cattle; of millions of acres in interior Alaska which, as fast as transportation facilities are provided, will be converted into productive farms.

WOULD END MOTH PLAGUE BY GAS FROM AIRPLANES

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 19.—E. B. Morse of Goffstown has outlined a plan for the use of poison gas in exterminating gypsy and brown tail moths in New Hampshire. Flying machines will fly over forests and drop gas bombs to exterminate the pests. NEW GRAFT IN IOWA WORKED ON FARMERS

GLIDDEN, Ia., Feb. 19.—A new graft has been brought to light in this vicinity with the turning up of a large number of notes at a local bank.

Free Yourself of Rupture Without Pain, Operation or Loss of Time

FOR the benefit of our readers we take pleasure in publishing the Brooks offer to save all who are ruptured from wearing trusses and other painful makeshifts that do not cure.

The Brooks Appliance Co. gladly sends this remarkable Appliance ON TRIAL to prove that it holds the rupture back, keeps it in place, prevents it coming down or slipping out and finally cures it entirely.

No man or woman ever can look and feel his or her best while suffering the torment, pain and discomfort of rupture.

Every day that you suffer from rupture—every hour of truss torture that you endure—after you read this page is your own fault.

For many years we have been telling you that no truss will ever help you. We have told you about the harm trusses are doing. We have told you that the only truly comfortable, sanitary and scientific device for holding rupture is the Brooks Rupture Appliance.

Now we offer to prove it to you, entirely at our risk. We will send you a Brooks Rupture Appliance on trial. If you really want to be rid of your rupture fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

Instead of wearing a steel spring or inflexible harness, try the velvet soft Brooks Appliance.

Instead of the hard pad of a truss, use the soft rubber automatic air-cushion of a Brooks Appliance.

The Brooks Appliance clings to you without force and you are hardly conscious of its presence. And above all else, it HOLDS always.

Within an hour after you receive the Brooks Appliance, if you take advantage of this remarkable trial offer, you will throw away your truss forever.

Over 670,000 People Have Accepted This Offer. Why Not You?

Doesn't that prove that the Brooks Appliance is not an experiment but a positive success—that it does all we claim for it? Among these 670,000 men, women and children there must be hundreds whose condition was identical with yours. Can you afford not to investigate and satisfy yourself, when it costs you nothing to prove what the Brooks Appliance will do for you?

This wonderful device is a triumph of scientific and mechanical genius, the result of more than 30 years' experience, and the percentage of cures effected by its use is little short of miraculous.

Many hundreds of physicians and surgeons recommend the Brooks Appliance and condemn trusses as more harmful and dangerous than any other method of retaining and treating rupture. Thousands of people have written us to testify to the amazing results they have secured from this great invention. Many of these people live right in your vicinity, and we will be glad to send you copies of their thankful letters if you will ask for them when you write.

Men, Women and Children Find the Brooks Appliance Equally Effective

No matter if your rupture is old and severe or only recently developed, no matter if you are young or old, you should not fail to profit by this No-Risk Trial Offer.

No other rupture support, truss, lock, device, pad or plaster is offered to the public under so broad a guarantee of satisfaction.

If for any reason whatever you do not wish to keep the Brooks Appliance after you try it, send it back. You don't have to give any reason, you don't have to send to us for any return instructions or shipping label. There will be no argument, no dispute or misunderstanding.

Ten Reasons Why You Should Accept This Offer:

1. It is absolutely the only Appliance embodying the principles that inventors have sought after for years.
2. The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of position.
3. Being an air cushion of soft rubber it clings closely to the body, yet never blisters or causes irritation.
4. Unlike ordinary so-called pads, it is not cumbersome or ungainly.
5. It is small, soft and pliable, and positively cannot be detected through the clothing.
6. The soft, pliable bands do not give the unpleasant sensation of wearing a harness.
7. Nothing to get foul; it can be washed without any injury.
8. There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by cutting and bruising the flesh.
9. All materials are the very best that money can buy, making it a durable and safe Appliance to wear.
10. Our reputation is so thoroughly established and our prices so reasonable, our terms so fair, that you should not hesitate to send the free coupon today.

For Convalescents Who Don't Convalesce

Ravaging diseases, like pneumonia or typhoid, leave you with wasted, anemic body and a ferocious appetite. Appetite is Nature's means of persuading you to nourish yourself back to normal. But while anemia lurks in the blood, you remain weak and delicate despite the food you eat. You would do well to brace up your system with a good tonic like Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan "The Red Blood Builder"

It makes the blood richer and redder. It increases the power of the red blood cells to distribute oxygen—the breath of life—to every cell and tissue. You note a new thrill of power and strength in all parts of your system after a course of Pepto-Mangan. Easy to digest, agreeable to taste, universally prescribed by the medical profession.

FRIENDLY WARNING: There is only one Pepto-Mangan and that is Gude's. Sold in bottle and package as shown here. Sold by druggists everywhere.

EXAMINE BODY FOR POISON IN DEATH CASE

Microscopic Examination Made by Experts to Determine How Mrs. Carson Died

Powerful microscopes and defining fluids were employed today in an examination to determine the exact cause of death of Mrs. Alpha Hughes Carson, whose body was exhumed yesterday at the request of relatives. The examination of organs from the body was started by Prof. A. H. Maas, who announced that his first analysis would be for cyanide poisoning. Following the cyanide test, Prof. Maas will search for trace of every known death-dealing poison. He expects his examination will require a week's time.

Horace S. Wilson, attorney for J. Gamble Carson, husband of Mrs. Carson, stated that no chemist or toxicologist representing Mr. Carson will be present during Maas' examination. "NATURAL DEATH"

"We are confident that the examination will show Mrs. Carson died a natural death," Wilson stated, "and we therefore do not think it necessary to have an expert representing Mr. Carson witness the examination. We have faith in the ability of Prof. Maas and await his report with confidence."

The exhuming of the body of Mrs. Carson was at the request of relatives who suspect that her death was not due to natural causes. The investigation is a forerunner of a contest by these relatives of Mrs. Carson's will.

Mrs. Carson, formerly the widow of Thomas E. Hughes, wealthy Los Angeles property owner, left an estate estimated at $142,706 and, it is claimed, at least $110,000 of this amount was bequeathed to her husband.

Certain allegations regarding Carson's matrimonial career, involving a charge that he was technically a bigamist when he married Mrs. Hughes, were made by the relatives. NO AUTOPSY

In a statement issued by his attorney, Mr. Carson said today: "At the time of Mrs. Carson's death her relatives were asked whether they desired an autopsy to be held to determine the cause of death. Her attending physician, Dr. D. W. Skeel, stated that her death was caused by acute chronic nephritis. Dr. W. L. Huggins confirmed this opinion."

MATRIMONIAL TANGLE
The brothers and sisters of Mrs. Carson, who instigated the investigation through their attorney, W. J. Ford, are W. H. McMillon of Upland, R. H. McMillon of Phoenix, Mrs. Sarah E. Walker of 822 West Eighth street, Mrs. Nancy E. Bruce of 635 San Julian street, Mrs. Jane E. Foster of Watts, and Miss Mary McMillon of this city.

The allegations regarding Carson's matrimonial career previous to his marriage to Mrs. Hughes were made by Attorney Ford, who claimed that at the time of the marriage Carson was not legally separated from another woman.

Ford alleged that Carson's former wife, Mrs. Rose Brookins Carson, was granted a decree of divorce on March 6, 1917, and that the divorce was not final until March 6, 1918. Carson married Mrs. Hughes on July 19, 1917, eight months before the termination of the divorce, Ford claims.

PRINCIPAL BENEFICIARY
It is on the allegation that Carson's marriage to Mrs. Hughes was not legal in that he was still technically the husband of another woman, that the effort to break the will will be based, Ford said.

According to Ford, Carson married Elizabeth E. Carson in San Francisco on Dec. 28, 1906, and was divorced from her July 3, 1908. This marriage was followed by his union to Mrs. Rose Brookins Carson on Jan. 7, 1910.

Ford pointed out that Carson married Mrs. Hughes July 19, 1917, and her will naming him as principal beneficiary was dated Aug. 29 of the same year. She died July 18, 1918. All but one of the brothers and sisters were left $100 each. Nephews, great-nephews and nieces were left $25,000, and the rest went to Carson.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

SO. CAL. POULTRY MEN CHAMPION STATE MARKET

Commission Strongly Defended
and Legislature Urged to Maintain Organization

The Poultry Producers of Southern California have come to the defense of the state market commission and in resolutions adopted at a meeting here vigorously oppose the bill pending in the state legislature for abolition of the commission.

The poultry producers point to the fact that the market commission has numerous farmers' co-operative associations to be organized, whose collective annual output is estimated at more than $60,000,000.

The resolutions read as follows:

Whereas, A bill has been introduced in the state legislature to abolish the state market commission; and

Whereas, Co-operative marketing on the part of producers makes more nearly possible the elimination of waste in the marketing of the advantage of producer and consumer, and also tends greatly to broaden and develop new markets, thus stimulating increased production to the advantage of the consumer; and

Whereas, The state market commission, under the direction of State Market Director Harris Westlock, has caused to be organized numerous co-operative marketing associations, whose collective annual output is estimated as being over $60,000,000, sold at fair prices to consumers and living prices to producers; and

Whereas, The state market commission is thus proving a great boon to the producers of California and is encouraging them to keep on producing so that consumers may be more nearly assured abundant food supplies; now therefore be it resolved, That Poultry Producers of Southern California, Inc., representing producers of eggs and poultry from the counties of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and San Diego, hereby protest against any attempt to deprive the producers of California of the leadership furnished by the state market commission; and

Resolved, That the bill to abolish the state market commission, if passed by the legislature, would work against the best interests of producer and consumer, and would therefore be against public policy; and

Resolved, That copies of this resolution, duly certified, be forwarded to State Market Director Harris Westlock, to members of the legislature from the following named counties, to-wit: Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and San Diego.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME
If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Permin (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.
This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or Head noises should give this prescription a trial.

MANILA URGED AS GREAT U. S. TRADE CENTER

James J. Rafferty, Director of Philippine Commerce and Industry, Tells Possibilities

Declaring that the possibilities for commerce between America and all of the countries in the Orient are practically limitless, James J. Rafferty, director of commerce and industry at Manila, Philippine Islands, added that Manila should be made a gigantic trading center for the United States in the far east. "Just as England has made Hong-kong her great Oriental center for British commerce, so should the United States establish her far east trading post at Manila, where the Stars and Stripes are already floating and where friendly environments have already been created," he said. "Like many other Americans who have lived abroad for some time, Mr. Rafferty is highly pleased with the awakening in the United States to the opportunities for foreign trade all over the world."

FLOW OF TRADE
Having lived in that part of the world that is more tributary commercially to the Pacific Coast of the United States than to any other part of the nation, he was not surprised to learn that Pacific Coast cities were arousing themselves to increase the flow of commerce through their ports to and from Pacific countries. "He was surprised, however, to learn that Los Angeles had made such rapid strides since the war ended in developing foreign business through her port."

Mr. Rafferty is a government man, therefore he speaks guardedly. What he does say, however, is to the point.

PHILIPPINE TRADE
"You people here at home," Mr. Rafferty said, "can scarcely realize the wonderful opportunities in the Philippines alone for investments, to say nothing of trade. And while the United States has built up a large and constantly increasing trade with the Philippines, nothing more than a beginning has really been made."

"We are sending you fibers, such as hemp and sisal; coconut oil, sugar, hardwoods, rattan, gums to be used in varnishes, straw hats and hundreds of millions of cigars, and you are sending us many of your manufactured goods, but I want to say a word about investment opportunities. "Some of the wonderful openings in this connection are in the growing of sugar cane, rubber and coconuts. Land is cheap, and there is an abundance of labor to be employed at wages that are adjusted to living conditions in that country."

COCONUT OIL
"Large and extensive refineries have been established in Manila for extracting coconut oil, therefore there is an immediate market there for copra, which is the meat of coconuts."

"The same opportunities for investment are offered in the Philippines that formerly was offered in Hawaii when that country came under the dominion of the United States." Mr. Rafferty was very much interested when he learned that Los Angeles was on the way to becoming the third big seaport on the Pacific Coast. He realized at once that the increasing volume of foreign trade through Seattle and San Francisco gives Los Angeles her long sought opportunity.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION
Knowing the ambitions of the Philippines for a large industrial expansion and desire for American capital to develop her virgin resources, he realized that any movement that increases shipping from the Pacific Coast must bring the Philippines into closer relations with the United States and consequently a better comprehension here at home of the trade and investment possibilities in the land across the Pacific.

Therefore, he subscribes to the slogan: "Make Manila the trading center for the United States in the Orient." Which every good American will interpret to mean "the largest trading center in the Orient."

Predicts Gov't to Own Utilities

Economic conditions will compel public ownership of railroads and other public utilities in the opinion of E. O. Edgerton, president of the California state railroad commission, who is visiting this city. The government, in assuming control of the railroads, met an imperative demand, Edgerton said, in an address before the Municipal League.

DON'T EXPERIMENT WITH CATARRH

Here Is a Sensible Treatment That Gives Prompt Results.

Winter and Catarrh are companions in evil. Catarrh is sweeping civilization from one continent to another, just because civilization does not heed Nature's simple laws. Nature tells us what to do and we pay no heed.

Don't think lightly of Catarrh. Do not make the mistake of believing that it is merely an aggravated bad cold. True, this trouble usually starts with what is apparently a cold in the head, but beware of any cold that "hangs on." You may as well realize at the outset that Catarrh is a serious disease and one that should not be trifled with. In fact, in many instances it is a forerunner of the most dreaded of all diseases—consumption.

Don't permit yourself to be deceived. Perhaps, like thousands of others afflicted with catarrh, you are about ready to believe that the disease is incurable, and that you are doomed to spend the remainder of your days hawking and spitting, with no relief in sight from inflamed and stopped-up air passages that make the days miserable and the nights sleepless.

If you are in the grasp of Catarrh, your experience should convince you that the disease is beyond the reach of sprays, douches, jellies, balms, salves, and other locally applied remedies.

When the air passages become so stopped up that every breath you take is difficult, when the throat and nose are so clogged up with offensive mucus that you are constantly hawking and spitting in an effort to clear your nostrils, every effort you make to get relief by the use of sprays and douches is promptly followed by new accumulations, so that no headway whatever is made toward getting rid of the disease.

Realize that the Catarrh comes from a germ which infests the blood, and that the disease cannot exist when these germs are routed from the blood. The rational and successful treatment, therefore, is one that reaches the blood, and cleanses it of every trace of impurity and rids it of these tiny Catarrh germs. Of course, no local remedies can reach the blood supply, and that is why Catarrh is not cured by sprays and lotions.

The one great blood remedy that has made a wonderful record is S. S. S., which has been on sale by drug stores everywhere for over half a century. If you would be rid of your Catarrh, get a bottle of this great old remedy today, which will give you satisfactory results, as it has in so many cases. You will find that you are on the right treatment at last, as S. S. S. will do for you what it has for thousands of others. Start taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete description of your case to our head physician, who will give you all necessary instructions by return mail, without charge. Address Medical Director, 158 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

PREMIER CLEMENCEAU WOUNDED

the third wound, however, is not confirmed.

TRAMPLE ASSASSIN

A number of persons immediately ran to the aid of the aged ex-premier. Cottin was knocked down and trampled upon. One man attempted to kill Cottin with the assassin's own pistol, but all the shots it contained had been fired.

The premier walked back to his residence without assistance and smiled back grimly at the man who shot him.

The crowd that gathered furiously attacked Cottin and the man suspected of being his confederate. The clothes were torn from Cottin's body and he was covered with blood from the beating he received.

Gendarmes who came to arrest Cottin had a battle with the crowd that was attempting to kill the man. One policeman was slightly wounded.

CONFEDERATE OVERPOWERED

Cottin's alleged confederate attempted to aid the assassin to escape but was overpowered and arrested.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this Hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

Cottin refused to make any statement except to shout "I am French born but a citizen of the world. Clemenceau was the enemy of world settlement."

From other remarks of the prisoner it is indicated that he was a supporter of the most rabid Bolshevik and anarchistic doctrines.

One report was current that the assassin had intended to assassinate President Wilson but had failed to get the opportunity.

INVESTIGATE PLOT REPORT

The police are investigating reports that there was a wholesale plot to assassinate all the leading figures at the peace conference with a bomb and throw the world into chaos.

Latest reports confirm earlier statements of the physicians that the premier will recover.

PREMIER WOUNDED TWICE, IS OFFICIAL REPORT IN LONDON

By International News Service

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Premier Clemenceau was attacked by two assassins and was wounded in both the arm and back, according to information received from Paris today.

Advices to the French embassy said that the premier's recovery is expected.

King George sent the following message immediately on receipt of information at Buckingham palace:

"I am shocked to hear of the dastardly attack upon you this morning. I earnestly trust that your injuries are not serious and that, thanks to your splendid energy and courage you

The information that two assassins were involved was received by the French embassy.

The American embassy learned from Paris that the premier had been wounded twice, in the arm and the head.

U. S. Business Agent in Tokio to Speak

LIFE OF 'TIGER' FILLED WITH ACTION

dous energy and of diversified activities. M. Clemenceau early in life studied medicine and always had a leaning toward political economies. He studied sociology and wrote voluminously on the subject. After getting into journalism his editorials were noted for their strength and grace of language.

Despite all of these labors, M. Clemenceau found time to write several plays. His comedies, however, were not quite so successful as his political activities.

M. Clemenceau's ambition in late years had been to see the war through to a peace that will give France all of her old glories—a peace that shall endure. M. Clemenceau opposed some of President Wilson's principles on the league of nations, but then, as ever, it was recognized that the aged statesman was inspired only by love for France and inspiring patriotism.

PUNISHED BOLO PASHA

When the Bolo Pasha came up M. Clemenceau was relentless in demanding drastic punishment. He denounced M. Caillaux, former premier of France, and M. Humbert, former senator, for their connection with the "defeatists."

When M. Clemenceau took the helm of the French government in 1917 his masterful personality at once made itself felt and France increased the vigor of her blows against her enemies.

The premier made many visits to the battlefield and distinguished himself of "wanting to see everything with his own eyes." He never knew the meaning of fear on these excursions. Once he was nearly captured by the Germans. Again he was nearly killed by an exploding shell. These escapes were accepted as incidents and part of the day's work.

M. Clemenceau liked to keep his eye on the spirit of the French troops, not trusting himself to written reports.

ROMANCE IN U. S.

There was a romance connected with M. Clemenceau's short stay in the United States. He attempted to make a living by the practice of medicine in New York city, but failed. Then he accepted the professorship of French at a New England school for girls. He met Miss Flummer (who later became his wife) while she was a student at this school.

After his return to France the erstwhile exile plunged into public life and his vigorous methods quickly raised him to a national figure. It was not long until the name of Clemenceau was known throughout the civilized world.

In recognition of his service in the revolution against the imperialistic government, M. Clemenceau was appointed mayor of Montmartre. Some of his public utterances during this period have been preserved for their stinging sarcasm and irony.

M. Clemenceau was first appointed to the premiership by President Fallieres. After his retirement "The Tiger" divided his attention between journalistic work and duty in the chamber of deputies.

IS A SOCIALIST Although nominally a member of the Socialist party he opposed the electoral reform bill in 1912 and in the following year his opposition brought about the downfall of the Briand ministry.

M. Clemenceau has always considered himself a Socialist, although not a member of the radical wing of the party. It is curious, a circumstance that many persons have overlooked and upon which there has been little comment that one of the most dominating figures at the peace conference has been a Socialist.

There is an interesting story told of the way the premier received the news of the signing of the armistice on November 11. When the news was received the members of the ministry filed into the premier's office to congratulate him upon the happy ending of the war. The cabinet members grouped themselves about M. Clemenceau's desk. The aged premier sat silent, his head bowed in his hands. After several moments he looked up and the tears were streaming from his eyes. With his voice choked with emotion the premier thanked his colleagues and told them it was the happiest day of his long life.

RY. CHIEF LAUDS PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Private ownership of railroads with "wise," energetic and honest management under suitable, thorough and protective regulation is best," Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, told the senate interstate commerce committee today.

"Government ownership, management and operation of American railroads are not for the best interests of the nation," he added.

Regulation under private ownership should be so arranged and directed, Elliott said, as to preserve and encourage initiative, to be prompt and responsive to changing conditions, but at the same time provide checks to prevent any unfair and dishonest practices by owners and managers.

He spoke for the creation of the new executive department—a department of transportation, with a cabinet member at its head. Secretary McAdoo's five year control plan, he attacked as "unreasonable and unnecessary."

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitter-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Owl Drug Co. in Los Angeles and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements bitro-phosphate quickly restores the welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advertisement.

WOULDN'T TAKE A FORTUNE FOR IT

Tanlac Proves of Untold Value to This Man—Gains 21 Pounds

"I wouldn't take a fortune for the good Tanlac has done me, for it has not only restored my health but has added twenty-one pounds to my weight, and I feel like a different man in every way," said Peter Riedweg, a valued employee of the Pacific Car Foundry Co., and whose residence is 553 Clay street, Portland, Ore.

"About eight months ago," he continued, "I had a bad spell of the grippe, and it left me in a very badly run-down condition, and until I began taking Tanlac, I was not able to find a thing that would get me started up hill again. My appetite was very poor, and my stomach was in such bad condition that the little I did eat would give me indigestion. Sometimes for three or four hours after my meals I would be all bloated up with gas and suffer something awful with shortness of breath. I was badly constipated most of the time, and occasionally suffered from headaches. My kidneys gave me lots of trouble also, and I had a dull, heavy pain across the small of my back all the time. All my strength and energy seemed to gradually leave me, and I lost a lot in weight, and finally got so weak and worn out that I had to give up my work and for three months I was not able to do a hand's turn.

"I heard so many folks around Portland talking about the good this Tanlac was doing them that I decided to buy a few bottles and see if it would help me. Well, sir, I don't believe it is possible for any man to improve faster than I did after I began taking that medicine. My appetite improved from the very first bottle, the constipation of my stomach soon improved so much that I could eat just anything I wanted and I would not have indigestion afterwards. I kept on taking Tanlac and the more I took the better I felt, and after taking six bottles all my troubles disappeared. I am never bothered with that pain in my back, and my kidneys seem to be in good condition. I am rid of constipation, and never have a headache at all. I have gained a lot in weight, in fact I weigh more today than I ever weighed in my life, and thanks to Tanlac, I am well and strong in every way as I ever was, and am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advertisement.

SEATTLE STRIKE SETTLEMENT PLAN FAILS

By International News Service
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 19.—Believing that a postponement of the reopening of the shipyards scheduled for today would avert a possible crisis and on the advice of the government's representatives, the yards remain idle. All efforts of government officials, international union officials and the Seattle Metal Trades council to reach a basis for settlement so far have failed.

Conferences were resumed at 10 o'clock this morning with Dr. L. C. Marshall, representative of the emergency fleet corporation and international union officers present. A mass meeting of the 15,000 members of the local boilermakers, iron shipbuilders and helmsmen union was in session this morning to consider the strike.

SCORES DELEGATES
An effort is being made to turn the workers, soldiers and sailors' council here into a "council" with the avowed intention of substituting its constitution for that of the United States, according to M. K. Kennedy, acting chairman of the Metal Trades Council. Kennedy, at a union meeting, severely scored union delegates to the workers, soldiers and sailors' council for their inaction in allowing the council to fall into the control of the I. W. W. and Bolshevik factions. Destruction of the American Federation of Labor is another object of the council, Kennedy said.

RADICALS FAIL
That the radical organization is a failure was the assertion made today by W. Chapman, a union delegate to the council. He said he declined to be connected with it further and had resigned his seat along with Kennedy.

Fred Arndt and Ernest E. Heilmiller, both Germans, are under detention here today at the request of C. L. Reames, special assistant attorney general, who expects to have them deported after the peace treaty is signed. Reames charges both are I. W. W. organizers and have been active agitators against the government.

CLUB SEEKS SHAKEUP AT VENTURA SCHOOL
That the Wednesday Morning club, one of the largest clubs in the city, will send resolutions to Governor Stephens demanding a change in management of the California School for Girls at Ventura was announced today by Mrs. Cora Holland, club president.

Mrs. Holland stated that she would present resolutions to this effect to the club late this afternoon.

"We will ask for a complete reorganization of the board of trustees and school administrators," Mrs. Holland said today just before calling the club to order, "because we think it inadvisable to try to secure desired reforms through the medium of the incumbents. The club feels very strongly about this."

Other clubs are preparing to adopt similar resolutions, it was understood today.

Startling Question New Sermon Topic
Dr. R. A. Torrey, the evangelist, will speak tonight at Bible institute on the subject "A Startling Question." Music for the services has been arranged under direction of Charles Alexander.

Southern California is the most beautiful region ever visited. Dr. Torrey said during his sermon last night, but added that "Southern California isn't in it compared to the beauty of heaven."

Can't Bind Customer Is Gas Case Ruling
The district court of appeals has held it illegal for a gas concern to bind its customer to buy gas from only one concern. J. H. Burk contracted with the Los Angeles Gas & Electric corporation to buy only that company's gas, and the company would install certain apparatus. Failure to comply was followed by a suit for $320, the cost of the appliances. The company lost.

YOUNG ZIONIST BALL
The second annual grand ball of the Young Zionists' association will be held tonight at Kramer's dancing academy, 1500 South Figueroa street. Miss Edith Chan, a young Philadelphia society girl, will lead the grand march at 10 o'clock with Jack Lieberman, president of the association. Zionists, soldiers, recently returned from the front, will be the guests of honor.

FAITH IN RUSSIA
Expressing faith in the ultimate development of Russia, Charlesagne Tower, former United States ambassador to Austria-Hungary, to Germany and to Russia, is in Pasadena for the season. He is accompanied by Mrs. Tower and the two expect to make a later visit to their daughter and her husband, the latter being Maj. Robertson in command of the aerial gunnery school in San Diego.

FILES WILL SUIT
On the ground the will of his late wife, Augusta Thompson, was revoked by a later instrument, which was voluntarily destroyed by Mrs. Thompson herself, John M. Thompson filed a contest asking to have the first will set aside.

PIANIST VECSEI, WHO SAYS WAR HAS KILLED INTELLECTUAL MUSIC

MELODY MUSIC IS LATEST SAYS VECSEI

Here is hope for the mere, ordinary, garden variety of music lover who enjoys lyric music and, whether he confesses it or not, can't "get" the ultra modern composers! For Desider Josef Vecsei, one of the foremost pianists of Los Angeles, who is to be a star feature of the Los Angeles Symphony concert this year, has declared that "intellectual" music is going out.

The war, according to Vecsei, has put it out of vogue. There is already a tremendous swing back to melodic music—the simple, beautiful kind written, as Vecsei puts it, with the "heart-soul" of the composer.

Cubist music, intellectual music, the kind of music that one sees in colors or has to guess what it means in order to appreciate it, has been only a caprice, he declares, and will pass away as the older, lyric school of music comes back.

"Romantic music is coming back with a great force," Vecsei said today. "No more do the people want music written only with the mind. They want music written with the heart-soul—romantic music. And the other will pass away, into oblivion. It was just a caprice."

Vecsei will play two concertos at the next symphony concert on March 7, one by Saint-Saens F Major, by request, and the other to be Liszt A Major. The Saint-Saens concerto was played by this artist last year at the symphony and it proved so great a success that he has had many requests to repeat it this year.

P. E. Gets Shipment of 'One-Man' Cars
The new "one-man" cars are about to be introduced in Los Angeles by the Pacific Electric railway. The cars were successful, it is said, in El Paso, Kansas City and other eastern cities. They will be tried out on the Pomona, Redlands, Riverside and Santa Monica lines at certain times of the day.

Twenty-two of the cars arrived here recently from the factory.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal, healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

HUNT I. W. W. IN FORT SHERIDAN BOMB PLOT

Military Authorities Suspect the
ings and Start Close Watch

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Workmen employed on the hospital buildings at Fort Sheridan are being watched closely, for the authorities believe that some of them, either I. W. W.s or at least believers in sabotage, are the men who have twice in one week tried to destroy government property by bombs.

Two clocks in a suit case, padded to prevent the sound of their ticking, and so electrically connected as to set off a spark and ignite a percussion cap and set off a charge of dynamite, were found in the old brick building alongside the railroad tracks, near the new quartermaster building, about a quarter mile from the hospital structures.

RED HANDKERCHIEF SIGNAL

A week ago a watchman for the contractors doing the construction work noticed a pile of inflammable rubbish heaped against the side of one of the hospital buildings, which had just been completed, but which was not occupied.

Near by, on the picket of a fence, there was a red handkerchief, believed to be set there as a signal to the torchmen that "everything is ready."

It is believed the plotters didn't intend to injure any of the wounded soldiers at the post, or wreck or fire any buildings housing them, but that they did desire to damage new structures, either to make more work for men about to be laid off through completion of the work or out of a spirit of malicious disloyalty.

It has been noticed that many windows have been broken and walls which have to be plastered and painted have been spoiled.

MIGHT RELEASE PRISONERS

It is also a theory that the bomb might have been designed to liberate some few I. W. W.s and enemy aliens who are in the guardhouse. The guardhouse is not far from the spot where the bombs were found.

A workman stumbled over the suit case with the clocks in it last Friday. He told Sergeant Harry McNelly, who notified Capt. Karl Ensign, post adjutant, and Maj. John Robinson.

The clocks were removed, the suit case placed in its original position and a guard was placed where he could see anybody who came near it. No one came.

No dynamite was found, nor any other explosive. No dynamite or powder has been seen since from the magazine at the fort; no blasting powder has been stolen from the contractors.

Rejected Suitor

Bombs Sweetheart

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—John George loved Cora Casza. Cora Casza did not love John George. They occupied adjoining rooms in Mrs. Besse Hall's boarding house at No. 1913 Warren avenue.

John persisted until he was spurned and "bawled out." Then he languished and one night he went to bed apparently in grief. Very early in the morning he went away. He left the house—

Boom!

It was in the closet of Cora's room—a bomb. It sent Cora sprawling from her bed. It shattered the windows, wrecked the furniture and tore out the partitions. Cora started to get up from the floor, discovered her mattress afire and went down again in a faint. She was rescued. Firemen came and extinguished the blaze. John has not been heard from.

VILLAGE LOSES EVERY MAN IN SENT TO WAR

AUBURN, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Locke, a small village 17 miles south of this city, has the distinction of having lost all of the men of fighting age sent to the conscript American army. All of the soldiers are buried in France, except one, who has been missing since last August.

TELLS DYSPYPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of this powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form it is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advertisement.

THE GIRL OR THE GOWN?

By Juanita Hamel

WHO was the wise man who first said, "The point of view is everything"? Consider a rosebud—there may be infinite ways of looking at it, and only one point of view will truly interest each person. Consider the rosebud girl, the radiance of whose beauty is set in a wonderful gown, his Mother sees the gown and then—her glance is attracted by the eager gaze of HIM who stares at the GIRL with his HEART in his adoring eyes.

COURSES OF STUDY TO PREVENT ILLNESS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—As industrial physicians multiply, many women will find a wide field of usefulness. Among the students in the new course on industrial hygiene, which Harvard university offers this year, are several young women who are preparing for service in the big plants where more attention than ever before will be given to health problems.

The working conditions service, department of labor, is doing all possible to arouse the interest of educators in the importance of preparation for a constantly widening work in factories. Yale university is now offering an intensive course and the University of Pennsylvania will have one at its next semester. These are leading a nation-wide effort to make ready for the demand for industrial physicians wherever there are large factories.

The industrial physicians are really the successors of the old contract physicians. Instead of being concerned altogether with the workers who are ill or injured they devote themselves to the conservation of health. Much of their work is educational as well as strictly professional, for after they have examined the workers to ascertain his extension of physical condition and have prescribed for him they are interested in teaching him how to keep well. Their instruction goes further and embraces lectures on the economic value of health and the industrial loss through illness. In factories where large numbers of girls are employed the usefulness of women who serve as industrial physicians is readily understood.

LEAPS FROM 13TH FLOOR OF WOOLWORTH BUILDING

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Passers-by in Park place, just west of Broadway, saw a man step out on a window sill of the thirteenth floor of the Woolworth building and stand for a moment.

The man turned and closed the window behind him. Then he dived to the sidewalk.

R. B. Hays, district sales manager of the Monroe Calculating Machine Co., a few minutes later identified the battered body as that of Richard Dwight Hutchins, a salesman for the company.

DID HE FIND THE FOOL THAT HE ADVERTISED FOR?

MACON, Ga., Feb. 19.—The following ad has appeared recently in a local newspaper:

PUPILS SAVE TINFOIL

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19.—All school children in this city have been appealed to save tinfoil, and the child having the largest ball will receive a prize. The tinfoil is to be melted and the proceeds will go to devastated France.

BANJO AND GUITAR SAVED BOY'S LIFE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—Jimmy, the soldier boy from the mountains, was slowly dying. There was no question about it. And there seemed to be no pressing physical reason for it other than that he had slipped into the Slough of Despond. Slowly but visibly he sank, and no word of encouragement from solicited nurses in the general army hospital in North Carolina brought a gleam of hope to his heavy black eyes. They were sad eyes, dying eyes.

But one day recently a representative of the recreational branch of Red Cross service brought into Jimmy's ward a trio of mountain boys armed with banjo and guitar, and made them sing and play for the patients. The lilt of a merry folk song seemed to arouse the languishing Jimmy. It fanned a fading life spark that had been beyond the reach of material aids.

The trio of large-bodied, ambulating minstrels stood at Jimmy's bed. Feebly at first, Jimmy responded to their inquiries, but his interest in the violins and their instruments was written plainly in more alert eyes. Eventually he admitted that he "couldn't pick one of 'em," indicating a guitar, "as a kid in the backwoods."

"Want ter try yer han?" asked one of the three who proffered a hand-marked and scarred guitar to the invalid. The Red Cross worker with the sanction of a nurse encouraged the boy. He was a trifle nervous and abashed, but gradually his mind became concentrated on the instrument. Fumbling with the strings, he produced a few chords, his eyes brightened and he smiled. "It kind o' comes back to a feller," he observed.

Jimmy was allowed to have the instrument but a few minutes.

"How would you like to have a guitar to practice on while you are getting well?" asked the Red Cross worker. "Oh—oh, I'd sure like it. Mebbe the doc won't stand for it." But the doctor did "stand for it" the next day—and for a little while each day. And Jimmy got a new grip on himself—his thinking was objectified a bit, and he looked forward to the practice hour impatiently. It had to be when other patients were disturbed least, but knowing its purpose, they were willing to "stand for it," too.

Now Jimmy is in a convalescent house and is frequently in demand as a one-man orchestra, according to Red Cross officials.

Memorial Museum for Roosevelt Is Proposed by Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—The great museum proposed by Congressman Hicks as a memorial to Col. Roosevelt in the bill introduced by him in the house of representatives, Jan. 29, is designed to be a museum of history and the arts—illustrating the history and genius of Americans—two subjects with which Mr. Roosevelt was vitally concerned.

Washington, the nation's capital and the focusing place for all Americans, is the logical location for the memorial to this great American.

Such a memorial, while as permanent as bronze, would be a living and enduring tribute that would serve for all time as a real force in the education of all classes of Americans.

It would contain the vast collections already in the National museum of relics and mementoes of illustrious patriots of our country and of the events conspicuous in its history. These concern not only celebrated warriors and statesmen and important military incidents, but also scientists and inventors and epoch-making discoveries and inventions produced by their genius, which have advanced the cause of civilization and added luster to our national fame.

The great collection relating to the world war, now being gathered, would also be installed within its walls.

It would house the National Gallery of Art in the development of which President Roosevelt took an effective and timely interest. The collections of the National Gallery now approximating $1,000,000 in value, will rapidly grow as soon as its adequate installation is assured. It is now shown amid inappropriate surroundings in one of the halls of the National History building.

In it also would be hung the National Portrait Gallery—a collection of portraits of distinguished persons connected with American history.

Exhibits relating to arts and industries would be here, too, showing the development of the electric telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, electric lighting, transportation by land, water and air; photography, from earliest invention to modern moving picture apparatus; printing, illustrating and bookmaking; ores and minerals—their natural occurrence and processes of manufacture; textiles, drugs, foods, and of many other subjects in this important phase of our history.

It would serve to stimulate the historian, artist, designer, manufacturer and artisan and bring to the American people in the most realistic manner an appreciation of the extent and character of their historical and industrial development, and would be a more powerful and practical influence for good than any other form of memorial to Mr. Roosevelt.

Illinois Schools to Use Only English

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A movement has been launched to bar all but the English language from being taught in the public schools of Illinois.

Samuel Insull, chairman of the state council of defense, is back of the movement and is preparing a recommendation urging the general assembly to pass a law making it obligatory in every grade school in the state to employ only the English language.

"A foreign-born family in America begins with two—the wife and husband," said Insull. "We may find it difficult always to make good Americans of these because they lack our language. But the children of foreign-born parents should be made to acquire their educations in a foreign tongue."

According to present plans the bill will apply to parochial schools as well as public.

COURTEOUS BANDIT ROBS GAS STATION

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—For the fourth time in 18 months the filling station of the Automobile Gasoline Co. at North and South and Clayton roads was held up and robbed by a well-dressed highwayman; $22 was taken from the cash register. Twenty minutes before the holdup Sheriff Bopp of St. Louis county had visited the station. Everett Baggett was in charge.

"What is your busiest day?" the holdup man courteously inquired of Baggett.

"Every day is about the same," he answered.

"I meant to call last night, but I was too busy. I've been here before, you know," the holdup man said.

The visitor then drew a revolver, pocketed the money and ordered Baggett to tear the telephone from the wall, which he did.

"See you later," the man remarked as he departed.

MOCKING BIRD IN MAINE DURING ZERO WEATHER

KENNEBUNK, Me., Feb. 19.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander in Hallowell, where a feeding station for birds is maintained throughout the winter, on Wednesday morning, Jan. 15, seven evening grosbeaks, a pair of hairy woodpeckers, a white-breasted nuthatch and a mocking bird assembled for breakfast, which is believed to be a record for the state of Maine.

The mocking bird first joined this winter colony on Jan. 4 and continued to be a regular boarder despite the zero weather.

HOME OF EVANGELINE TO BECOME A PUBLIC PARK

MONTREAL, Quebec, Feb. 19.—The home of Evangeline at Grand-Pre, N. S., immortalized by Longfellow's poem of that name, has been purchased by the Canadian Pacific railway and will be maintained as a public park. A statue of Evangeline, which was being sculptured by Louis Philippe Hebert at the time of his death, will be completed by his son and placed in the park.

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

A Cincinnati Barber Tells How to Make a Remedy for Gray Hair.

Mr. Frank Harbaugh of Cincinnati, O., who has been a barber for more than forty years, recently made the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

Mines and Steel Mills Closed Down by Strikes

BY ALFRED G. ANDERSEN, Staff Correspondent International News Service

BERLIN, Feb. 18, via London, Feb. 19.—Thirty-five coal mines in the Rhineland district and a number of steel mills, including Krupp's, are all idle, as the result of the general strike proclaimed by the Spartacists. Spartacist leaders declare the strike will remain in effect until government troops are withdrawn.

Fighting has broken out at some places, and during the clashes the reds used minenwerfers. The government troops were defeated in these engagements, it was reported from the Ruhr district.

Mine officials have formally appealed to the government authorities at Weimar, the seat of the national assembly, for protection.

10,000 Homeless in Eastern Galicia Fighting

CRACOW, Feb. 18 (via London, Feb. 19).—Ten thousand persons are homeless in eastern Galicia, as a result of the devastation caused by the fighting between the Ukrainians and the Hungarians. Three thousand persons have been wounded in the bombardment of Lemberg. The city is under shell fire daily. Several towns in eastern Galicia have been destroyed entirely.

stronger northern neighbor if she should elect to do so.

Another view, propounded chiefly by the French, is that such a bloc would constitute a menace for the rest of Europe and that peace could be best guaranteed by forming the German people into as many different states as possible.

The question is bound to come before the council of ten before long, although not until President Wilson returns from the United States.

It is now understood that the German army will be fixed at a maximum of 25 divisions, or roughly at half a million men and that no part of this force shall be garrisoned near the Franco-German frontier. At the same time Germany will be absolutely forbidden to use a single submarine.

The question of allowing Germany to continue training men without equipping them for war will probably be settled by the league of nations executive council, as indeed will the whole question of conscription and submarine warfare and world navies in general.

NON-CONSCRIPTION

One view that likely will be pressed under article twelve of the constitution of the league of nations is non-conscription for Germany for at least ten years. If such a proposition is adopted, it is held that will be absolutely no frontier danger for France to face and that France, Italy and other nations will be only too ready to take advantage of the financial relief thus afforded by abolishing conscription in their own countries.

It is believed that if the principal powers go without conscription for a period of ten years there will be no disposition to take it up later. Under the same article, number twelve, of the league of nations covenant, it is expected that the submarine will be banned by all navies, even for legitimate uses of naval warfare. Italy's refusal to accept arbitration of her territorial defenses with the Jugo Slavia cause no surprise in Paris.

All along Italy has taken the view that the peace conference should deal with this question in the same manner it had taken up the others.

SERBIAN MEMORANDA

The Serbians have submitted a memorandum outlining their claims against Bulgaria. Serbia is seeking a belt of territory along the Bulgarian frontier from 10 to 20 miles wide, which would bring her new frontier at one point in close proximity to Sofia.

These claims are based on purely strategical grounds, Serbia contending that they are necessary to protect her main railroad against any sudden incursion across the border.

Another memorandum outlined the terms of the union between the Serbians and the Czech-Slovaks.

The conference now is about to consider the Moroccan question. France is seeking free development in Morocco, but she has been hindered in this by existing treaties, notably the act of Algeiras, and is calling for their complete revision. Except in the sense of freeing herself of German interference, France will not seek any strengthening of her protectorate. She desires to retain native help in the administration of the country.

Information has reached the peace delegates that food conditions in Germany are very grave and if relief does not reach the people the rations will have to be reduced by the end of March.

ALLIES CONSIDER SERBIANS, SLOVENES AND CROATS' CLAIMS

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The territorial claims of the Serbians, the Slovenes and Croats were considered by the allied powers at their foreign office, it was announced in the following communique:

"The representatives of the allied and associated powers met Tuesday at the Quai d'Orsay from 3 to 6 o'clock.

"M. Vesitch, M. Zager and M. Trumbitch explained the territorial claims of the Serbians, Slovenes and Croats, respectively.

"It was decided to submit the question of frontiers claimed, with the exception of those in which it was directed interested, to the commission already charged with the examination of the question of Banat.

"The next meeting will take place on Thursday, Feb. 20, at 3 p. m.

SURRENDER OF FORTS AT KIEL, HELGOLAND, IS TO BE DEMANDED

LONDON, Feb. 19.—While the armistice terms providing for the surrender of the forts at each end of the Kiel canal and at Helgoland, and the German warships now interned, so that these ships may be destroyed have not been fully agreed to, it is understood that the United States will make certain reservations so as not to establish precedents which might involve the fortifications of its own coastal canal systems, such as the Cape Cod and other Atlantic waterways. So far it is understood that the question of the fortifications at the Panama canal have not been mentioned but that the United States wishes to make possible the maintenance of certain fortifications. It is reported that it is the intention of the allies to leave Germany a fleet large enough for defensive purposes but to make sure of the opening of the Kiel canal.

It has been announced in the commons that Germany, up to Feb. 14, had surrendered 126,826 freight cars and that up to Feb. 9, the British had received the surrender of the following armament and equipment: Heavy guns, 2500; field guns, 2500; machine guns, 25,000; trench mortars, 3000; airplanes, 1700; locomotives, 4065; motor trucks, 1220.

MEDIUM GRADE SHOES NOW BIG DEMAND

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—Manufacturers of medium grade men's shoes report a better business. One large concern that up to the last week of December complained of receiving no orders, with plenty of cancellations instead, is now viewing the situation in a more optimistic mind. However, manufacturers of men's work shoes are not getting the orders they ought to. Some factories in this district specializing in those lines will have to curtail within a short time if business is not forthcoming. The situation in women's shoes has not changed, and new orders are few. Prices keep very firm.

TWO SETS OF OPINIONS

In regard to the future there are two sets of opinions deserving attention. One believes that business will be very good and prices remain as high as they are and possibly go higher. They think that labor will continue to be well employed at advantageous wages. The other opinion, although recognizing many points of the first as being valid, thinks that so much can happen between now and next winter that they prefer to work on conservative lines. Those who hold that opinion believe the demand will then center upon $7 and $8 shoes. They feel that anything above $10 is too high, whatever the leather market may be. There are certainly no signs of decreased wages in the shoe industry, but it is hard to say how the lowering of the cost of living will affect them. One very large manufacturer is already arguing that they should be lower, but the majority certainly do not think in this manner.

CLEANING OUT SHELVES

Shoe retailers in this district are busy cleaning out their shelves and include staple men's shoes in their list of offerings. They certainly feel that the old prices were too high and that it is time to reduce profit for the sake of volume.

There is a fair demand for hemlock sole leather, and quotations for the week for No. 1 heavy standard tan range from 46 cents for the best down to 40 cents for No. 2. Production is fairly large. Union leather continued to sell actively in cow weights, and there was more trading noted on heavy weights. Lower selections are also easier to move than they have been for some time past. There is some export demand, but nothing compared to what it might be if it were not for embargoes and other restrictions. Oak leather is selling fairly well, with bends of good quality quoted at 88 cents and 90 cents for Nos. 1 and 2. Steer backs are still on the basis of 75 cents. Finders' leather sells without difficulty at top prices. Offal is selling at a variety of prices, according to quality, and some selections are stronger than ever. Hemlock bellies are selling at 15 cents; oak bellies, 27 cents to 30 cents, with some at 20 to 25 cents, and union bellies at 15 to 23 cents, according to weight. Double rough oak shoulders are quoted from 50 to 60 cents. Belted butts are selling up to 95 cents for the very best; 93 and 91 cents asked for light weights.

CALFSKIN QUOTATIONS

Calfskins are generally quoted on the basis of 75 cents for the best color. Some special shades range up to $60. However, some producers are not asking over 72 cents. There is a large amount of low grade leather on the market now offered at prices over those ruling two weeks ago. There is more demand than supply for ooze calf at 90 cents a foot. Black glazed kid is generally quoted around 70 cents for the best grades of black. Some lines are said to be higher and some lower. Raw material is in scant supply and new arrivals will help but little. Patent leather in top selections cal sell well and are now quoted at 60 to 64 cents. Low grades are difficult to get rid of. Chrome side leather was generally marked up this week 2 cents a foot. Colored kip sides are now quoted up to 50 cents for the best colors. It is still difficult to induce manufacturers to buy low grades. Bark and combination sides are not easy to sell, but there is plenty of re-finished army leather to be had for work shoes. Sheepskins can sell easily when the best grades are offered, but manufacturers are not interested in inferior selections.

Less interest this week than last. Some tanners are well supplied and out of the market until good hides come back. Extremes could be sold up to 24½ cents for the choicest. Sides made between 23 and 24 cents. Butts are still hard to sell alone, but some are moving in conjunction with extremes.

COTTON CROP HAS FINE PROSPECTS IN TORREON

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 19.—According to information brought here by arrivals from the Torreon section of Mexico, one of the greatest crops of cotton in the history of the Laguna district, which is provided irrigation by a plentiful supply of water in that rich agricultural valley, has been planted and promises a record crop. Recently the farmers of the Laguna district near Torreon harvested one of the greatest wheat crops ever grown in Mexico, aggregating 50,000,000 bushels, while the biggest corn crop of the district was also grown and harvested a few months ago.

MIMIC JAIL BREAKER FAILS WHEN UNDER ARREST

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 19.—Breaking out of a real jail is another thing. Attest, Jack Carson, billed in vaudeville as "Nemo the Jail Breaker." Incarcerated here for stealing a $200 diamond, he couldn't realize on his ability to perform any of his marvelous exhibitions of jail breaking, handcuff slipping and chain breaking.

COOTIE SENT AS GIFT

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 19.—There is one less cootie in France and one more in Waukegan. Mr. and Mrs. David Erwin have received from their son Sergeant Jack Erwin a package containing a cootie.

Humor Crops Out in Bomb Reward Case

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—The city billboards and signposts were flooded recently with huge placards offering $10,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the persons who planted the bombs which on December 31 damaged the homes of several prominent city officials.

There is a humorous twist in the placards because of the fact that in eight-inch type they announce that the rewards for the "violators of the city's fair name" is offered in behalf of the municipal authorities by "J. Thomas B. Smith," who is at present standing trial on charges of violation of the Shearn Act and misdemeanor while in office.

FALLS DEAD IN HALL AS HE FINISHES A SQUARE DANCE

PULTON, Mo., Feb. 19.—Luther Black, 35 years old, dropped dead in a dance hall in Millerburg. Heart failure, superinduced by a recent attack of influenza, was the cause. Black had just finished a square dance and collapsed as he was leaving the floor. He was a son of Thomas Black, a prominent Boone county farmer.

Chains His Roll; Fishes for Dips

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 19.—W. H. Johnson, farmer from North-east Minnesota, sure had one swell time "puttin' it over on the darn smart city 'dips'" during a recent visit to the Minnesota metropolis. Johnson used a roll of real cash—$125 in bills—as bait and landed four fresh city "suckers" with it.

The first two of the city guys got a flash at Johnson's roll as he walked down the street, the end of the full-grown roll protruding from his vest pocket. They went for the bait—hook, line and all—but pulled up with a sudden jerk.

One end of a well-forged chain was fastened to the roll of $125—the other end to Johnson. Johnson turned the pair over to the police.

The following night two more city sharks reached for the roll and a few minutes later were occupying adjoining cells and exchanging notes with the suckers of the night before.

FINDS MASTODON TOOTH

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—A mastodon tooth, weighing four pounds and measuring eight inches in length, five inches by three and one-half across the top, has been found on a farm near Virginia, Ill., by Charles Tibbs.

Curling Iron Fires Celluloid Comb

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 19.—The thoughtless woman, a curling iron, celluloid comb and some dainty fixture of milady's dressing table are the causes of many fires in this country. H. H. Friedly, Indiana fire marshal, told the Optimist club here. Hurriedly dressing for a party, or shopping trip, the woman heats the curling iron, uses it, drops it, still hot, on a celluloid comb or the dresser scarf and rushes away. The result—a fire.

NO PHONES, MOVIES OR AUTOS IN HER LIFE—90

WINCHESTER, Mass., Feb. 19.—Mrs. Mary Anna Hutchinson, who died at her home here, aged 90 years, never used a telephone, rode in an automobile or attended a moving picture show. She lived in this town 68 years. Mrs. Hutchinson was born in Boston and was the great-granddaughter of a member of the Boston Tea Party of 1773. Her childhood home was on Purchase street, Boston, within a short distance of the wharf where the tea was thrown overboard.

Champion Miner Is Now No More

FROSTBURG, Md., Feb. 19.—Lawrence B. Finzel, known as the champion coal miner of the United States, is dead, and his passing has called attention to several of his exploits. Several years ago he loaded in one year 4000 tons of coal, an average of about 12 tons a day. His pay was $2300.00. This was at a time when wages were two to three times lower than at present.

On one occasion he was given a heading to drive and two other miners were given an air course. In one month Finzel had driven the heading 60 feet deeper in the coal than the others had driven the air course. Finzel was an object of curiosity among physicians and he was often invited to hospitals for examination.

COW HAD GOAT APPETITE

URBANA, Ohio, Feb. 19.—Rural Mail Carrier Robert S. Middleton was the owner of a valuable cow. She took sick and baffled the combined efforts of two veterinarians, and finally died. A post-mortem was held and wire nails and barbed wire were found in the stomach. "I did not know that there was a goat strain in the breed" was Middleton's comment.

ONLY deep, sound sleep can restore the energy spent in your day's work.

You can't get this kind of sleep in a wooden bed that creaks and groans every time you move in it. Or a metal bed that rattles and sways. Or on a spring that sags—does not support the body.

People who know the facts are going beyond the mere looks of a bed, and asking about sleeping quality.

There isn't anybody anywhere but will sleep better in a Simmons Metal Bed and Slumber King Spring.

THE Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless. It locks firm at the corners. The corner locks are made of pressed steel—have much longer bearing surfaces than the average—fit true and snug—not a creak, rattle, or feeling of unsteadiness.

It is perfectly rigid—feels and moves like one solid piece.

The Man or Woman Who Can Eat Heartily and Not Feel Away Is the Welcome Guest Anywhere.

Many people just hate to eat in company. They prefer to crawl into some by-place for a dyspeptic's plate of molly coddle. Business men often resort to this form of weakness under the belief they can work better. But it isn't what you eat, but what you digest that counts. Some stomachs can't digest even a glass of milk. So they simply keep on feeding dyspepsia and get gas, water brash, sour risings and so on that the better informed and hearty eaters entirely avoid. This they do by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many physicians prescribe them for indigestion, dyspepsia and other digestive disorders. They are sold at every drug store, everywhere, price 50 cents a box. Ask your druggist more about them.—Advertisement.

CHURCH DENIES AUTHORITY IN MINISTER ROW

Episcopal Bishop Not to Probe Charges Against Preachers' Home

That the National Episcopal Rectory association, founded three years ago to provide homes for aged clergymen, is entirely independent of the bishop of the Episcopal diocese or the Episcopal church, and that, therefore, neither the bishop nor the church can institute an investigation of the association, was asserted today by Dr. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ church and founder of the association.

An investigation has been asked by Dr. E. J. H. Van Deerlin, assistant rector of Christ church, Ontario, who had been an inmate of the home conducted by the association, on a $5000 endowment made by E. L. Doheny.

Dr. Van Deerlin claims that, despite the fact the $5000 was supposed to provide a home for him for the rest of his life, Dr. Lee told him a year ago to leave the home, and that he could never get any explanation as to why he was ousted.

BISHOP ABSENT

Bishop Johnson was out of the city when Dr. Van Deerlin made demand for an investigation, but Dean MacCormack, rector of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, stated that an investigation might be a desirable thing.

"However," Dean MacCormack said today, "I must agree with Dr. Lee in his claim that the Episcopal church has no jurisdiction over the home. The inquiry has been worth while if it has made clear to the public the fact that the church has had nothing whatever to do with the home, and is in no way responsible for it."

Dr. Lee stated today that while anyone would be welcome to investigate the home, and that it is really a fine institution, there is nobody authorized to conduct a probe, and that if Dr. Van Deerlin's complaints were not annoying and "gross ingratitude," they would be amusing.

"Dr. Van Deerlin was in the home for two years," Dr. Lee said. "His wife was with him, and for a good part of the time his daughter was there. He was not sent there by Mr. Doheny, as the latter had never seen him. When Mr. Doheny gave that $5000 he asked me to send some one to the home."

ASKED TO LEAVE

"Dr. Van Deerlin made himself no objectionable to the management of the hotel that I was forced to ask him to leave. He tried to run everything and everybody. Although under no obligation at all, we gave him $50 a month for a year after he left there."

"Our plan for the home is to accept the $5000 donations for retired clergymen and their wives, in order to get money to complete the purchase of the home. When it is completed we will take couples in without any charge, and we have also decided not to limit it to clergymen, but to take in any needy, aged couple."

"The Episcopal church has never given a dime to this home, or helped in any way, and it has nothing to do with the situation now."

The home is known as the Casa Blanca hotel at Ontario, and $46,000 has been used for the purchase of the property. There remains $104,000 to be paid before the association will own the hotel. All funds have been raised by subscriptions.

Invoke Initiative in 'Gas' Ordinance

According to John P. Steele an initiative petition providing for the restoration of the city's former ordinance fixing a high standard for gasoline sold in this city, soon will be placed in circulation. This action, Steele said, was to be taken because the city council had adopted the government gasoline specifications, which were said to be lower than those of the city's old ordinance.

MANY MATCHES IN SIGHT FOR LEONARD

By JACK VEIOCK

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, will not have to pine for action when he returns to the east from California, where he is starring among the four-rounders.

With the promoters of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other states planning to bring boxing back, the woods will be full of offers.

Promoter Dave MacKay of Newark announced today that he is offering Leonard $10,000 to meet the winner of the coming bout between Lew Tendler of Philadelphia and Joe Welling, the crack Chicago biffer. MacKay wants to stage the bout before May 1.

Dick Curley, New Haven promoter, wants Leonard for four bouts, and Philadelphia promoters will vie with each other in making offers to the champion to meet Lew Tendler, who is being touted as the next lightweight champion.

Tendler has risen so rapidly in lightweight circles that the wise birds predict he will be seen in the ring with Leonard before many moons have passed.

Welling, who kept in condition in the navy, is also getting considerable attention as a lightweight contender.

Rickard Still Seeks
Site for Big Battle

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—On his departure here last night for Texas Tex Rickard, promoter of the coming Willard-Dempsey fight, intimated that he would likely get a site for the battle somewhere in Illinois.

Local sportsmen here believe that this will be an impossibility from the standpoint that boxing is illegal in this state.

Jess Willard, who left here yesterday for his ranch in Kansas, had little to say except that he would begin light training for his bout with Dempsey in a few weeks.

Pete Buzukos, welterweight wrestler, arrived in Los Angeles today from the Imperial valley, where he has been wrestling, with a challenge to meet Eddie O'Connell on a winner-take-all basis.

Although he weighs only 142 pounds, Buzukos says he would not hesitate to meet Young Gutch in a handicap affair.

BIG OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG
PLAYERS, DECLARE MANAGERS

Young ballplayers will be given more opportunities to make good this season and in future years than in the past, is the belief of Wade Killifer and Bill Essick, the men who will handle the baseball hopes of Southern California.

With the abolition of the draft the Class AA clubs will feel more like trying out young players.

In past years if a good youngster was developed the majors had the right to draft him for $2500. But now the minors can keep their young players until they see fit to sell them. It has been the policy of most clubs in Class A and Class AA to depend upon veterans. It proved a better investment financially and far less for a manager to spend $1000 or $1500 for a man who he knew could deliver in his league than to try out a dozen youngsters and not find a single peach in the lemon basket.

Then if one was found he was whisked away at the end of the season.

MANY YOUNGSTERS

In spite of the unfavorable conditions the Coasters developed such players as Chase, Hollister, Bancroft and a host of others. Bill Perica was the Angels' youngster last year, while Bobby Meusel was one of the recent Vernon lads.

While the Coast league paid some attention to youngsters the American association and other high grade minors overlooked them almost entirely. To remedy that state of affairs...

There is one kickback to the abrogation of the agreement between the minors and the majors. In the past few years the Class AA clubs had first call on the men dropped by the majors. Now the major league clubs claim the right to place their players in any league they see fit.

Baseball
Gossip

By MATT GALLAGHER

The call of baseball has proved so strong that Wade Killifer will not wait until March 10 to start the spring training season.

The red-topped leader of the Seraphs will be out at Washington park starting to warm up his right arm for the coming year. A half-dozen other members of the Angel band are expected to be with him.

Killifer says he needs more time than most of the other players to get in shape. He also intends to have a few of his pitchers working out.

Couterjohn, the Marine sharpshooter who will be out for the third base position, "Red" Anderson, who is after the shortstop berth, and several other youngsters also are expected to be on hand for the early practice.

Bill Essick had his ball club lined up so early that he felt he could take on the added responsibility of driving a motor car.

Eddie Herr, new manager of the Salt Lake club, had experience in handling Class D baseball clubs years ago. He was successful then and was signed as a scout because of his ability to pick young ball players.

"Scotty" Finlay, trainer for the Los Angeles club, has come to terms with John Powers and he will handle the Angel athletes this year.

"Shine" Scott will be back with the Tigers. As Chet Chadbourne remarks, "It wouldn't be the Vernon club without 'Shine' around."

Tom Stephens, part owner of the San Francisco club, is in Los Angeles for a visit. He says the Seals are fairly well lined up for the coming season. Kamm, at third base, and Cavenay, at second, are two of the new men who will be seen by Coast league fans. Charley Graham is after a pair of catchers. Forrest Cady may be one of them and the St. Louis Browns may furnish the other.

With good weather at Salt Lake the opening week of the season the Coast league should get away to a good start. The other games will be at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento and that practically assures the league officials of good weather.

Walter McCredie added another catcher to his club yesterday when he signed Boezelle, who was with Vancouver last season. Judge McCredie, owner of the Beavers, likes the way Boezelle handles himself behind the plate.

Bill Rodgers says he has the best catching staff in the league in Fisher and Easterly. Then he tries to trade one of them for a shortstop.

There is considerable talk of restoring railroad rates again. If the rates are put back it will mean a saving of thousands of dollars for Coast league teams and practically assure the success of the Coast league this season.

What the Boxers

By FANE NORTON

San Francisco sport writers and boxing fans call him "Lucky" Dundee owing to the breaks he gets in his close bouts in the north, but if Jimmy Dundee ever gets any more than is coming to him at Vernon he will have to have a change in luck or they will have to keep on changing referees or something like that.

Jimmy won the main event at Vernon last night but he didn't win the decision. Referee Artie Reynolds calling the bout a draw after four rounds of honest milling.

Weldon Wing made it decidedly interesting for Dundee all the way and at one time in the third round it looked as if he would be returned a winner, but the fourth round was far Dundee's and the Oakland boy was a much disappointed youngster when he failed to receive the award.

The first round was not particularly hot, as the boys were feeling each other out and Dundee was piling up a shade on points. Wing took the second round by good use of a left jab and in the third they went to it and battled all over the place.

It was Wing's best round and he opened a cut over Dundee's eye and otherwise mugged him up, but Jimmy fought back hard enough to almost hold his own.

The fourth was the real round of the mill. Dundee hooked repeatedly with his left and each time crossed with his right, bobbing Wing's head time and again.

A boy less tough and less game would have been upset by the roughing, but "Tufty" weathered it all and was ready to go some more. The round was Dundee's, such a big margin that it put him in front for the bout.

Earl Baird was to have been matched with the winner but the draw verdict puts it up to the matchmaker to pick either Dundee or Wing. It looks as if Dundee will spend another week in Southern California.

Harry Lee took the boeing of his life in the semi-windup when he gave Young Gollindo the decision. Lee was the winner, but Mende out-gamed and out-ran all the while. Mende never let up and while he failed to punish Gollindo to any extent, he had him running all the way with the exception of a flash in the fourth round. A boy who tries as Mende does deserves every advantage over a staller who doesn't give the crowd any sort of run.

Mende was a real winner. He has received a draw and he was entitled to the verdict if willingness to step receives the consideration it should.

Joe Brown received the verdict over Kid Jackson after four rounds of milling. Jackson started well, but Brown had too much stamina and liked the pace to well for him. Brown wasn't much of a battler, but Brown was entitled to the decision he received. As was expected, Mike Doll and Kid Strawhecker furnished the comedy bout of the night. Doll winning the decision.

Ted Levin fought a better bout than usual and gave George Marks a regular scrap, but George's cleverness enabled him to get out in front and he was never headed. Babe Crist took the decision from Louie Garcia in the curtain raiser. Crist scored a couple of knockouts in the opener and it was lucky that he did, for he tired rapidly and it took the knockdowns to give him the edge. At that, Crist didn't look at all bad and if he gets in shape he will go good in the preliminaries.

Bob Summerville, formerly a local heavyweight boxer, was introduced from the ring. Bob left a lot in the Agnone forest and has just returned home from the Letterman hospital in San Francisco. The big fellow had no more than hopped over the ropes when a wave of money started and a purse of $516.52 was his inside of five minutes. Summerville has hundreds of friends in Los Angeles. He was popular as a boxer and was the first of the local athletes to come home disabled as a result of the war.

JACK DEMPSEY'S RISE IN

By TOM THORP

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The meteoric rise of Jack Dempsey from an "unknown" boxer of the far west to a contender for the heavyweight championship of the world in a period of less than four years is without a parallel in the history of prize ring doings.

Should he succeed in wrestling the title from Jess Willard by Independence Day he will have achieved the most startling pugilistic record of all time.

No fighter since the memorable days of Terry McGovern, the pride of Brooklyn, and one of the greatest battlers that the sport ever produced, has won so much popularity among boxing fans as has the Salt Lake City challenger. The fact that he is the same slashing, smashing, ripping, tearing type of fighter that the Brooklyn champion was, has had much to do with gaining him prominence.

AN AGGRESSIVE FIGHTER

Jack Dempsey, from the time that he first learned how to put up his mitts in the ring, has been giving his best efforts in every fight he has engaged in. Willard's challenger has never heard the call of the fans "fight instead of stalling." No gallery-fite has ever had occasion to whistle the "Merry Widow" while he was engaged in a ring contest. Jack has a long list of knockouts to his credit.

It is this slam-bang style of fighting that Jack is going to depend upon to win the heavyweight championship of the world for his next Independence Day. It is the sort of battling with which the late Terry McGovern conquered his rivals until that unfortunate Thanksgiving Day afternoon in 1901 at Hartford, Conn., when Young Corbett took the championship crown away from him.

Dempsey has profited by the example of the South Brooklyn battler. He realizes prize ring popularity is to be won only by an exhibition of gameness and willingness to exchange punches with a rival under all sorts of conditions. The fighter who covers up when a rival displays a willingness to stand toe to toe and exchange wallops can never expect to win favor with the fans.

HAS FOUGHT BIG MEN

Dempsey has never shown the slightest sign of "backing away" from an opponent in any of his fights.

Twice for Benefits

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A statement made by Jess Willard, champion heavyweight of the world, who is to meet Jack Dempsey on July 4, that he had contributed liberally to every war cause and has boxed for every fund has started a protest from war organizations.

The real fact is that only in two places did he perform with the gloves for a war benefit—one bout in Fort Riley, Kansas, and the other at Fort Worth, Tex. Willard came to Chicago in July for a benefit bout for the Salvation Army, but never boxed because the local authorities objected to the affair being held.

IS COOL AND DELIBERATE

Some experts have pictured Dempsey as a rough and tumble slugger. Dempsey is not a skillful boxer, but he is a cool, cunning fighter who knows how to make the most of his natural ability and can take a wallop without looking for a soft spot to drop on. This latter fact is going to play an important role in his coming battle with Big Jess.

Dempsey was born of Scotch-Irish parents in 1895, being only 24 years of age. Reports that his mother was a descendant from the Cherokee Indians are denied by the fighter himself. He is proud of his Scotch-Irish ancestry. He is open in his declaration that the Irish strain is the one which made him the real fighter that he is.

BILL KILLIFER TO RETURN TO CUBS

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Bill Killifer, star catcher of the Cubs, has been discharged from the army and will train with the Chicago Nationals at Pasadena, according to an announcement here today by President Mitchell.

Killifer, who was stationed at Camp Custer, was discharged yesterday and telegraphed Mitchell that he would join the Cub team on March 19, when the club will leave this city for Pasadena.

According to reports Killifer is in good condition and with a little work he will be able to catch the opening game on April 23. He is under contract with the Cubs, having signed to play with that team for two years.

White Seeks Match

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Charlie White, lightweight boxer, has started a campaign to force Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, to meet him in the squared ring.

Leonard, according to White, has refused to meet him in the ring on several occasions and the latter has instructed his manager, Nate Lewis, to get a list of the towns the champion intends to visit in his travels, and Charlie plans to meet Benny in every town.

Trench Drama Told on Stained Paper

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—About the most gruesome souvenir yet received from France has just been received from Corporal Julius M. Adams, One Hundred and Tenth Aero Squadron, in France.

The souvenir is just a tiny piece of blood-stained paper, but it brings a story of gripping drama. This is the message that accompanied the scrap of paper:

"I took this off the wall of a German billet. It contains the names of the men who slept there before I threw a hand grenade and cleaned out the bunch."

The names on the blood-stained paper are: Dendeburn, Pointek, Finger, Lange, Dorer, Dinkler, Rabenstein, Schulte, Rankye, Balke, Luge, Schwarzenberger, Hoss and Dobz.

Rolls Dice, but Gets 'Eleven' from Court

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—"To fine or not to fine, that is the question," mused Recorder Johnson when dusky William Shakespeare, charged with rolling de bones, told his name. "How about it, Bard of Avon?" queried his honor.

Reciting a "Winter of discontent" Bill told of a lot of hard luck and acknowledged "rolling the bones."

"Eleven bones," quote the judge, and called the next case.

EX-POLICEMAN HIS TIPS SO BIG THEY THOUGHT BANDIT

Man Nabbed on Year-Old
Street Car Robbery in
St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—Bird Kilgore, who gives his St. Louis address as 4329 St. Louis avenue, former policeman and former motorman for the United Railways, was identified by William F. Daniels, 3925 North Twenty-third street, a conductor on the Lee avenue line, as the man who held him up twice during the summer of 1917 and shot him in the hand, the second occasion.

Kilgore was brought back from Philadelphia today on a charge of jumping an $800 bond on which he was at liberty under a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He had been traced through a letter he sent to his wife.

BANDIT TOOK $19.80
Daniels and Archibald Morris, 4622 Grove avenue, motorman on his car, were held up at Taylor and Lee avenue the night of July 13, 1917, when they got off the car for a moment. Daniels was relieved of $19.80 and a watch belonging to his wife.

On the night of Aug. 2, 1917, the same man, wearing a false mustache, is alleged to have boarded the car and again held Daniels up. Daniels was armed but his revolver failed to work. The man shot Daniels in the right hand.

TRIED THIRD TIME
He is alleged to have boarded the car a third time, later in the summer, but escaped before Daniels could summon a policeman.

On Dec. 31, 1917, Kilgore was arrested in a saloon at 211 North Eighteenth street, on suspicion, and a charge of carrying concealed weapons was placed against him. He obtained release on bond, but left the city before the date of his scheduled hearing. Kilgore quit the police force in April, 1912, to become a motorman for the United Railways, it is said.

Head of Missouri State Life
York

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—After having distributed between $500 and $600 in tips to the employees of the Ritz Carleton hotel in New York last Saturday and Sunday, J. S. Kendall, president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. of St. Louis, was involuntarily placed in the psychiatric ward of the Bellevue hospital there, according to dispatches.

New York failed to understand the unusual generosity of the St. Louis man, brought about according to officials of the company, by celebration over a successful business deal. An official who talked with Kendall over the long distance telephone said Kendall explained to him that he was merely gleeful over some business matters which had been cleared up and staged a celebration. He pronounced it absurd that any one should think his mind affected.

Kendall and George Graham, a vice president of the company, went to New York a week ago on a business trip. Kendall was accompanied by his wife. They were staying at the Pennsylvania hotel until Saturday, when they moved to the Ritz Carleton. The business matters had been cleared up then and Kendall, according to the explanation, became hilarious. Saturday afternoon he began giving away money among the employees of the hotel. Two, five and ten dollar bills were taken from a roll which he carried in his pocket and distributed indiscriminately.

The generosity caused guests at the hotel to become alarmed. Mrs. Kendall then called in a physician and at 5 p. m. Sunday, Kendall was bundled into an ambulance and taken to Bellevue hospital.

Kendall formerly was an investment banker of Dallas, Tex. He was elected president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. Sept. 27, 1918, following a contest of Texas and Missouri interests controlling the company. He then removed to St. Louis and has been making his home at Portland place and Kings highway.

SEEK FIREBUG WHO SET BLAZE IN SWEDISH CHURCH

DAMAGE IS NOMINAL

Several Other Places of Worship Fired by Maniac in Past Two Months

Unidentified incendiaries made a daring attempt early today to destroy the Swedish Methodist church at Fifteenth and Los Angeles streets. H. Reichard of 2626 North Broadway discovered a pillar on the front porch of the edifice ablaze. He telephoned the fire and police departments, and then fought the flames with sand. He extinguished the fire before apparatus arrived.

FIND GASOLINE

Capt. E. H. Enos of the bureau of fire prevention and Detective Sergeants Herman Cline and Sidney Hickok found a bottle which had contained gasoline in the charred pillar. They reported the incendiaries apparently placed the large bottle in the pillar and set the inflammable liquid afire. The bottle broke and gasoline flowed from the pillar onto the porch.

NOMINAL DAMAGE

Reichard's attention was attracted as the oil blazed up. He said he saw no suspicious persons about the church as he approached the place.

Nominal damage was done by the fire. The detectives sought suspects today.

Osage Indian Leaves $62,500 Oil Estate

Moses Robert Shaw, said to be a member of the Osage Indian tribe, left an estate, valued at $62,500, according to a petition for probate of his will, which was filed for probate today.

Shaw, who lived at 1121 West Sixty-first street, acquired the bulk of his fortune through his share of a leasehold interest to oil bearing lands in Oklahoma. The lands were a part of the share distributed by the government to members of the tribe. Shaw owned 160 acres of this land, according to the petition, and his share of the income from the oil was valued at $50,000. The estate is left to the widow.

Meet at Friend's Bier and Settle Suit for $40,000

With the dismissal today of the $40,000 slander suit of A. Eisenberg against David Goldstein and his wife there was brought to light the story of a broken friendship renewed by the litigants at the grave of a mutual friend.

It was at the funeral of the late M. Schneiderman, held a few days ago, that Eisenberg and the Goldsteins met, and over the bier of their friend agreed to forget their differences and bury old animosities.

Rivalry over the efforts of factions to control a Jewish charitable organization, of which Eisenberg was treasurer, was said to have been at the seat of the trouble between the litigants.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Relating a story of paternal love, which she deviated induced her husband to bring to her a baby she supposed was a foundling, but which she said she afterwards learned was her husband's child by another woman, Mrs. Cassie M. Dayton was granted a divorce by Judge Crail from George A. Dayton.

MILITANTS ARE UNDAUNTED AT BEING IGNORED

Undaunted by the campaign begun by Los Angeles clubwomen to ignore them when they are in this city, 24 militant suffragettes who are due to arrive here from Washington, D. C., next week started across the continent today on the first lap of a transcontinental tour.

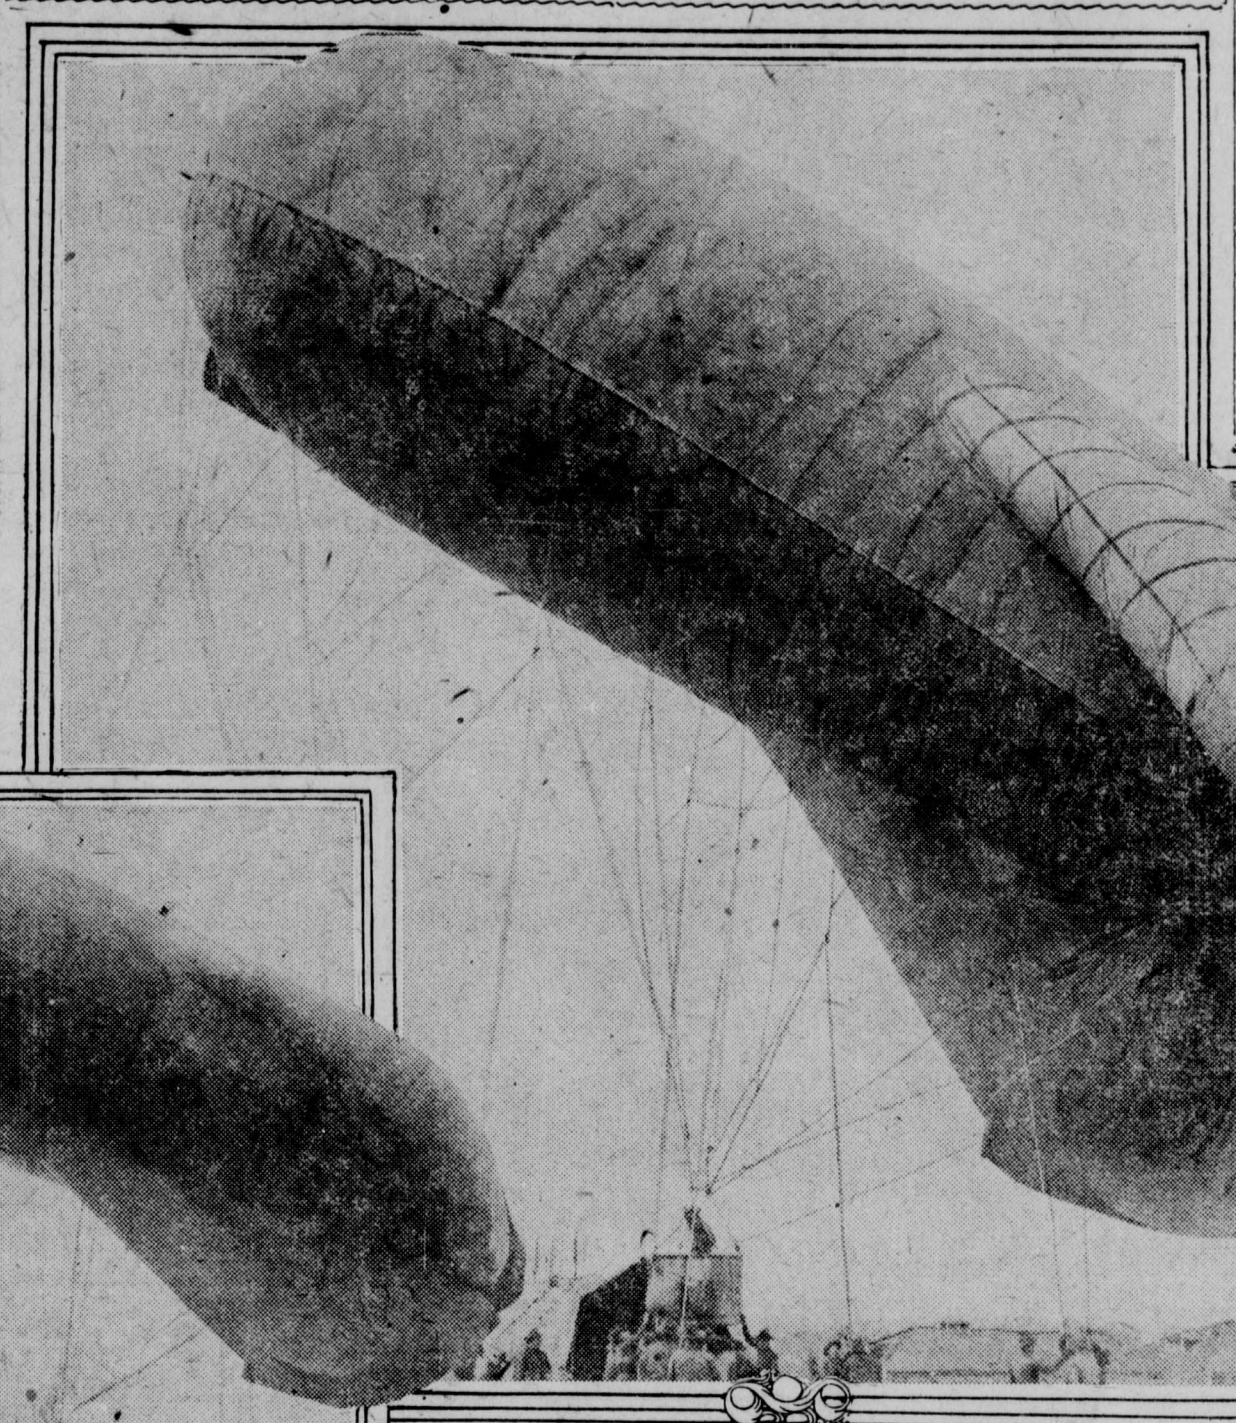

Mrs. Louise Garnett, who is in Los Angeles now in advance of the militants, received this information today in a telegram from Alice Paul, one of the national leaders of the Woman's party, which is the official designation of the militants.

The "prison special train" bearing the militants, all of whom have served prison terms for militancy, made its first stop at Charleston, S. C., where, according to Miss Paul's telegram, a large theater was filled to capacity to hear lectures given by the prison women. Miss Paul's telegram read: "Largest theater in Charleston packed to capacity. Two overflow meetings held outside, where streets leading to doors were packed with people to the exclusion of street traffic. Military police with difficulty kept street car tracks open. A thousand turned away before meeting commenced. Largest gathering of any sort ever known in Charleston. Speakers went from theater to first one outdoor meeting to another. Vida Mitchell sang at all three meetings. Party spends today at Columbia, S. C., where they are met at station by mayor of the city."

DARE-DEVIL FEATS TO RULE BIG AIR CIRCUS

DIVORCES WIFE, ONCE BANDIT'S SWEETHEART

Recalling the story of the alleged infatuation of a young wife for a train bandit and her flight from home in his company, to be forgiven afterwards by her husband, Roy S. Statler was granted a divorce by Judge Crail from Lola I. Statler.

It was in 1913 that Mrs. Statler, then a bride of a few months, became infatuated with Ralph Pariss and she was said to have been his sweetheart at the time he killed H. A. Montague, a traveling passenger agent, on a train near this city, Dec. 1, 1913. Mrs. Statler was questioned by the authorities at the time, but denied she had any knowledge of the crimes planned and committed by Pariss, and she was released.

After Pariss was executed for the slaying of Montague, Mrs. Statler came back to her husband and asked to be forgiven. Statler agreed to forgive and forget and they lived together for a short time. In 1915, Statler alleged his wife became dissatisfied and deserted him again.

The story of the two separations by Statler, who told Judge Crail she came to his place of business in San Pedro a day or two before she left the last time.

"I am not satisfied to live here," he testified she told him. "I am not satisfied to live with you. I am going away and I am not coming back."

The following day, he said, she left home and returned a few days later and took her belongings away. He said he urged her to stay with him, but she refused. He only saw her once after that, he said.

The governor's pledge came after a hearing attended by the county supervisors, representatives of Los Angeles City and Long Beach, and of civic bodies.

DEAD HERO SON'S MEDAL SENT TO MOTHER IN L. A.

For heroism which cost him life on the field of battle in France the distinguished service cross has been awarded to Captain Charles E. De Lario of Los Angeles, according to announcement made by the war department today.

"Baby Elephants," the Type of Balloon Used by the Army for Observation Work, Which Will Be Shown in Actual Operation and "Under Fire" Saturday at Arcadia Balloon School

The cross will be bestowed upon the gallant officer's mother, Mrs. Anna McKee, 2297 Western avenue, in the name of her son, who made the supreme sacrifice under dramatic and heroic circumstances.

KILLED NOV. 2, 1918

Captain De Lario, who was 33 years old, was killed Nov. 2, 1918, just a few days before the armistice.

It was in action near Verdun, wounded while leading his company in the advance against the enemy, Captain De Lario turned over the command to another officer and went to the rear for first aid.

On reaching the aid station, however, he learned that his company was without officers.

SCORNS MEDICAL AID

Immediately, without waiting for medical aid, and without thought of the dangers he faced, he started back to the front through heavy machine gun fire.

He was killed on the way, before he ever reached his command.

Captain De Lario, who had gone to Texas to practice as a physician shortly before the war, was with a Texas outfit, the 360th infantry. Before going to Texas, however, he was widely known in Los Angeles and had a host of friends in this city.

England Warned of Obligation to Share U. S. Wheat Prices

Exclusive Cable to the International News Service and London Daily Express

LONDON, Feb. 19.—"The food controller in announcing a drop in the price of food made ominous remarks about our obligation to pay the guaranteed prices of wheat under war conditions to the United States," said the Daily Express editorially today.

The Daily Express is regarded in England as very close to the British government and its editorials are frequently considered as being semi-official. The editorial today continues:

"If there is to be a loss, the taxpayers ought to bear it through the government and not through their own pockets. The country wants a reduction of prices proportionate to the immense stocks of food."

SAYS BRITAIN BEATS U. S. COTTON PRICES

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Great Britain today buys cotton products far below the normal quotation, at the expense of the American cotton industries, "because President Wilson maintains the war export embargo," Representative Black of Texas told the house judiciary committee today, in urging repeal of the President's embargo powers.

The committee agreed to forward Black's resolution proposing the repeal to the war trade board for comment. "Evidently the embargo emergency still exists—the President has not lifted it," interposed Representative Reavis of Nebraska.

"I don't agree with the President. I think the emergency has passed," Black replied.

The war trade board in a recent letter to the house interstate commerce commission explained that the armistice compelled the continued enforcement of the embargo.

DIED 3 TIMES; IS RECALLED BY LOVE, OPERA SINGER SAYS

Believes She Has Passed from Mortal Sphere and Body and Soul Divided

SWOONED AT VOLCANO

Madame Mariska Aldrich Davis

Tells Experiences in 'Velvet of Utter Night'

That she has experienced death three times in her career—being brought back to life by the power of love—is the remarkable statement of Mariska Aldrich Davis, made today.

Her first experience came when she swooned on gazing into the lurid depths of the volcano Kilauea's crater, in the Hawaiian islands.

Her other "deaths"—as she views them—were phases of a serious illness through which she passed.

Each time, she firmly believed, she passed from the mortal sphere. She believes her soul left her body and that love alone was the revitalizing, resurrecting force that brought it back.

Telling of her trip to the volcano, when she had her first weird experience, she said that as she reached the edge of the crater the awe-inspiring magnificence of it overcame her. Gasping, she swooned, and was not revived for several hours.

FLOATED IN SPACE

On regaining consciousness she was able to give the most exact description of the crater and its surroundings, stating that she had felt herself floating over the volcano and looking down into its depths.

This occurred two years ago.

Last November Mme. Davis was taken seriously ill, and this time she seemed, one night, to have indeed slipped into the other world as she lay with her daughter's arms about her.

Her heart and pulse to all intents and purposes had ceased their functioning and the pallor of death appeared upon her brow.

On her return to consciousness she was able, quite clearly, to tell her experiences.

VOID OF BLACKNESS

Again she was floating—this time in a gigantic void of utter blackness. Blackness that could almost be felt, so thick and velvet and menacing was it. No sound penetrated the great spaces in which she floated—no light—no consciousness of pain or pleasure. Only the deep, sullen midnight darkness surrounded her ever floating body.

Two days later a similar condition occurred—again family and physicians thought the end had come. Indeed, Madame Davis' daughter Meeka speaks seriously of "when mother died."

Again she was lost in the velvet of utter night—her body and soul divided. Only this time, while eternity was born, she floated toward a narrow ribbon of overpowering light—blinding in its intensity.

Again she returned to this world, called each time by love, or so the artist believes.

RECALLED BY LOVE

"Both times," says Madame Davis, "I was recalled to this world by the strength of love—first my daughter and then my husband. Had I been alone I should never have come back and had I gone a third time I know I should have beheld that entire land from which the powerful blinding stream of light gleamed—which would have meant the end."

Madame Davis, known better as Mariska Aldrich, has never studied the occult, but she has never denied the possibility of anything because she herself has never experienced it.

Woman, Shot by Own Husband, Recovering

Plea for COMPLETE Change in Management of State School for Girls Should Be Heeded

REPRESENTING the women of California, five prominent clubwomen have appeared before Governor Stephens and insisted on a complete change in the management of the State School for Girls at Ventura.

These representative women demand not only sweeping reforms at the school and drastic changes in the personnel of the management of the school, but they go farther and INSIST ON A COMPLETE REORGANIZATION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE SCHOOL, WITH AT LEAST THREE OF THE FIVE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD "NEW BLOOD" NOT AFFILIATED IN ANY WAY WITH THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION OF THE SCHOOL OR THE PRESENT BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

It is stated that at this time three of the five trustees of the Ventura school are merely carrying on duties which there is no official reason for them continuing. The terms of two of these trustees have expired and a third trustee has resigned.

Governor Stephens, therefore, has a perfect right now to fill these vacancies that exist on the board. Without removing any member of the board and without causing recriminations, the governor may appoint to these three places three women who will effect the necessary changes in the policies of the Ventura state school.

The supervisors of the county of Los Angeles have already gone on record as refusing to send any more girls from Los Angeles to the Ventura state school unless sweeping reforms are made.

The clubwomen's committee, representing tens of thousands of California women, told Governor Stephens yesterday that they did not believe sweeping reforms would be made unless there was a majority of "new blood" on the board of trustees.

These women have carefully perused all the reports on the Ventura school.

The official findings of the State Board of Charities and Corrections said:

That there had been incarceration of girls in the "No Privilege" cottage at the school for long periods of time—in one instance 93 days.

That girls had been "hosed"—that is that water had been violently squirted on them with a three-inch fire hose held by an official of the school.

That girls had been given hypodermic injections of apomorphine for the purpose of producing nausea.

That girls were given baths in tubs of floating ice.

That mouth washes of cayenne pepper were given.

The girls in "No Privilege" cottage were in unheated cement cells.

BUT IN THE VERY FACE OF THESE FINDINGS BY THE STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF VENTURA SCHOOL MAKES THIS REPORT:

"It is again our pleasure to express our continued confidence in the superintendent, Mrs. C. M. Weymann. We wish to express our hearty appreciation of Mrs. Weymann's devotion to and enthusiasm for the work of the school, the success of which is due to her efforts and the co-operation of her teachers and assistants."

What sort of a "house-cleaning" would a board having a majority assenting to this praise of the Ventura school make?

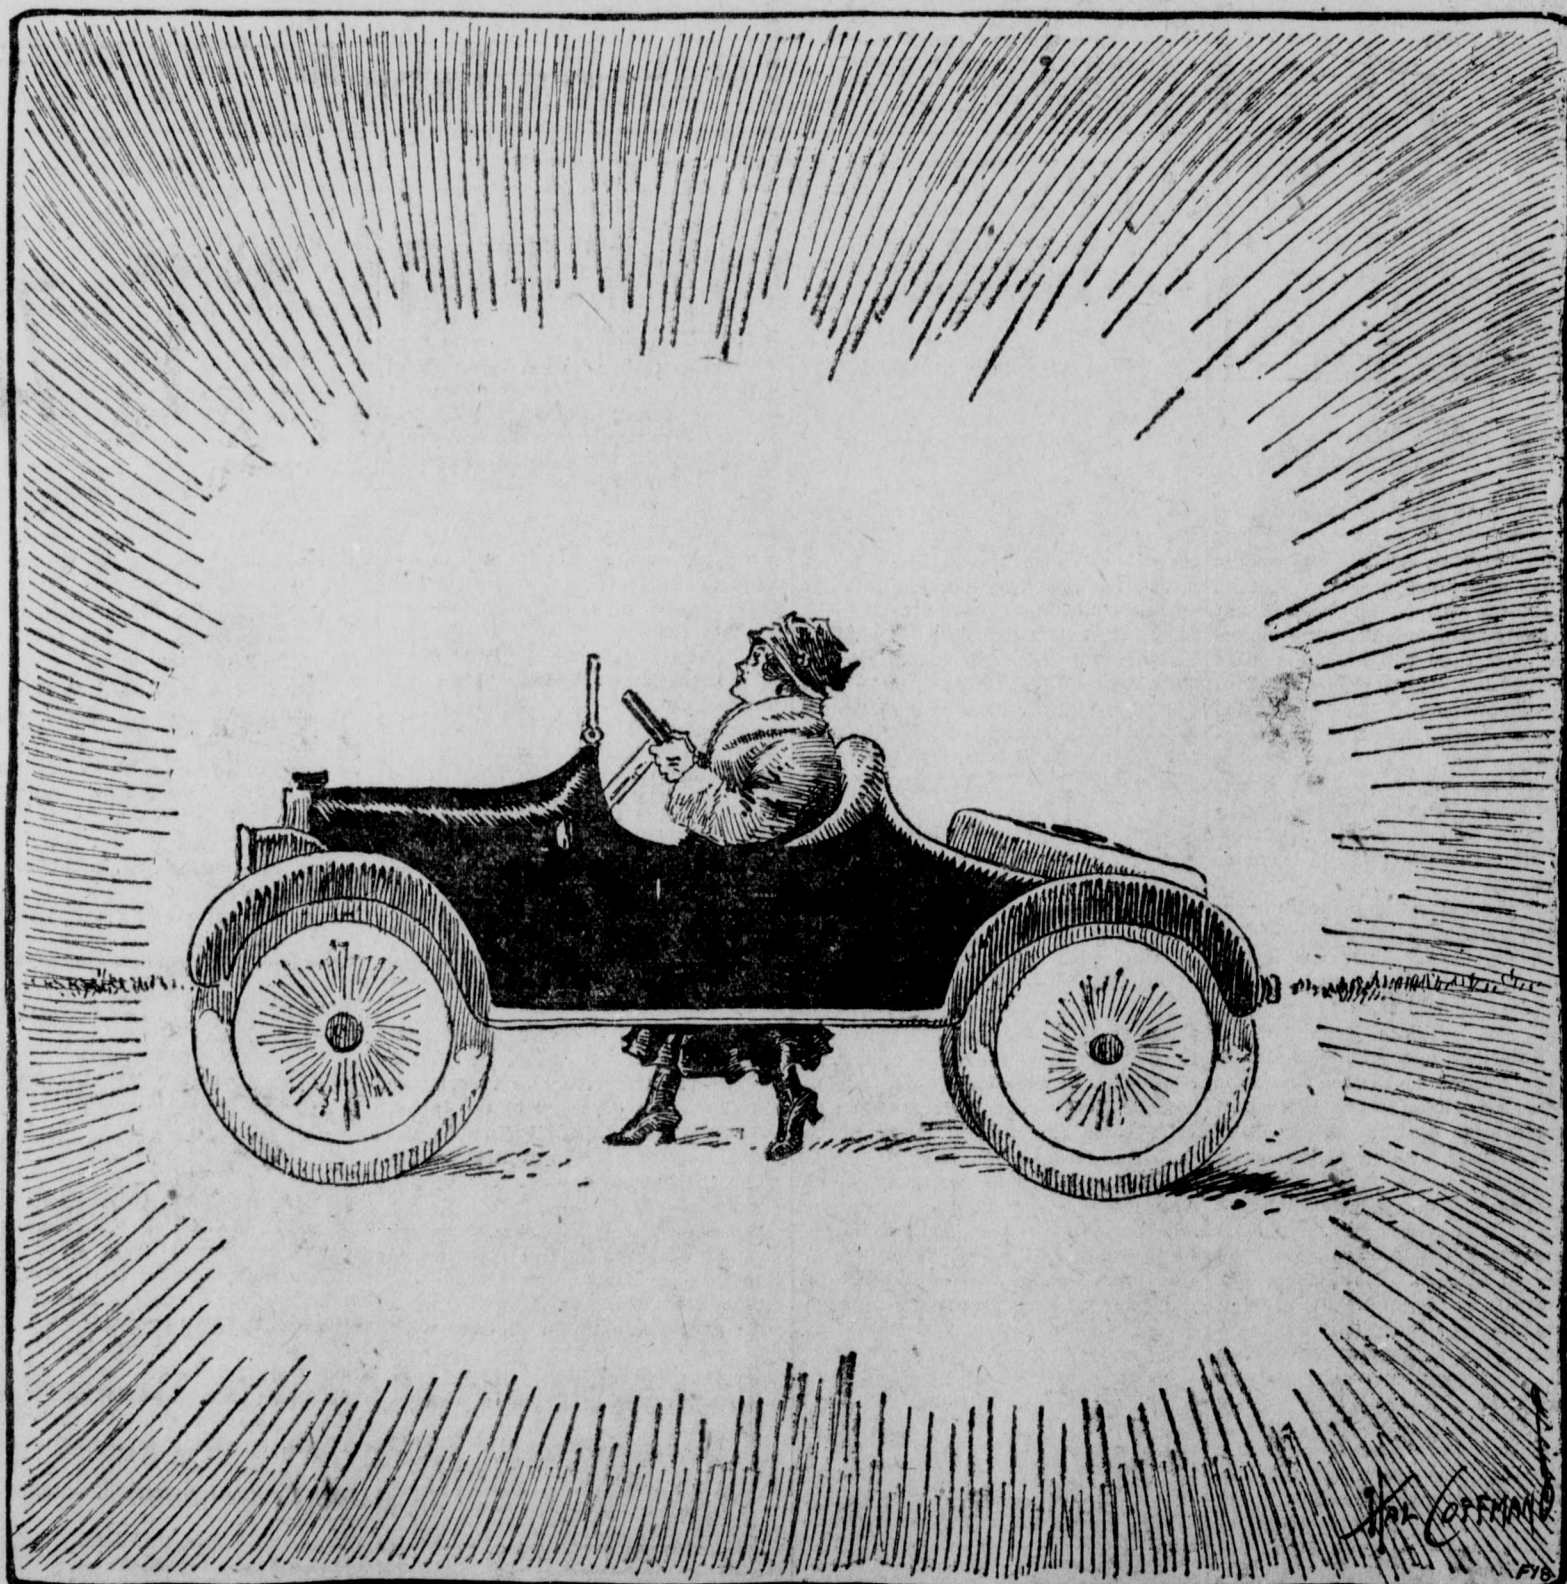

The clubwomen, representing the women of California, who called on Governor Stephens yesterday, told the governor plainly that they expected no reforms of real value unless the whole administration of the school was changed and new ideals and vision for the school were introduced.

It is to be hoped that Governor Stephens will act on broad grounds of public policy and will not allow political considerations to influence him against the appeal of the women of California.

BRING HIM HOME WITH THE REST

WHOM ARE YOU FOOLING?

Mrs. Fumididdle lives in the next block. Mrs. Fumididdle moves in our set and her husband makes $10,000 a year. My husband makes $5000. Of course it's nothing to me, but they have just bought a new car. Our car is last year's, so we are going to get a better car than the Fumididdles. Her gowns and dinners are very expensive and I don't want her to have anything on me—so my gowns and dinners are just as expensive as hers. I hear they are terribly in debt, but that's nothing—so are we. We owe the butcher, the grocer, the baker and the tailor more than the Fumididdles do anyway. The grocer was rude enough today to say: "Nothing more 'til you have paid your bill." The very idea! I shall get a new grocer. My husband says his firm's business is awfully dull since the war and he may be let out. I'm sure I don't know what's to be done. I wouldn't have the Fumididdles know of it for the world.

Try Not to Overeat

By DR. W. A. MCKEEVER

PEOPLE are dying at all ages from the disease of overeating. The food which is an excess quickly becomes poison when taken into the body, and at once a hindrance to the working of the muscle or the brain to its full capacity.

Food poisoning is rather difficult to detect, but it is common to children as well as to adults. One may be plump and fat and the "very picture of health" to the casual observer and yet on the verge of illness from a clogged system. Such a person is especially lacking in the reserve strength so necessary to combat freely such a disease as influenza.

"A healthy child is a hungry child," says a wise physician. That is, he is very hungry at the beginning of each meal and his appetite still has a thin edge when he quits. Such a child is also comparatively quick in his lessons and alert in his attention to every assigned task.

If some parents would give a little less attention to the training of their children to "eat nice and proper" and a little more attention to the quality and the quantity of the food eaten we would have more uniform good health among the young.

No, I do not mean here to urge fasting and semi-starvation for children—nothing of that character, but simply enough to eat, and nothing more. Therefore, watch the "big eater" among your flock. He is the one most likely to be threatened, if not actually afflicted, with incipient disease.

You cannot turn something into nothing. Food is food, and it must be transmuted into blood or bone or heat or energy—or poison. Too often it is the last named, an undigested mass of poison remaining overlong in the stomach and intestines and absorbed as poison—what we call auto-intoxication.

Unfortunately the child whose system is clogged constantly with more food than he can assimilate does not always manifest any outward disturbance of body or mind. But when he reaches full bodily development with the overeating as a fixed habit he is almost certainly started on a long period of broken or breaking health.

In a case of this kind the appetite often becomes even more abnormal and the craving for food practically beyond the control of the will. In not a few cases I have watched both men and women—outwardly appearing healthy—slowly bring themselves to chronic illness or an early death by the poisonous habit of overeating.

See that your children have an average quantity of food of good quality and make almost a religion of feeding them at certain regular intervals. They should be reasonably plump and round with a ruddy glow of the skin and a clear luster in the eye.

If you occasionally commit the sin of permitting your children to over-partake of rich food, better administer a purgative at once and free their systems of the burden. Enough is a plenty and more is a poison. Have them quit each meal while still a bit hungry.

THREE-MINUTE JOURNEYS

By TEMPLE MANNING

IT seems strange, indeed, that there should be a land where the customs haven't changed in 3000 years. And perhaps strangest of all is it that this land where things are done as they were 30 centuries ago should be Palestine, the Holy Land, which gave the two great monotheistic religions, Judaism and Christianity, to the world. Very progressive in thought in the old days, Palestine today is willing to live just as the inhabitants did ages ago.

One of the oddities of many a city in Palestine is the variety of ways the traveler may get his daily food. He may engage it to be served him in what answers for a hotel, or he may buy it of small restaurant-keepers, who open streets. A picture of one such street restaurant in Jerusalem was drawn from a photograph taken not very long ago.

Set in the street by the edge of what would be the sidewalk in one of our cities, this primitive restaurant consists merely of a box or two for a larder, and a tiny charcoal fire. Out of one of the boxes the restaurant keeper, who is his own cook, takes a tiny bit of meat, thrusts it upon an iron spit, and turns it over the fire until it is cooked. Then he hands it to the hungry customer who squats on the pavement and devours it with whatever the other delicacies he wishes and the restaurateur has to offer.

All this time—indeed, almost from sunup to sundown—the restaurateur smokes his water-pipe or narghile. First of all—even before business—he believes in comfort.

Contented is he when he has his larder full of the bits of meat and the odd, flat loaves of bread that form the bulk of the meals he sells. Customers may come or they may not appear.

If the worst comes to the worst the restaurateur and his family can eat the stock—which is one of the advantages of being in the restaurant business. This is the logic of the Arab, who is happy only when he's perfectly comfortable.

"ONCE OVERS"

"DADDY, I'll get breakfast for you; mother has a headache," exclaimed a little girl 10 minutes before the alarm went off. But after one more snooze and a toilet which included shaving, Dad found little daughter still prinking and she hadn't been near the kitchen. "But it was so hard to lace my shoes," and "I could not find my big apron," was the excuse offered.

That little maiden, with the loving, helpful spirit, did not get anywhere with the morning meal because she did not get anything started. If she had had the teakettle boiling and the oven or toaster hot, she might have finished her own efforts at dressing later.

But she did not get a start. You will never get to the office at a given time if you do not start. You cannot be ready with the trial balance on the first day of the month if you do not start for it about as soon as you have finished the last one.

The whole thing is getting started right. There are heaps and heaps of good folk in this world who are just as short-sighted as the little girl who never accomplished anything because they never jump in and get started on time.

Shafts of Sunshine

Precedents mean nothing to some Presidents.

If we were Betsy-rossing it for the Czech-Slovak nation we'd rig them up a Czechred flag.

Did we understand the gentleman to say that government by Bolsheviks was government by the "rank and file"—or did he mean "rank and vile?"

"Wheel me nearer to the window," said the dying John Barleycorn, "nearer tonight so that I may see the moonshine still."

The chorister desires to call attention to a slight change in the first line of the chorus—"Deutschland Ebert Alles."

Are you inclined to be short? Then straighten up.

Lots of people favor home rule—if it is some other fellow's home, and they can frame the rules.

We'll say the ex-kaiser spends a lot of time practicing to say "not guilty" first in one language and then in another.

Foch wasn't nearly so frightened at the Germans threatening not to sign the armistice extension as perhaps they thought he would be.

Congress talks much, but seldom convinces anybody of anything.

Deporting undesirables is another application of the principle of the Recall.

Doctor's Advice in Influenza

The first thing the doctor asks is whether or not the bowels are open and regular. If not he advises the use of a thorough cathartic. That is the first step in combating this dreadful sickness.

Doctors advise the use of a thorough cathartic in influenza prevention too. A cathartic which will completely empty the bowels of food waste and stop fermentation and the dangerous poisons thus created and absorbed into the blood. This is a vital part of the influenza prevention.

Your druggist has a new, really pleasant tasting salts, a thorough laxative that will completely empty the digestive tract, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed. It is called SALINOS and is effective even if taken in cold water. Get a bottle for a quarter (larger sizes fifty cents and a dollar). Be safe! Take it tomorrow morning.—Advertisement.

L. A. High Graduate, Gassed on French Front, Is Back Home

After 15 months overseas service, Corp. Tracy Fulton, son of E. L. Fulton of 422 East Avenue Twenty-eight and member of the Rainbow division, One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, Company E, returned home today.

Corporal Fulton was gassed on Aug. 26 in the fighting about Chateau Thierry, and for the past five months had been in base hospitals 11 and 32 recuperating. He was finally transferred to the Letterman hospital in San Francisco.

"No one can imagine the sights which we saw," he said today. "Once I found myself in a field of 25,000 German dead in the Champagne sector. The horrors of battle, though, are something we all want to forget, not relate."

"On some fronts there was a perpetual roar—on others the firing was intermittent. I have lived in everything from muddy trenches to little holes in the ground which I have dug for myself."

"The two toughest fights I saw was the second battle of the Marne and the hundred and ten days under continual fire on the Lorraine front." The young corporal was graduated from the Los Angeles high school in the summer of 1913 and was attending the junior college there when he enlisted.

VOCALIST'S FUNERAL

PRISONER, NOW IN L.A., TELLS HUN CRUELTY

Taken prisoner while in mid-Atlantic by a Hun raider, carried with 500 other prisoners to Kiel, and thence to a German prison camp, Paul Phillips, British seaman, has arrived in Los Angeles with vivid tales of Prussian brutality.

Phillips is the 33-year-old son of Mrs. Matilda Phillips of 151 South Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena. He enlisted when the war broke out as a seaman on an English admiralty ship. His ship was captured by the German raider, "Moewe," on March 10, 1917.

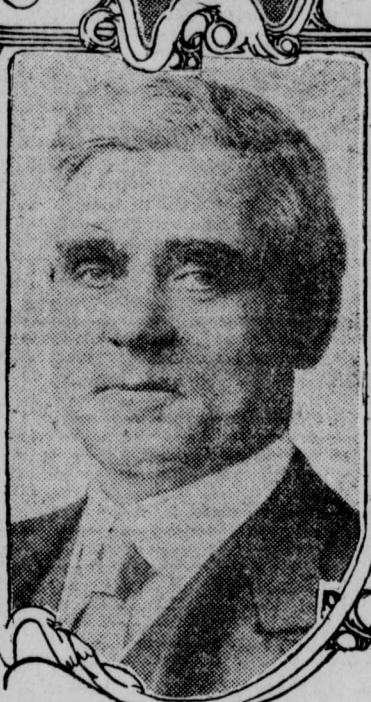

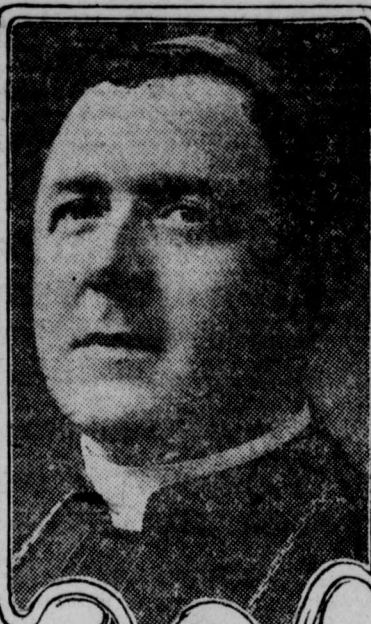

"Barley coffee, two ounces of bread for breakfast and at noon and night a bowl of thin turnip soup, was our menu," said Phillips today. "It never varied."

"We reached Kiel on March 23 and were transported at once to Dulman, where we were imprisoned for two months. En route there we were given but one bowl of thin soup every 36 hours. From Dulman we went to Brandenburg, where we were treated even worse. We were at Luck when the armistice was signed."

"Although our clothes were half torn off us we were made to work on the docks or in the coal mines for 12 and 16 hours a day with no time off for Sunday even. And all this time our rations consisted of barley coffee and turnip soup."

"Except for the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. food sent in to us, we would every one of us have perished from starvation—as many did anyway."

LAETARE MEDAL TO BE GIVEN JOS. SCOTT

Marking the first time the honor has been conferred on a person residing west of the Mississippi river, the Laetare Medal, awarded annually by the University of Notre Dame, will be presented to Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, tomorrow evening.

The presentation exercises will take place at Shrine auditorium, with the Right Reverend John J. Cantwell, bishop of the see of Monterey and Los Angeles, presiding.

The formal speech of presentation will be made by the Very Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president of the Notre Dame university. The Knights of Columbus will be officially represented by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia.

The Laetare medal is the most highly coveted honor within reach of the Catholic laity of the country and the list of Laetare medalists includes the names of the most prominent Catholic men and women.

In the announcement of the award of the honor to Attorney Scott it was stated that the honor was conferred upon him for his "high spirited industry, which has made him a leader in California," his work as founder of the Newman club, his nation-wide tours as an apostle for Catholic principle, and, finally, because "he is, in the saddest and best sense of the word, a man."

The following committee of Knights of Columbus, appointed at the request of Bishop Cantwell, arranged the details for the presentation meeting:

Thomas P. White, W. Joseph Ford, Judge Paul J. McCormick, Frank P. Jenal, Charles P. Lenz, John F. Powers and John P. Burke.

Explains to Court in $65 Bad Check Case

William L. Gross, charged with issuing a fictitious check for $65, explained to Justice Summerfield that the check was issued in good faith. He declared that he and his wife used a joint bank account. Mrs. Gross drew all of the funds from the bank, while P. F. Mahoney, to whom Gross issued the $65 check, held it a month before cashing it. Gross was released on his own recognizance pending a hearing of the case. In the meantime Gross will have an independent bank account, he declared.

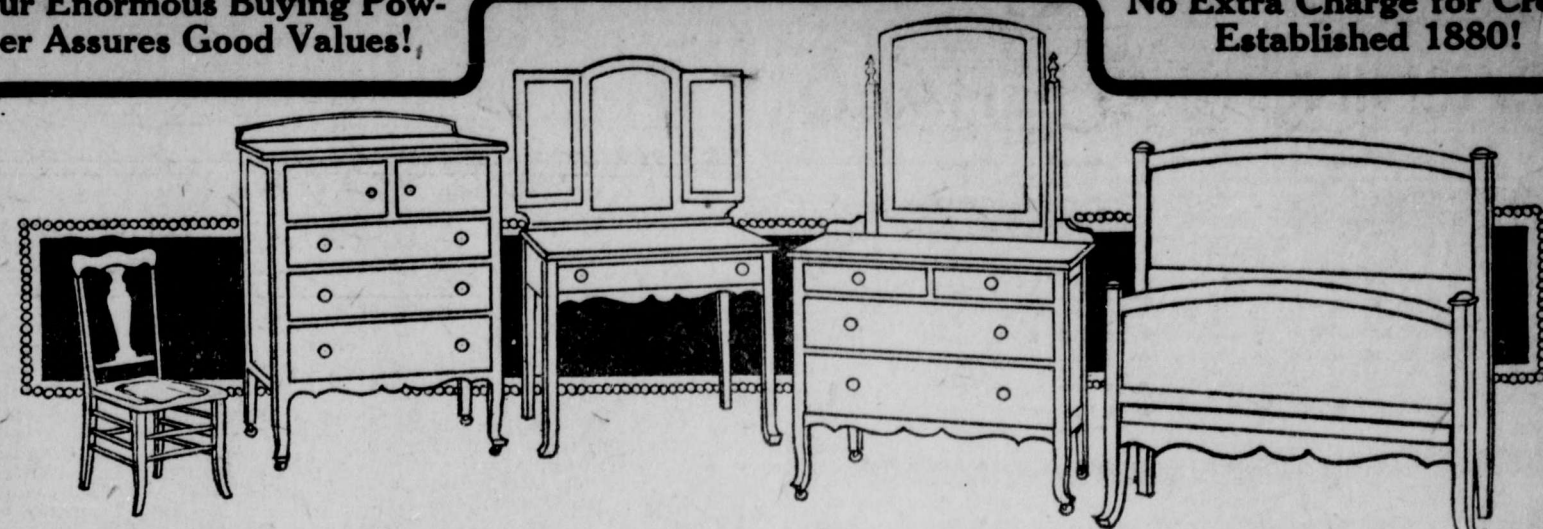

Organize Posse to Hunt Escaped Man

Deputy Marshal Dolph Basset of this city has organized a posse in Northern Oregon and is trailing Frank Barker, alias Brigadier, a noted counterfeiter who escaped from a moving train Saturday while enroute to McNeil Island prison to serve eight years. Yesterday Marshal T. C. Walton wired Basset to remain in Oregon as long as there was a possibility of getting a trace of the escaped counterfeiter.

To Entertain at Los Angeles C. C.

By MAY RIDGWAY

NEXT Saturday evening the Los Angeles Country club will be the scene of one of the Dutch treat parties now so popular, the usual little coterie of folk being asked to the affair.

Among the personnel expected are: Lieut.-Commander and Mrs. Robert Flint of Pasadena, the young officer having returned home on Monday after a year's sea service on the Atlantic coast; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Niven, Mrs. Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hook, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. William May Garland, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wailes, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Morphy, Duffy Schwartz, Miss Katherine Strickler, Miss Louise Burke, Mrs. Nat Wilshire, William Miller, Bob Cuth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rogers, Dr. and Mrs. Rea Smith.

CRAWLEY EVENING

At home once more after an invigorating little holiday in the snowed-out country about Pine Crest, Miss Constance Crawley entertained on Sunday evening with one of her delightful musical evenings, the softly lit, artistically decorated big studio room being especially attractive with a provision of hidden blossoms.

Miss Crawley has, always, the happy knack of appearing charming herself without the observer being in the least able to tell just what she is wearing, a question eternally interesting to the mind feminine.

Vaguely I have the impression of a long, clinging sort of Beatrice robe of dull gold and sea blue—and Constance Crawley! At any rate, the effect was ever so mysterious—and as unusual as the hostess herself.

One always, too, at her home, meets quite celebrities, and whether one is listening to the quaint reminiscences of early theatrical experiences in London, as told by Herbert Standing, or the rich and tender cello of Robert Alter, or the soulful Charles Wakefield Cadman, or the musically Will Garraway, one is always interested.

Borrow from Cop?
Bank Robber Nerve

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 19.—The following decision was handed down by Mayor Anderson of Gloucester, near here, at the hearing of George Sullivan, a shipfitter, who was arrested on the charge of garravancy.

"A man who has nerve enough to try to borrow money from a policeman, an undertaker, or a justice of peace has nerve enough to rob a bank."

According to the police, Sullivan was fined $5.75. Not having that amount, he attempted to borrow it from Police Chief Albert Simpson. When the latter refused Sullivan approached William Franklin, an undertaker.

After these two citizens turned him down the defendant appealed to Justice of Peace Kirby in the presence of Mayor Anderson. Upon Kirby's refusal to come across the mayor backed himself from Sullivan's approaches with the above immortal comment.

HE PLOWS IN JANUARY
WEATHER IS SO MILD

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 19.—Iowa can boast of weather rivaling that of California or Florida, say friends of Charles F. Keeling, a member of the Polk county board of supervisors. Keeling went to his farm, near Avon, one day in the latter part of January and with a gang plow plowed up 14 acres of pasture land which he needs for other purposes.

Old timers here say this is something unprecedented in the history of the state during the month of January.

Last Sunday a really delightful extempore program was offered, several ballads being rendered in a pure cello soprano by Mrs. Dwight Crittenden, Dwight Edwards singing two or three rollicking old English songs of the chase, Mr. Dwiggins, who knows every line that one James Whitcomb Riley ever penned, giving of the fullness of his repertoire, and last, but not least, Constance Crawley, herself, offering one or two superbly somber recitative studies, her wonderful voice lending itself richly to the early English verse.

Mr. Arthur Maude accompanied each number on the piano and lent much to the pleasure of the evening. Mr. Worthington, an interesting musician, with a vibrant basso, sang very delightfully, a French number or so. Herbert Standing and Robert Alter making up the musical menu.

Other guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Powell, Charles Wakefield Cadman, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Davis (Mariska Aldrich), Miss Helen Jerome, Miss Edith, Miss Newark, Mrs. Worthington, Alfred Allen, Mrs. G. A. Jordan, Mrs. and Miss Kerrigan, Mrs. McClure, Mr. Lewisholm, Arthur Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. William Conklin, Mrs. Herbert Standing, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Grassby.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis have just returned from a delightful holiday at the northern country place near San Diego, formerly of Honolulu, who now makes her home in California.

RED CROSS SHOP

James, Harry Dowd, James H. Adams, Vera Carver, Arthur Wright, E. R. Collins, Edward Crowley, E. W. Britt, E. M. Rooney, Mary Brill, Edward J. Quailly, John D. Bierhoefer, R. H. Raphael, William M. Loftus, J. Frank Hartzell, Alex. Macbeth, Harold Enlish, Frank D. Tatum, L. H. Norton, E. J. Myberg.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—A through legislative inquiry into the practices of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church of Zion City, Ill., was asked in a resolution introduced in the house by Representative Shurtz.

The resolution went to the speaker's table and probably will be referred to a committee.

The resolution declares the church and its overseer, Wilbur Glenn Voliva, have been encouraging residents of Illinois and other states to invest large sums of money in Zion City land and that it is using schools and courts to carry out its illegal purposes in securing property for such sale.

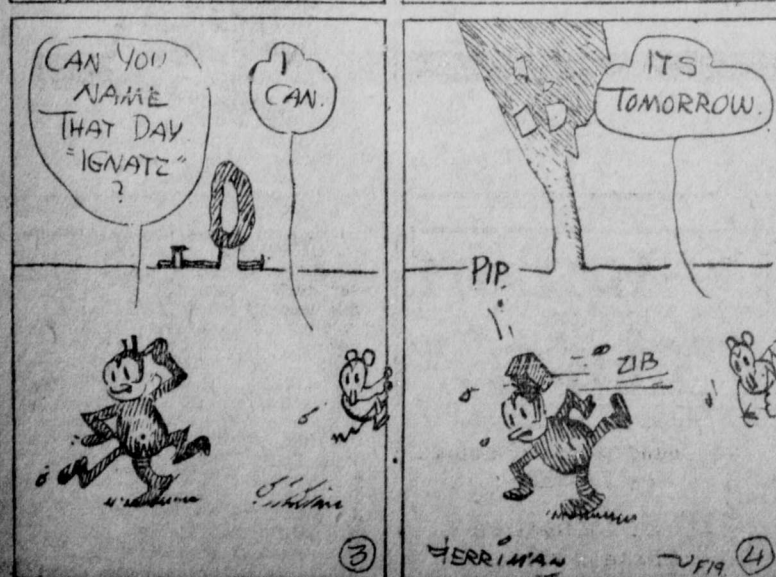

It declares the actions of the church constitute "a blot upon the state."

FILLS NUTS WITH OPIUM ATLANTIC CITY, Feb. 19.—Another devious Orient method of dealing in opium was uncovered recently on the arrest of Harry Quong, a Chinese restaurant keeper. According to the local police Quong sold Chinese nuts laden with opium by the wholesale. These nuts, it is claimed, were cleverly cut and filled with the drug. In a basket of nuts confiscated by the detectives it is alleged more than $4000 worth of opium was found.

STATE GETS INDIAN RELICS SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—Edward W. Payne, president of the State bank of Springfield, has obtained a collection of Illinois Indian relics to the state valued at $20,000. The collection is regarded as one of the most remarkable of its kind. It will be displayed in the new million-dollar Centennial building on the latter's completion.

Later a supper was tendered the couple at the Grant hotel, San Diego, after which they attended the officers' ball at the Coronado Hotel.

Lieut. Dikes, who is to remain in the service, has returned to Vancouver barracks, where his bride will join him shortly.

LAW MAKING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Legislation with a "kick" in it is the style of Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass in enforcing wartime prohibition.

Anti-Saloon league forces even admit that he can give them pointers on writing real "bone dry" prohibition and that their claims for enforcement legislation are modest in comparison. Mr. Glass was asked by the house judiciary committee to suggest any changes that should be made in the Barkley enforcement bill, Anti-Saloon league's plan, and his reply was read to a subcommittee of the judiciary committee to-day.

Representative Barkley, author of the pending bill; E. C. Dinwiddie, executive secretary, and Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, were present. They gasped as the clerk read the Glass amendment, and then smiled at one another with incredulity.

"He's no piker," whispered Mr. Barkley to Mr. Dinwiddie, evidently referring to Mr. Glass.

"That certainly shows that what we asked for was a minimum at least," openly declared Mr. Wheeler to the subcommittee when the reading was concluded.

Representative Whaley of South Carolina thought Mr. Glass had covered the whole ground.

"I see there is nothing about divorce in that—about the only thing left out," he finally said.

The subcommittee reached no conclusion on a bill to be reported, but will probably adopt some of the proposals by Mr. Glass. Another meeting will be held Monday. Anti-Saloon league officials are getting nervous as the end of the session nears for fear they will have no legislation to enforce war-time prohibition when it goes into effect next July.

PENALTY FOR DESTROYING FOOD TO BOOST PRICES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—Destruction of food to cause a shortage and boost market value would constitute a misdemeanor under the provisions of a bill introduced in the Illinois house which fixes penalties for destroying or wasting food fit for human consumption to the value of $50 or more.

Some growers of foodstuffs are said to have allowed potatoes and other vegetables to rot, and commission merchants, it is said, in some instances, have permitted commodities to spoil in railroad cars on pretense of being unable to unload them.

Wife's Diary Shows
Was Treated Rough

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Nellie C. Lawson married a sailor and wrote on the first page of her diary:

May 8, 1911.—Married. Subsequent entries in the diary were as follows, according to her complaint for divorce:

Jan. 1, 1912.—Threw me out of the house.

March 1, 1913.—Threw me on the bed and hit me with a shoe.

July 4, 1913.—Turned over the table; threatened to kill me with a knife.

Jan. 5, 1915.—Threw me on the floor and tore at my throat.

May 1, 1915.—Appeared suddenly from a closet, grabbed baby from my arms and dropped it on floor.

MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 19.—A hat and a coat was the price Mrs. Emma Moles paid for her life. She rushed back into a burning building after the articles, and was fatally burned.

$108.41 FOR BLACK EYE PITTSBURG, Feb. 19.—For one black eye, $108.41. That's the award given Nicholas Contis by a jury here recently. Nick is satisfied, but he doesn't understand the 41 cents.

"Guess the juryman had to have their little joke," he said.

Revelations of a Wife

Why Lillian Made to Madge the Strongest Declaration of Her Life

IN the hall of Mrs. Durkee's house, for the last few weeks "the house of mystery," there is a large closet diagonally across from the library. Toward this Lillian moved swiftly, noiselessly, while I, toiled after her, felt my breath coming unevenly in wonder as to the thing she meant to do.

She paused at the door, bent her ear to the keyhole—being careful, however, not to obstruct the light—and listened. Then she beckoned me to do likewise. As I did so, I distinctly heard the sound of suppressed breathing.

She gripped my arm, and showed me a heavy cloth reeking of floor oil, shut in the crack of the door. And then, indicating by a gesture that I was to hurry on, she inserted the key which she held into the lock and turned it.

The following minute she was by my side hurrying toward the door and the next we were both upon the side veranda, exchanging careless perfunctory nothings with Dr. Pettit.

It wasn't until we were entirely within our own grounds that I ventured a question.

"Kato," I asked, she answered. "And that doddering old idiot—I beg your pardon, Madge, I really can't help my adjectives—won't hear a word against him, I doubt if he would be convinced even at the sight of his faithful one doubled up in the closet where he dodged when I opened the door."

"How did he ever get there so quickly?" I asked.

Lillian knew the Oriental

"My dear child," Lillian replied, didactically, "no cat in the world ever had it on an Asiatic when it comes to a quick and noiseless shift of position. But, fortunately, knowing the configuration of the hall and closet and a little about the Oriental mind, although no Occidental ever sees more than a tiny corner of their mental workings, I figured that he would do exactly the stunt he did. And as I opened the door I sent my eyes directly to the closet door, wasting no time upon looking up and down the hall. And I was rewarded by seeing the door close, with the oil rag hanging out of it. It was child's play to turn the key, take it out and be assured that he wouldn't have the opportunity to steal those figures."

"It was a wonderful thing to catch him that way and lock him up," I said, sincerely, "but how could he possibly make head or tail out of those figures?"

Lillian looked at me commiseratingly.

"You're a nice child, Madge," she said ironically, "and you don't swear and you're kind to your poor old mother-in-law, and sometimes you're more awfully clever—and again you're the biggest dunce going."

"Thanks awfully, for the pointers," I said, humbly, "but Lillian's persiflage neither offends nor grieves me, but I think you'll have to elucidate a bit. I still don't see."

Playing for the Biggest Stake

"Well, then, know oh, ignorant one!" began Lillian bombastically, "that while you may flatter yourself you have a money—and it really is remarkable—yet almost any Asiatic you see could beat you all hollow on memory feats, if you only understood each other's language. He, of course, couldn't have any idea of the meaning of the figures, but he would have stored them away—despite his ignorance of even the sounds of our language—like so much cordwood, and when he got a chance to deliver them to some person who could use them, there wouldn't have been a single stray figure missing."

"I see," I said humbly. "But why didn't you open the door and confront him? He ought to be gotten rid of at once, don't you think?"

"Indeed I don't," Lillian retorted. "I want to give him and Grace Draper, too, rope enough to hang them, if they'll only tangle themselves up in it."

"That's the reason you kept me telling taradiddles all during the visit, is it?" I asked reproachfully.

"Of course," Lillian replied, unashamed. "I tell you, my dear, if we just manage things right, we'll bag the biggest lot of enemy spies their master, the devil, ever let loose. And to do that I'll move heaven and earth, and—I give you fair warning—I'm going to consider neither nerves, feelings nor personality until this thing is over. I'm going to land Grace Draper and that Allis nut this trip, or throw up my hands and go to washing dishes in somebody's kitchen for a living!"

"When mamma called her into the house Dotty ran in with a song and a smile on her lips, and before very long the rain began to pour down and Dotty sat at the window and watched her little friends return from their outing all wet. Then she decided that Happy Giggles was right when he said mamma was always what's best for their little ones. She was glad indeed that she hadn't gone to the picnic."

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and the same is true of Jill. Likewise all work will make Jill a tired, old-looking woman before her time, if she does not relax properly. And, strangely enough, all play does the same thing. Indeed, too much playing, which is another word for pleasure seeking, is sometimes more killing to beauty than really hard work.

Sleep is a great beautifier and restorer, but too much sleep and not enough exercise in the outdoor air is conducive to increasing the weight.

Relaxation is a rest between two periods of activity. Over-indulgence in relaxation becomes mere laziness, which is as destructive of beauty as the most tiring and ceaseless activity.

Allowing yourself to drift into habits of over-activity or over-relaxation will prove ruinous to both your beauty and your health.

On the other hand, the woman who is always tense of nerve is wearing herself out more rapidly than a man employed at hard muscular labor. This tension takes immense toll of her looks. The power to relax completely when nervous fatigue requires it is one of the best tonics for beauty in the world.

Resting Mind and Body

When nervous fatigue comes upon you and it is at all possible, sit down or lie down and "let go." Let your muscles hang limp, and let your mind be perfectly empty of any care in the world.

Special exercises are often helpful in acquiring the power of relaxation. Raise both your hands above your head with your arms perfectly straight, and then try to reach an imaginary point three or four inches above the tips of your fingers.

In doing this, try to stretch your spine, as well as your arms, as much as possible. Then suddenly relax and let your arms fall to your sides. If they are perfectly limp and swing back and forth at your sides you have relaxed perfectly. Repeat this exercise several times.

Another relaxing exercise is this: While sitting on a couch or bed raise both your hands. Bring your arms in front of you to about the level of your shoulders, stretch your hands as far forward as possible without bending your body. Relax, letting your body and arms fall back limply on the bed. Repeat a number of times.

Now lie down and with the tips of your toes (first with one foot, then the other, and then with both) try to reach some point just beyond them. Try with both finger tips and the tips of your toes to stretch out just as far as you can, as though you were seeing how long you could possibly make yourself. Do this first with your right foot and right hand, then with your left foot and left hand, then with both feet and both hands at the same time.

Exercise is Fine Aid

After a brief practice of these exercises let your body lie perfectly limp and at rest for 15 or 20 minutes. Even without sleep such complete relaxation is extremely refreshing. A few minutes spent in the middle of the day will add wonderfully to your powers of work and endurance.

Thin, nervous, energetic women should seek more sleep than those whose tendency is toward an overfulness of form. Both types of physique must have exercise, the former to build up muscle and fatigue the latter, by inducing sound sleep; the latter to consume fatty tissue.

Eight hours is usually given as the proper amount of time for sleeping, although some physiques require less and some more.

Thought Him Safe

Little Tobias had been told, with sundry sound slaps, that he was on no account to fight. So when he came in from school one day with, metaphorically speaking, "torn sails and shattered deck," his fond mother was riled. "Tobias," she said, "where did you get that black eye? Didn't I tell you good little boys never fight?"

"Yes, an' I believed you, ma," said Tobias. "I was sure he was a good little boy till I hit him, then I found he wasn't."

The Good Night Story

By BLANCHE SILVER

HAPPY GIGGLES HELPS DOTTY

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Dotty as she stood at the gate and watched her little girl friends go laughing down the road. "I can't do anything, have anything or see anything I want to." Two big tears ran down her cheeks and splashed on her pretty white apron. "It's a horrid old world. I wish I lived in Fairyland."

"Tut! Tut!" laughed a merry voice, and Dotty looked up to see her little elfin friend, Happy Giggles, smiling at her from his perch on the gate post. "What's all this wishing you lived in Fairyland?"

"So I could do something I want to do once in a while," pouted Dotty. "Now the girls are going to have a picnic and I can't go. Mamma just won't let me do anything. Other little girls' mamas always let them do what they want to."

"Oh, dear me!" laughed Happy Giggles. "Here you are this lovely bright morning feeling sorry for yourself. If mamma sees best to keep you at home why not play with your toys instead of pouting and fussing?"

"But all my toys are old," sobbed Dotty. "I haven't anything worth while to play with. There are all my dolls—either their hair is lost or some of their arms or legs are gone, and it's no fun playing with broken toys."

"Perhaps not so much fun as playing with brand new ones," replied Happy Giggles, "but just think of the millions of little folks in this great big world that haven't even broken toys to play with. Those are the ones you should be feeling sorry for instead of feeling sorry for yourself."

"If little ones like you would only stop and count the many good things they have every one of them, they'd be happy instead of sad."

"That's just it!" exclaimed Dotty. "I haven't anything!"

"Why, yes you have!" laughed the elfin, pointing to Dotty's two little feet. "You have two perfectly good little feet that should this very second be running around having a merry time. Think of the little ones who haven't good feet to play on. And you have two perfectly good arms and hands and a lovely mouth."

"Dear little girl, this old world has been kind to you to give you all these blessings, besides a lovely mamma who always knows just what's best for you even if you can't see it yourself. Just remember when you feel pouty and sorry for yourself that this old world is full of folks who need your sympathy more than you do yourself."

"I never thought of that," exclaimed Dotty with a smile. "I just thought I was abused, but I'll know better after this."

When mamma called her into the house Dotty ran in with a song and a smile on her lips, and before very long the rain began to pour down and Dotty sat at the window and watched her little friends return from their outing all wet. After a brief practice of these exercises let your body lie perfectly limp and at rest for 15 or 20 minutes. Even without sleep such complete relaxation is extremely refreshing. A few minutes spent in the middle of the day will add wonderfully to your powers of work and endurance.

Thin, nervous, energetic women should seek more sleep than those whose tendency is toward an overfulness of form. Both types of physique must have exercise, the former to build up muscle and fatigue the latter, by inducing sound sleep; the latter to consume fatty tissue.

Eight hours is usually given as the proper amount of time for sleeping, although some physiques require less and some more.

Thought Him Safe

Little Tobias had been told, with sundry sound slaps, that he was on no account to fight. So when he came in from school one day with, metaphorically speaking, "torn sails and shattered deck," his fond mother was riled. "Tobias," she said, "where did you get that black eye? Didn't I tell you good little boys never fight?"

"Yes, an' I believed you, ma," said Tobias. "I was sure he was a good little boy till I hit him, then I found he wasn't."

Beauty Hints

THE woman who is enmeshed in a busy world of work or society should realize the effect that relaxation will have on her appearance. It is a great beautifier.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and the same is true of Jill. Likewise all work will make Jill a tired, old-looking woman before her time, if she does not relax properly. And, strangely enough, all play does the same thing. Indeed, too much playing, which is another word for pleasure seeking, is sometimes more killing to beauty than really hard work.

Sleep is a great beautifier and restorer, but too much sleep and not enough exercise in the outdoor air is conducive to increasing the weight.

The Dangerous Age

Beatrice Fairfax Pens Article All Women Should Read

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IT was a very blind world that used to take it for granted that middle-aged women have outgrown romance. Love?—an affair of the twenties. And ever afterward, home and fireside and housekeeping, the cooking and the sewing machine. Whether a woman was married or single, whether she had known love or had only dreamed of it, the romance was supposed punctually to die in her at thirty.

Then, two or three years ago, a European writer set the world gossiping by publishing a book called "The Dangerous Age." Dangerous, that is, because of its romantic susceptibility. Dangerous, because while love is particularly hungry for romantic love, romantic love isn't always within its reach. You see, we're not speaking of eighteen and nineteen, the time when romance promptly answers to romance. No, the "dangerous age" is—forty.

Forty is a time when women don't understand this idea in the least. They are incredulous and derisive. Everybody's safely married at forty, they say, and everybody has a husband and a houseful of children. Isn't it only a little short of scandalous for a woman at that time of life to talk of romance?

"So I could do something I want to do once in a while," pouted Dotty. "Now the girls are going to have a picnic and I can't go. Mamma just won't let me do anything. Other little girls' mamas always let them do what they want to."

"Oh, dear me!" laughed Happy Giggles. "Here you are this lovely bright morning feeling sorry for yourself. If mamma sees best to keep you at home why not play with your toys instead of pouting and fussing?"

"But all my toys are old," sobbed Dotty. "I haven't anything worth while to play with. There are all my dolls—either their hair is lost or some of their arms or legs are gone, and it's no fun playing with broken toys."

"Perhaps not so much fun as playing with brand new ones," replied Happy Giggles, "but just think of the millions of little folks in this great big world that haven't even broken toys to play with. Those are the ones you should be feeling sorry for instead of feeling sorry for yourself."

"If little ones like you would only stop and count the many good things they have every one of them, they'd be happy instead of sad."

"That's just it!" exclaimed Dotty. "I haven't anything!"

"Why, yes you have!" laughed the elfin, pointing to Dotty's two little feet. "You have two perfectly good little feet that should this very second be running around having a merry time. Think of the little ones who haven't good feet to play on. And you have two perfectly good arms and hands and a lovely mouth."

"Dear little girl, this old world has been kind to you to give you all these blessings, besides a lovely mamma who always knows just what's best for you even if you can't see it yourself. Just remember when you feel pouty and sorry for yourself that this old world is full of folks who need your sympathy more than you do yourself."

"I never thought of that," exclaimed Dotty with a smile. "I just thought I was abused, but I'll know better after this."

When mamma called her into the house Dotty ran in with a song and a smile on her lips, and before very long the rain began to pour down and Dotty sat at the window and watched her little friends return from their outing all wet. Then she decided that Happy Giggles was right when he said mamma was always what's best for their little ones. She was glad indeed that she hadn't gone to the picnic."

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and the same is true of Jill. Likewise all work will make Jill a tired, old-looking woman before her time, if she does not relax properly. And, strangely enough, all play does the same thing. Indeed, too much playing, which is another word for pleasure seeking, is sometimes more killing to beauty than really hard work.

Sleep is a great beautifier and restorer, but too much sleep and not enough exercise in the outdoor air is conducive to increasing the weight.

Relaxation is a rest between two periods of activity. Over-indulgence in relaxation becomes mere laziness, which is as destructive of beauty as the most tiring and ceaseless activity.

Allowing yourself to drift into habits of over-activity or over-relaxation will prove ruinous to both your beauty and your health.

On the other hand, the woman who is always tense of nerve is wearing herself out more rapidly than a man employed at hard muscular labor. This tension takes immense toll of her looks. The power to relax completely when nervous fatigue requires it is one of the best tonics for beauty in the world.

Resting Mind and Body

When nervous fatigue comes upon you and it is at all possible, sit down or lie down and "let go." Let your muscles hang limp, and let your mind be perfectly empty of any care in the world.

Special exercises are often helpful in acquiring the power of relaxation. Raise both your hands above your head with your arms perfectly straight, and then try to reach an imaginary point three or four inches above the tips of your fingers.

In doing this, try to stretch your spine, as well as your arms, as much as possible. Then suddenly relax and let your arms fall to your sides. If they are perfectly limp and swing back and forth at your sides you have relaxed perfectly. Repeat this exercise several times.

Another relaxing exercise is this: While sitting on a couch or bed raise both your hands. Bring your arms in front of you to about the level of your shoulders, stretch your hands as far forward as possible without bending your body. Relax, letting your body and arms fall back limply on the bed. Repeat a number of times.

Now lie down and with the tips of your toes (first with one foot, then the other, and then with both) try to reach some point just beyond them. Try with both finger tips and the tips of your toes to stretch out just as far as you can, as though you were seeing how long you could possibly make yourself. Do this first with your right foot and right hand, then with your left foot and left hand, then with both feet and both hands at the same time.

Exercise is Fine Aid

After a brief practice of these exercises let your body lie perfectly limp and at rest for 15 or 20 minutes. Even without sleep such complete relaxation is extremely refreshing. A few minutes spent in the middle of the day will add wonderfully to your powers of work and endurance.

Thin, nervous, energetic women should seek more sleep than those whose tendency is toward an overfulness of form. Both types of physique must have exercise, the former to build up muscle and fatigue the latter, by inducing sound sleep; the latter to consume fatty tissue.

lishing his wonderful book of poems called "Leaves of Grass." The poems showed how deeply he understood the realities of life and love. To the lonely Englishwoman they were like a personal volume crying loudly and directly to her hungry heart.

With perfect simplicity and naturalness she answered the cry.

Love Letters to a Poet

She wrote Whitman a long letter, indeed a series of letters, telling him of the profound personal love that his poems had awakened in her, and taking it for granted that he, too, would be ready to love her and claim her for his wife.

It was magnificently romantic. And the letters themselves were the very breath of romance.

"My love rises up out of the weeds of despair, grief, and troubles upon despair," she wrote him. "I can wait—any time—a lifetime, any lifetimes—I can suffer, I can dare, I can learn, grow, and learn, and I can wait, and I can tear out of my heart, the passionate belief that one day I shall hear that voice."

So tragic that Whitman couldn't answer her in her own language, the language of passionate love. Instead he wrote her kindly, gently, briefly and therefore discouragingly. Yet after a few years still undiscouraged, Mrs. Gilchrist came to this country with her children and came to know Walt Whitman as a friend.

Two years later, when she went back to England, she, who wanted so much more, had learned the hard lesson of accepting the poet's mere friendship. Since Whitman could not meet her love with love, she found a way to quiet that tumultuous heart of hers. And her dangerous age was over.

But her letters alone, as eloquent perhaps and as ardent as any love letters ever written, would of themselves dispose of the old-fashioned notion that 20 is the supreme and only age of romance.

20-year-old girl could love with the sustained fervor that Ann Gilchrist did during the five unenriched years that she addressed continual outpourings to that poet across the seas whose face she had never seen, whose voice she had never heard.

Mature Love Unrewarded

A woman must live considerably beyond 20 before she thoroughly understands the capacities of her own heart and gets near to the real meanings of life. But the unhappy truth has to be faced that by the time she has learned to love in the most thorough and big-hearted way that the deities are considering against her finding a heart that can answer to her own.
